STEEL PRICES CUT IN HALF BY PRESIDENT

War Board to Control the Entire Output.

PRICE IS FAIR: E. H. GARY

New York, Sept. 24.—Elbert H. Gary, as president of the American Iron and Steel Institute, issued the following statement here today in regard to the steel prices agreed upon between the government and manufacturers:

"The base prices for iron ore, pig iron and the leading steel productions in which the government is specially interested, as fixed by the president, while much lower than the prevailing market prices and considerably below the expectations of the manufacturers, I believe are fair and reasonable.

"While the manufacturers may feel a sense of disappointment, they nevertheless will cheerfully acquiesce and do everything possible to maintain production to the maximum so long as the war continues, and they will not decrease the wages of their workmen under present conditions."

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—Steel prices in the United States were cut in half today when President Wilson approved a scale of quotations fixed in a voluntary agreement made by producers with the war industries board. The general public, as well as the American and allied governments, will share in the reductions, which go into immediate effect, and the agreement provides that producers shall not reduce wages.

The prices will obtain until Jan. 1, 1918, to be revised then if investigation shows they are inequitable.

The entire output of American steel plants will be distributed under supervision of the war board, which, exercising the powers of priority of transportation given the government by congress, will apportion it in a way best to meet the country's war requirements.

CUTS AND NEW PRICES.

The new prices and the reduction they represent in present quotations follow:

Pig iron: Price agreed upon, $33 gross ton; recent price, $38 gross ton. A reduction of 43.1 per cent.

Steel bars: Pittsburgh and Chicago basis; price agreed upon, $2.90 per hundredweight; recent price, $5.50 hundredweight; a reduction of 47.3 per cent.

Steel shapes: Basis Chicago and Pittsburgh. Price agreed upon, $3 hundredweight; recent price, $6 hundredweight; a reduction of 50 per cent.

Iron ore: Basis, lower lake ports, price agreed upon, $5.05 gross ton. No change.

Coke: Connellsville, price agreed upon, $6 net ton; recent price, $16 a ton; a reduction of 62.5 per cent.

Steel plates: Basis, Chicago and Pittsburgh, price agreed upon, $3.25 hundredweight; recent prices $11 hundredweight; a reduction of 70.5 per cent.

BASED ON PRODUCTION COST.

The price agreement was reached after months of negotiations between steel producers and government officials. The prices were based on cost of production estimates made by the federal trade commission after an investigation conducted at the president's direction.

Officials in close touch with the situation said tonight the prices approved by the president were liberal and would allow fair profits to all steel plants. Some of the larger concerns, they said, would make large profits.

The cost of producing steel plates in some of the larger plants is now about $35 or $36 a ton, according to the testimony of Joseph E. Davies, vice chairman of the federal trade commission, before the senate committee which is considering the Pomerene bill. This will give these mills a profit of $30 a ton under the price of $65 approved by the president. In the smaller mills, according to Commissioner Davies' testimony, the cost runs much higher.

CONTRACTS MAY STAND.

Nothing is said in the White House announcement as to contracts now in force, but it is believed they will stand except in instances where the war board decides a manufacturer's product is not essential for war purposes.

The war industries board in an order issued today divided industry into three classes, directing that preference in transportation of iron and steel and their products be given to them in the

ARMY DRILL TO BE COMPULSORY AT NORTHWESTERN

Compulsory military training at Northwestern university will start next week. Lieut. William Warren Lang of the Canadian forces, who has seen service on the French front as an aviator, arrived in Evanston yesterday to assume his duties as military instructor.

Unsuccessful efforts were made to secure the services of a United States army officer.

There will be drills three times a week besides lectures on military subjects.

Lieut. Lang, after two months' training in the Canadian officers' reserve corps, was assigned to Camp Niagara. After two years there he joined the flying corps in England. He returned to Canada two months ago, after recovering in England from a wound.

Flies from Turin, Italy, to London in 7 Hours

LONDON, Sept. 24.—Capt. Lauretti of the Italian army, accompanied by an observer, today made a nonstop airplane flight from Turin, Italy, to London. He covered the 656 miles in seven hours and twelve minutes. Capt. Laureati established a new world long distance record on Aug. 29, when he flew from Turin to Naples and return. The distance was about 900 miles.

HOLDUP WEAPON A FOUNTAIN PEN

Lolling on one of the divans in Peacock alley at the Congress hotel, a young man twirled a cane last night and glanced admiringly at a diamond ring that glistened on his left hand. He wore a blue serge suit, the coat being the the latest pinch back; a silk shirt, fancy cravat, and tan shoes.

In the classical language of Detective Sergt. Percy Wild, who escorted the young man from the hotel to a police cell, he was "some cheese."

A Fountain Pen Samaritan.

Joe Reynolds is the name he gave at the South Clark street station. He will be arraigned today on a charge of robbery. The diamond ring he wore, also a watch and chain, were taken from Adolph Beck, 602 Oakwood boulevard, early Sunday morning at Congress street and Wabash avenue. It was what the police call a "stickup with a cannon."

Mr. Reynolds denies using firearms. He says he is too much of a gentleman to carry a gun. What the victim thought was a revolver was only a fountain pen.

"I was afraid," he told Detective Sergt. Wild, "that Mr. Beck, whose name I did not know at the time, would fall into the hands of robbers who might take his valuables. For that reason, to protect him from being beaten up, perhaps, I helped myself to his ring and watch. It was done in a gentlemanly fashion, I assure you. No rough stuff."

Horrors! They Frisked Him.

It was the peculiar mounting of the ring that led to the arrest of Reynolds. Beck told a friend of his experiences. The friend last evening walked through Peacock alley. His attention was attracted to the well dressed young man twirling the cane. He saw the ring and recognized it as the one stolen from Beck.

The house detective of the Congress was notified and he telephoned the police. Detectives Wild and Bernacchi were sent to the hotel.

Fearing that Reynolds was armed, the detectives "frisked" him right there in the alley, but found no weapon.

He said he was a magazine solicitor and roomed at 56 West Ohio street.

Burglars Get $1,000 Loot in Kenilworth Residence

When Dr. Henry Everett and his wife returned to their residence on Cumnor road in Kenilworth last night after an automobile ride they found the place had been robbed of jewelry and silverware worth $1,000. All the rooms in the house had been ransacked. Entrance was gained by forcing open a rear window.

WATSON ARMOUR FARM HAS PILLAR OF FIRE BY NIGHT

A. Watson Armour's estate, west of Lake Forest, was bathed in radiance last night when well drillers struck a gas vein which, becoming ignited, burst forth into a pillar of flame estimated at sixty feet in height.

The flame lighted the country for some distance and bade fair to continue through the night.

The gas well developed in the afternoon on a piece of property recently acquired by Mr. Armour from Henry Vickerman. In ordering improvements Mr. Armour instructed Warren Herrick & Son, well drillers, to provide an eight inch well. The drill had reached a depth of more than 150 feet yesterday when suddenly fumes bursting from the ground drove the workmen away.

Mr. Armour was notified and he immediately became aware that his new possession had provided him with a natural gas supply. No one could say how the well became ignited. At any rate the vicinity of the drill was instantly transformed into an enormous gas jet.

From the nearby region came automobiles carrying residents of the vicinity and soon the phenomenon was surrounded by a gallery of millionaire sightseers.

Experts were of the opinion that a small "pocket" had been pierced and that it would soon be exhausted. Others were sanguine that the supply might prove lasting, and in so hoping recalled the frozen service mains which last winter sent north shore folks to their fireplaces and caused many a cook stove to be used as a community necessity.

Let's See, That Would Make 109 Lives in All

H. P. Marsh and twelve prized cats reside on the second floor at 1319 Greenley avenue, Evanston. On the first floor lives B. S. Sass, who, in the opinion of Mr. Marsh, is well named, for Sass, he says, has threatened the cats, sassed their owner, and offered to wipe out both. Wherefore Mr. Marsh obtained a warrant yesterday causing the arrest of Sass. Sass, on the other hand, claims the cats prowl his pantry and carry off food and otherwise annoy him.

FLYERS CARRY INGENUITY UP IN AIR WITH THEM

Heat Oil, Clothes by Electricity; Use Oxygen Tanks.

BY FLOYD GIBBONS.

[Censored and Approved by the British Censor.]

(Special Cable to Chicago Tribune.)

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, via Paris, Sept. 24.—"They are flying it higher out in Flanders—higher, higher, higher every day."

This is a British aviator's paraphrase of a Hawaiian skirt song, and it is based on the greater and greater altitudes at which battles are fought as the war gets into its fourth year stride.

The fighting airman's race for higher levels is a logical result of the advantage that is now gained unquestionably by an air position above an adversary. The time was when the warhawks wheeled their flights below 5,000 foot air lanes and maneuvered positions "under the tail" of an enemy birdman. From such position the lower airman could direct a stream of lead upward into the paper thin belly of the plane above him and most frequently would bring it down.

EFFORT TO GAIN "THE TOP."

But that was before the development of aerial acrobatics that now put to shame the performances of the natives of the upper ether. Superior height now means the distinct advantage of all the speed that gravitation can lend to high powered motors plus the benefit of direction and facilities of aim. In the air these days the man on top is the better man. Germans, in their effort to overcome the numerical superiority of the allies in the air, were first to carry flights to the dizzy heights where they are now conducted. With light and powerful climbing machines, equipped with remarkable long range instruments of observations, German fliers, endeavoring to supply vision to their blinded guns, directed air dashes over allied lines at heights ranging from 20,000 to 23,000 feet, where quick observations might be snatched and carried back to the German lines before the lower flying and slower climbing British fighting planes could rise to attack.

FIVE MILES ABOVE EARTH.

Now the patrol of higher levels is one of the most important features of air duty, and day by day air battles on the western front are being staged further and further away from the war scarred surface of mother earth. At any time airmen may be fighting at five miles above ground and even higher.

The present trend of air fighting, more than anything else, revolves around battles between flying contestants. At present the ingenuity of both the Germans' and the allies' camps is being taxed to the utmost to create mechanical contrivances which will give the airman so equipped the necessary advantage over his adversary. Of necessity, these mechanical advantages are short lived, because the capture of one of the newly equipped planes gives the secret away to its captor, who immediately copies the new development or improves it to his own greater advantage.

IMPROVEMENTS BY GERMANS.

I am not at liberty to disclose in what direction the allied airmen are seeking all the mechanical advantages in construction and operation of their planes, but I doubt if the censor would resent a point of this story being proved from similar incidents in the progress of the German development of fighting and observing planes. From time to time these German innovations have been captured and the Germans know that allied flyers would not be so unwise as to discard advantages which the Germans have proved.

Endurance, both physical and mechanical, for fliers and planes that ply the higher levels have mothered inventions to make it easier for the airman and his plane to stand the increased ardors of high flying. The extremely low temperature of the air above four miles from the earth has caused many difficulties. The fliers have become numbed from the cold. The oil in the cooling apparatus on the machine guns even has become congealed, making the weapon useless.

German planes have been captured in which the machine gun oil cylinders were bound with strips of asbestos through which ran fine electrical resistance wires supplied with a hot current from dynamos run by a wind motor on

Hurl Aerial Torpedoes on London

LONDON, Sept. 25, 3 a. m.—German airplanes and Zeppelins made two raids on England last night and early today.

The first raid, made by airplanes, wound up with an attack on London. Six were killed and about twenty hurt. The Germans used aerial torpedoes.

The second attack was made by Zeppelins, which appeared off the coast of Lincolnshire and Yorkshire early today. An official announcement says the raid is still in progress and that no details have yet been received.

Attacked by British Flyers.

According to the official announcement the airplane raiders crossed the coast line in different places in Kent and Essex. A few of them followed the Thames and attacked London about 8 o'clock last night.

Bombs were dropped at several points. British airmen engaged the raiders, but with what results is not yet known.

Hear Torpedoes Scream.

The German planes appeared first over the southeastern district of London and the engagement lasted until nearly 9:30. The raiders were scattered and did not come in compact formation. Many star shells were used by the defense guns, giving the appearance of spectacular fireworks.

The scream of the torpedoes used by the Germans was distinguishable easily from the explosions of guns and bombs.

$75,000 LIBRARY TO START GREAT SYSTEM HERE

The first regional public library in the United States will be erected at Crawford avenue and Monroe street by the Chicago Public library and will be named "the Henry Edward Legler Regional Library," in honor of the late librarian of the Chicago Public library and one of the creators of the regional library plan.

This action was taken at a meeting of the directors of the library last night, at which Carl B. Roden was appointed acting librarian.

The new library is the first of five to be erected here to create the greatest public library and circulating system of any city in the world.

The building will cost more than $75,000, with a capacity for more than 50,000 volumes.

The library will act as a distributing center for all branch libraries of the Chicago Public library on the West Side.

The war library of the Chicago Public library is progressing with rapid strides, according to Dr. Max Henius, chief librarian. Within the last week the library has shipped 12,000 volumes to Camp Grant, 5,000 to the American expeditionary forces in France, 20,000 to the national guardsmen at Camp Logan, Houston, Tex., and 2,000 to Camp Beauregard, Alexandria, La.

CONGRESS NEAR TO RIOT OVER BERNSTORFF PLOT

Insist Heflin Name Members 'Tainted by Germans.'

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—In the records of the late Admiral George Dewey, long kept in the secret archives of the government, was a warning issued to the United States in 1898 of the plans of Prussian autocracy to crush Great Britain, then the United States, and thus dominate the world.

Senator Lewis of Illinois revealed this document in the senate today.

"In the record of Admiral Dewey we find a statement concerning a conversation he had with Admiral von Goetzen at Manila in 1898, at a time when we were not without some difficulties throughout the world and particularly with a certain element of the German navy," Senator Lewis said.

"We Will Take New York."

Senator Lewis said:

"Admiral Dewey quoted the German admiral as follows:

"'About fifteen years from now my country will start a great war. She will be in Paris in about two months after the commencement of hostilities. Her move on Paris will be but a step to her real object—the crushing of England. . . . Some months after we finish our work in Europe we will take New York and probably Washington and hold them for some time. We will put your country in its place with reference to Germany.

"'We do not propose to take any of your territory, but we do intend to take a billion or so of your dollars from New York and other places. The Monroe doctrine will be taken charge of by us as we will then have to put you in your place, and we will take charge of South America as we wish to. . . . Don't forget this—about fifteen years from now remember it, and it will interest you.'

Will Awaken Doubters.

"This is a part of the communication which Admiral Dewey submitted to this country and is to be found in the naval and military records of our government, No. 38, volume 52, page 538. I never understood why my government never allowed this to be published; I never understood why it was never sent broadcast to our country, to our countrymen who heretofore had been in doubt as to their duty.

"I say to any senator who occupies a seat on this floor, wherever he is, that so long as the kaiser's reply to the pope remains as it is now unmodified, with that daring and audacity to civilization, the man who now raises his voice in America, in any assemblage of any kind, condemning any measure of his own country or criticising the undertaking of the United States, lends himself deliberately to the interests of the German empire."

Admits Past Error.

Senator Lewis confessed that he was mistaken when a few weeks ago he pronounced Chancellor Michaelis' speech a bid for peace and called upon the administration to seek peace negotiations upon that assumption.

"In his reply to the pope," Senator Lewis continued, "the kaiser deliberately refuses to agree to disarmament or the freedom of the seas. He only says that the proposition of the pope should find hopeful expression in the new spirit that should prevail in the future—in some future. The kaiser flouts the pope and casts disdain on the proposals of the United States for peace for freedom, for justice, for humanity, for America or Germany."

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Secretary Lansing's exposure of Count von Bernstorff's scheme to spend $50,000 in influencing congress to prevent war with Germany produced a tumultuous, almost riotous, session of the house of representatives today.

Following the outbursts over insinuations that anti-war members had received German money, resolutions were offered by Representatives Fordney of Michigan and Norton of North Dakota demanding an investigation of Representative Heflin's charges that thirteen or fourteen members have acted suspiciously and that German money was alleged to have been paid out in the guise of poker winnings to congressmen in a Washington gambling house.

The resolutions were referred to the rules committee, which is scheduled to meet tomorrow to consider the question of investigating the charges which have been bandied back and forth.

TRAIL LEADS TO CHICAGO.

Representative Heflin admitted in the course of the stormy colloquy today that he could not substantiate his suspicions of the action of members nor the gossip concerning the gambling house transactions, but he said he would name to any investigating committee the members who, in his opinion, have been suspiciously disloyal to the nation.

It was learned tonight that the government is hot on the trail of the officials of at least one organization which is alleged to have received a large share of Von Bernstorff's corruption fund.

The department of justice declines to lift the veil from its operations, but there is good ground for stating that the investigation has led to Chicago.

PLAN SEVERAL ARRESTS.

If the department investigators and the proof they are seeking a number of persons will be arrested as the treasonable accomplices of the German ambassador in seeking to influence congress in the interest of Germany.

The administration has no evidence that any member of congress received money directly or indirectly from Von Bernstorff. The entire plan was to exert influence through the constituents of senators and representatives by means of appeals to oppose aggressive measures against Germany.

GERMANS SPENT $25,000,000.

The department of justice is working in close cooperation with the state department in deciphering messages sent from the German embassy during the days before the United States entered the war, and of which it now appears the government in some mysterious manner has obtained a large collection.

From the documents now in the possession of the department of justice a list is being compiled of the recipients of German money for propaganda purposes. There is reason to believe that in this entire period Germany spent for various purposes in this country upward of $25,000,000.

The department of justice has the names of many prominent individuals and societies that received this money. It is likely that many of the names on the pro-German list will be a feature of the next official disclosure.

The ruction in the house this afternoon was precipitated by Representative Norton, a North Dakota member, who voted for war, assailing Representative Heflin for his insinuations that certain members received Von Bernstorff's bribe money.

FALSE CHARGE, BIGGEST CRIME.

"What did the people think?" Representative Norton asked, "when last Saturday morning there was heralded all over this country from Canada to Mexico and from the Atlantic to the Pacific in every paper of importance the statement that the gentleman from Alabama says he can point out thirteen or fourteen members of this congress who have acted suspiciously and, inferentially, who have received a part of this $50,000 reported to have been asked from the German imperial government?

"Gentlemen, we may talk of disloyalty or of traitors, we may talk of pacifists, but I know of no greater crime that can be done to this country or its people; I know of no greater injury that can be done to this form of government than for a member of this body to charge falsely against his fellow members that they have been corrupt and that they

APOLLO CLUB GIVEN $2,700 TO MEET DEFICIT

Mrs. Harold F. McCormick has given $2,000, Charles H. Swift $500, and Mrs. Lowden, wife of Gov. Lowden, $200 to the Apollo musical club to help pay its deficit. C. S. Jackson of Winnetka, president of the club, announced last night at the club's regular rehearsal.

A committee is working to secure in addition to the amount needed to cover the deficit a guarantee of $5,000 a year for three years. Mr. Swift promised $100 a year for five years on the guarantee.

A benefit concert will be given in Orchestra hall the evening of Nov. 5 under the auspices of the piano and organ association have been taking money to influence them in their actions in this house.

APOLOGY NOT ENOUGH.

"I do not believe there is a scintilla of truth in this charge; but if it is true there is no punishment severe enough to deal out to such a man or such men if found."

The house broke into wild cheers at this. Representative Norton continued:

"If it's false, apologies on the part of the man who made that statement will not correct the evil that has been done."

The applause from floor and galleries stopped the North Dakota Republican again and Speaker Clark hammered vigorously and shouted for order:

"Having made that statement, having given it out to the papers of this country, caused it to sink down deep into the hearts of the people of this country—if he got down on his marrow bones in front of this house he could not undo the evil he has done and no suffering and no pain enough could be dealt out to that kind of a character."

There was another burst of cheers, after which Representative Norton continued:

"If I had the suspicion against the honesty or integrity of any man I would not insinuate it, but I would be man enough to investigate it and find out if it were true, and, if it were true, then I would present it to this house."

Demands Heflin's Proof.

Representative Norton then read a sentence from the Heflin speech in which he attributed suspicious actions to "thirteen or fourteen members of the house or senate."

"The gentleman from Alabama should be obliged—should be required—to prove his statement to this house and to the country or accept the punishment, in so far as it can be given, a statement of that kind—a false statement—so richly deserves.

Representative Heflin arose, red in the face, and began to talk about "the boys who are going to the trenches."

"I do not know of any member who has been influenced by this money, and I said so. But I said 'If' I were permitted to name them I could mention some whose conduct according to my judgment had been suspicious.'"

Representative Caraway of Arkansas walked down the aisle on the Democratic side of the house.

"Will you name them?" asked Representative Caraway quietly.

Instantly the house roared approval.

"Good boy, Caraway."

"That's the stuff."

"Name them."

Clark Threatens Arrests.

Members from all over the house yelled. Fully 400 members were present and the galleries were crowded with women who had come to see the fight for a suffrage committee. Champ Clark hammered his desk and then served notice that if members didn't behave he would order arrests by the sergeant at arms.

Representative Heflin, when the house had quieted down, renewed his attack on the thirteen or fourteen unnamed members, saying that according to his way of thinking they were disloyal. But he mentioned no names. He was stopped, charged with digressing again, and warned once more by the speaker to keep within the bounds.

Doubtful About Interview.

Representative Goodwin of Arkansas arose and asked:

"Did you or did you not have an interview with a reporter from the Washington Post?"

"I do not think so," answered Representative Heflin.

"Did or did you not say what was purported to have been said by you in the issue of the Washington Post last Saturday, wherein you are reported to have said there is a gambling house downtown where members of congress go and earn easy money if they are on the German side of the controversy? Did you or did you not?"

"I didn't yield to any such question as that," answered Heflin, while a few groans went up from the rear of the house.

"Spies in Galleries Now."

"That was a part of the charges against you," continued Representative Goodwin.

"I made no such reference on the floor of the house," said Representative Heflin, "but in the lobby I was talking about spies and rumors of spies. They are here now. Doubtless they are in the gallery now. They have been here all winter."

Again the house dissolved into an uproar with members challenging Heflin's charges and the speaker trying to restore order.

"You cannot take from me impressions that men make upon me by their conduct," continued Heflin eventually. "If I am true to my oath, I have a right to say a member's conduct is suspicious. If I take the responsibility of saying it, why not give me the credit for that much of loyalty to my government in time of war?

"I could recite the things that some have done, but you would not permit it, you would strike it out of the record. I never said any member had been corrupted by money, and I do not know what influenced them, but I do know that some have not, according to my way of thinking, been loyal to this government since the war continued."

"Cannot Prove Anything."

"Name them," roared Representative Gordon of Ohio.

"I will not yield to the gentleman from Ohio," responded Representative Heflin, "but if the house decides that an investigation is necessary and that I express my opinion of the men who have not been loyal, I will name them. But I cannot prove anything."

This caused uproarious laughter.

Representative Heflin then proceeded to say something about the gambling house story:

"That was something said outside in the lobby. We were talking of women spies who had been here."

Scored by Digressing.

This started Representative Cooper of Wisconsin off with another objection:

"The gentleman is arraigning the motives of thirteen or fourteen of the members of this house, practically insinuating they are traitors to their country. He is called upon to name them and he does not do it, but digresses and talks about female spies."

Representative Heflin said he had been talking about spies and the rumor of a gambling house in Washington "run by a German where slackers and pacifists played, and that those who were friendly to Germany won easily at the game."

More "Boys in Trench" Stuff.

He was asked whether he had said "Peace at any price congressmen" got their pay that way.

"I have stated what I said," he answered, "there may be such a place, and I may believe there is such a place, and if I knew absolutely where it was I would call it out; and if I had the proofs of the conduct of some of the members that have impressed my mind I would call them out."

Representative Heflin then concluded in a burst of oratory, in which he injected considerable about "the boys in the trenches."

The proper civilian salute is being made by Col. Roosevelt, Mayor Mitchel of New York City, Charles Evans Hughes, and Alton B. Parker.

$30,000 BRIBERY SCHEME HINTED BY J. J. TOBIAS

Law School Chancellor Talks of "Friends of Peace."

A strange tale, which, he believes, indicates that a man giving the name of E. J. Thyme, representing himself to be a Stockholm banker, sought to bribe him with $30,000, was told yesterday by J. J. Tobias, chancellor of the Chicago Law school and former chairman of the executive committee of the Friends of Peace, an avowed pro-German organization. This society was active shortly after the war started in Europe in promulgating German propaganda in this country. Thyme said his father owned ten Swedish banks, and intimated $76,000 more was available for bribing, according to Tobias.

Thyme, so said Mr. Tobias, came to his office in July of this year, told him he had been recommended to him by a graduate of the school, now resident in Copenhagen, and asked aid in realizing upon a draft for $30,000. "He laid the draft on my table," said Mr. Tobias, saying, "what can you do with this money?"

Suspicion Aroused.

Recent developments concerning German propagandist activities brought back the memory of this unusual episode and caused him to believe that Thyme may have been sounding him out because of his prior connection with the Friends of Peace, for the purpose of interesting him in further propagandist efforts.

Mr. Tobias was in Germany when the war broke out. At that time, he admits, his sympathies were with the Teutons. Later, he says, this changed, and the change came about at the time of the convention here of the Friends of Peace, presided over by John Brisben Walker of New York and Denver, and addressed by William J. Bryan and Jeremiah O'Leary.

He now thinks that he was selected for the "Friends of Peace" post because of his Masonic prominence. He was first approached regarding the matter by Gottfried Hummel, a Chicago produce broker, who came with an organizer from New York. A meeting was arranged at the Bismarck hotel, attended by Mr. Tobias, Paul E. Mueller, publisher of the Abendpost; Dr. Michael Singer, Carl Eitel, Ferdinand Walther, president of the Chicago German alliance, and other Germans prominent locally.

Convention Arranged.

Hummel and the New York representative proposed the convention, held Sept. 5 and 6 at the Medinah temple, with a representation of approximately 5,000 delegates from labor unions, German societies, and pacifist organizations.

Col. Jasper T. Darling, former president of the embargo conference, yesterday wired President Wilson, disclaiming knowledge of the true purpose of the conference.

STEEL HOPE

"Tribune" Financial Editor Sees a Turn in Market Conditions as a Result of Price Uncertainty Being Settled.

BY EUGENE HECTOR.

FIXING of steel prices and at a figure deemed fair by steel interests suggests a turn in market conditions. Price fixing has been to the markets what tariff discussion has always been to business—the cause of much unsettlement. But with the price of steel products fixed users of steel may proceed with their plans and the vendors of steel know what the profits will be. Those interested in the securities of the steel corporations will be able to figure values. The effect of only a slight consideration of what a definite price will mean in the steel market was shown with the upturn at the close of the session, which carried the price of U. S. Steel common to the highest point in three weeks.

Presently it will begin to dawn on the market that the fall in prices which has followed discussion of price fixing and profits taxes will eventually end in a big upturn. After prices of securities have become adjusted to the reduction in income from a fixed price for the product and to the heavy profits taxes, the next consideration will be what will happen when the profits taxes are removed and when prices of commodities are again governed by supply and demand. The end of the war, whenever it shall come, may in the circumstances turn out to be a bull instead of a bear condition. While the demand may be expected to fall off so far as foreign purchasers are concerned, there will also fall off a 40 per cent tax on profits.

SERVICE FLAGS, NEW IDEA FROM WASHINGTON, D. C.

The first service flag, a banner which proclaims to the world the number of men in war service from the home or office flying it, reached Chicago early yesterday morning, and is now waving in front of the Central Electric company's offices, 320 South Fifth avenue. The flag is red with a white center, upon which are eighteen stars, thus denoting the number of the company's employés in the service.

The war department has announced that there will be two sizes of service flags, one large, for business firms, and a smaller one for homes. It is a comparatively new idea, similar in purport to the posters which THE TRIBUNE issued several days ago.

Mr. George A. McKinlock, president of the Central Electric company, is doubly proud of the flag, because he has a son now in France, who received his commission in the training camp at Fort Sheridan. Charles E. Brown, secretary of the company, has a son on his way "over there" with the aviation corps.

order of their importance as related to the conduct of the war. Class A, comprising war work, comes first; class B, comprising industries indirectly related to the war, second, and class C, comprising all other industry, last.

MASS INDUSTRY FOR WAR.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—More intense concentration of American industry on war work was foreshadowed tonight in an order issued by the priority committee of the war industries board directing that in all cases preference in orders for iron and steel and their products be given to concerns turning out materials actually necessary for the war's conduct.

Luxuries in Back Row.

Profound changes in the industrial fabric are foreseen by officials responsible for putting the order into effect. Manufacturers of articles classed as luxuries will be the first to feel its operation, and as the government's requirements grow nonessential industries using iron and steel may be eliminated entirely. The order was signed by Robert S. Lovett as chairman of the committee with the approval of the secretaries of war and the navy.

Certificates will be issued on application, specifying the classification of the work. Certificates of a subsidiary nature will be issued on request for the furnishing of material and articles required in the manufacture of the commodity ordered.

Allies After U. S. Orders.

War orders of the allies will be placed in class A, as will those of the United States. Contracts already placed by the war or navy departments or by the Emergency Fleet corporation will be placed in subdivision A1; orders already placed by the allies will be put in A2.

LA FOLLETTE TO STAND OR FALL ON WAR ATTACKS

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Although several so-called La Follette conferences have been held recently none of them have agreed upon a strict honest to goodness La Follette platform. There have been disagreements among many of the fold as to the stand to be taken on La Follette's attitude on the war. However, Senator La Follette definitely outlined his plans to the few followers with whom he had a conference in Madison on his short visit there, and made the following points:

That a definite La Follette organization should be made and that there should be no compromise with any other faction as regards candidacy.

That the La Follette view on war issues should be the platform of the La Follette following.

That organization work should begin as soon as possible along these lines with the idea that a strong La Follette organization will strengthen the senator in his position not only in Wisconsin but in the nation.

As soon as an organization can be formed which gives evidence of strength, and which is of sufficient standing to give foundation for any statement it may issue, it is likely that a formal call will be presented to citizens to rally around the La Follette banner and fight for the ideas of the senator in the state.

KAISER SHOULD FORGET HIMSELF

ZURICH, Switzerland, Sept. 24.—In its comment on the German reply to Pope Benedict the Muhich Post protests against half of the German answer being devoted to the attitude of Emperor William.

It is not a matter of indifference, continues the Post, that the person of the emperor should be pushed to the foreground.

"We all know very well his declarations on the peace question," it says, "but we also know that during the twenty-eight years of his reign he made utterances extremely disconcerting to foreign nations.

"We can be calm despite all the war-lusting dukes, grand admirals, burgomasters, privy councilors, ferocious professors, and other colleagues of Count von Reventlow. The coming of peace cannot be much longer delayed," it concludes.

'PEOPLE BEHIND GERMAN PEACE REPLY'—HARDEN

Note to Pope Reflects Will of Majority, Editor Declares.

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—[Via London, Sept. 24.]—In response to a request for his opinion of the German reply to the pope's peace note, Maximilian Harden, editor of Die Zukunft, in a statement to the Associated Press, today prefaced his remarks with the reminder that every nation and every government is more or less tradition bound, none probably with tighter cords than Germany. This tradition, he said, heavily impedes any effort to break through the terrifying charged circle with which the war's afflictions encompass them.

"The German reply," Herr Harden said, "is the first visible attempt to escape from this charged circle, whose final obliteration is a preliminary condition to an enduring peace."

People Want to Stop War.

Herr Harden proceeded to declare that the note reflects the honest and sincere will of the majority of the people as unequivocally expressed in the reichstag resolution, adding:

"So far as lies in our power we want to stop the war and prevent the possibility of new wars by the cultivation of a new spirit which will so completely impregnate international intercourse with ethical feeling that never again shall humanity behold the day when force will strangle right."

Denying that the German people ever seriously intend to apply open or covert force to the people or government of Belgium, he said:

Look Forward to New Epoch.

"The words that were so construed were intended only to serve the purpose of war tactics or sad necessity. Most eagerly do we desire to cooperate in the work of converting the misery and disgrace of this war into the turning point for a new epoch in which the sun will rise for the soul of mankind. That is the spirit and import of the German answer.

"The German empire will now be told that its answer is not sincerely meant and that it is, in addition, a plain indication of the beginning of exhaustion. If in this most tragic hour of all human experience we are unable to rise above the unclean vapors of such machinations, then we are indeed dwarfs in the presence of mighty fate."

German People Stand Surety.

"I am not given to adoration of my government, yet my conscience commands me to say that the German government, in the full flush of military successes and in the exuberance of national strength, in this hour has attempted the possible, and the unbending and determined will of the majority of the German people stands surety for that which the government and the reichstag majority have promised. I belong to that by no means small number who, despite misunderstanding and baiting on both sides, still believe in the lofty ethical seriousness of President Wilson. Tomorrow that seriousness of purpose can and must affirm itself.

"If I were President Wilson and in bounden knowledge realised that the gap between the hostile camps was no longer wide enough to justify a continuation of the carnage, on any pretext I would tomorrow attempt to force a short armistice before the American and German soldiers meet on the battlefield.

Brief Respite May Bring Peace.

"The purpose of this brief respite must be to establish whether, at last, the conscience of mankind everywhere has been aroused and whether an understanding is possible which will lead to the birth of a new spirit, bringing us deliverance from the misery that now runs red with blood."

Campaign for the Second Great Liberty Loan On in Chicago.

America's second Liberty loan is in for a flying start following enthusiastic action taken in two meetings yesterday. In a meeting of women it was demanded that no fewer than 8,000,000 persons subscribe for this issue; in the foreign language gathering in the Hotel Sherman plans were made for a thorough campaign of saving and education.

The women propose to see that all who did not take the first issue of $2,000,000,000 are in on the second of $3,000,000,000; in the foreign language gathering it was decided to permit no citizen to remain in ignorance of the purposes of the loan.

Women's Meeting.

It was a representative group of Chicago women who met on the second floor of the Defense building at 120 West Adams street. Members of practically every woman's organization in the city were present. The number included society women, working women, and those who are both.

"For the first time," said Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank, member of the national woman's liberty loan committee, there is a committee of women appointed to work directly under the national cabinet, and to us has been given the task of launching the new issue of government bonds—the safest 4 per cent investment which any people has ever been given the privilege of putting their money into.

"It remains for us women to see to it that not less than 8,000,000 subscribe to this loan. Germany has just issued its seventh loan and it was subscribed to by 8,000,000 people. England has issued its fifth loan. We must not be any less patriotic. One of the greatest things we can do to encourage our allies and discourage our enemy is to have a huge subscription to this new issue."

Widow's Mite Nation's Might.

W. A. Heath, chairman of the Liberty loan executive committee, federal reserve district No. 7, told of a washwoman who had saved $35 in two years and bought a bond with it.

"The day of the 'widow's mite' is not gone," said Mr. Heath.

"No," said Miss Harriet Vittum, "the widow's mite is the nation's might," and there was the slogan.

Mrs. L. M. Fetherston urged that those women who are to speak for the bonds use "words of one syllable."

Hans Rieg, chief of the foreign language division publicity bureau for the loan, urged the women to work among the citizens of foreign extraction.

Committee Chairmen.

Chairmen of committees to work for the bonds in the ten congressional districts in Chicago were named as follows:

1. MRS. CHARLES E. CALDWELL, 5016 Harper avenue.
2. MRS. HENRY W. HARDY, 5747 Kimbark avenue.
3. MRS. CLARENCE RAINWATER, 7146 Harper avenue.
4. MRS. FRANK JEROME, 6427 Greenwood avenue.
5. MRS. RUTH AUSTIN, 1919 West Twentieth street.
6. MRS. WILLIAM J. BENSON, 427 North Central Park avenue.
7. MRS. DUANE McNABB, 5791 Circle avenue.
8. MRS. LUTHER CONANT, The Quadrangle, Oak Park.
9. MRS. WILLIAM M. HOPKINS, 1407 Jarvis avenue.
10. MRS. MARTIN K. NORTHAM, 6228 Winthrop avenue.

Leaders in each of the thirty-five wards of the city were also named;

Mrs. Bertha Baur, chairman of the Chicago district of the Liberty Loan committee, who presided at the meeting, left immediately after it for Washington to attend a national conference on Thursday and Friday. The president, Secretary McAdoo, and members of the council of national defense will address the meetings.

Foreign Language Meeting.

Several hundred men and women who represent societies, fraternal organizations, and churches of foreign speaking people and the foreign language press met at the Hotel Sherman to start the work of educating their people in how, why, and when to invest their savings in the forthcoming bonds. Mr. Rieg, in strong words slightly tinged with a German accent, urged every foreign speaking American to exert every ounce of energy against Germany.

At the close of the meeting a committee was formed as a skeleton organization to carry the information about the loan to every man and woman in Chicago who speaks a foreign language.

The Leaders.

Following is the committee and the name of the people represented:

JOHN F. SMULSKI, Poles.
A. J. CERMAK, Bohemians.
HECTOR DURANTI, Italians.
HENRY S. HENSCHEN, Swedes.
C. SALOPOULOS, Greeks.
HARRY A. LIPSKY, Jews.
R. D. LE TOURNEUX, French.
ANTHONY BIANKINI, Croatians.
FELIX J. STREYCKMANS, Belgians.
NICHOLAS KLEKNER, Russians.
THE REV. J. B. KLORIS, Lithuanians.
HENRY L. HERT, Danes.
BERTHOLD SINGER, Spaniards.
STEVEN VON FAY, Hungarians.
HENRY LUTZENKIRCHEN, Germans.
J. A. WERWINSKI, Poles of South Bend, Ind.
OSCAR HAUGEN, Norwegians.
JOHN B. PALANDECH, Serbians.
PAUL S. NEWEY, Assyrians.

The first subscription to the loan was announced by Louis N. Hammerling, who said that fifty foreign language newspapers in and near Chicago were prepared to subscribe to a total of $50,000 worth of Liberty bonds. The aim in the present issue, Mr. Rieg said, is to secure 18,000,000 subscribers.

Print Posters Here.

Two million of the 5,500,000 posters to be used in advertising the Liberty loan are being printed in Chicago. The Edwards & Deutsch Lithographing company began shipments yesterday of its first order of 500,000 posters. The concern is printing 1,500,000 posters, including the issue for the women's committee.

PURGE SENATE OF LA FOLLETTE, ROOSEVELT, SAYS

'He Serves Germany; Worst Enemy of Democracy.'

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 24.—"If I were this minute a member of the United States senate I would be ashamed to sit in that body until I found out some method of depriving Senator La Follette of his seat in that chamber which he now disgraces by his presence there," Col. Theodore Roosevelt declared in a talk today at a luncheon given for Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood and himself as a part of the middle western patriotic celebration of this city.

Continuing his remarks concerning congress, Col. Roosevelt asserted that if congress had taken the action three years ago that it has since the declaration of war, the war would have been over.

"If we take heed of any peace utterance Germany prepares we will show that we are not prepared yet to go out into the world without a guardian," the colonel added. "America must make good the words of President Wilson, 'Make the world safe for democracy.' For this reason, we should declare war against Austria and Turkey."

"Serving Only Germany."

After praising Maj. Gen. Wood, Col. Roosevelt said:

"Now that I have spoken to you of Americans who stand for and are representatives of America, I now wish for a minute to speak to you of an American who represents the worst of American characteristics—Senator La Follette.

"Senator La Follette is at this moment loyally and efficiently serving one country—Germany. He is acting in such fashion as to make him one of the most potent enemies of this country and a most sinister enemy of democracy.

"He claims, and it is the emptiest of all claims, to stand for democracy. He is doing everything in his power to enthrone autocracy under the German flag throughout the world.

"I read a couple of days ago of Senator La Follette's utterances before an organization out in Minneapolis, and hereafter any organization that asks Senator La Follette to speak ought to be made to show, conclusively why it should be considered a patriotic organization thereafter."

Rather a Sword than a Pen.

At the conclusion of his talk, Col. Roosevelt was presented with a gold quill with the reminder that the pen is mightier than the sword.

"But I would rather have a sword," the colonel said. "This is a very exclusive war as far as I am concerned. I was blackballed by the committee on admission."

SPEAKS HERE TOMORROW.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt's speech tomorrow night at the stockyards pavilion will be of the "knock 'em dead" variety.

He telegraphed yesterday to the local promoters of the demonstration that he would speak extemporaneously.

He will speak more particularly on "The Children of the Melting Pot."

Col. and Mrs. Roosevelt will arrive in Chicago tonight and go at once to the Blackstone hotel, where they will stay during their stopover here.

TO TALK AT FORT SHERIDAN.

Fort Sheridan, Ill., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Assurance that Col. Theodore Roosevelt will address the 4,000 candidates attending the Second reserve officers' training camp on Thursday night was given today to Col. James A. Ryan, post commandant. From Col. Ryan down to the last private, the post is jubilant over the impending visit.

Col. Ryan and the men were saddened today by the death of Virginia East, 10 months old daughter of Sergt. and Mrs. Herbert East, who died after a serious operation. Sergt. East is with Pershing in France.

SUFFRAGE FOR WOMEN TAKES FORWARD STEP

House to Have Special Committee; Vote 181 to 107.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Woman suffrage made a short step forward in the house today when the special rule for the creation of a committee on woman suffrage was adopted by a vote of 181 to 107.

Although the suffragists failed to obtain a two-thirds vote, which would be necessary for the adoption by the house of a national woman suffrage amendment, they were much elated at their victory, because of the fact that through a special committee they will be able to get the national amendment before the house almost at any time, a thing which has been impossible heretofore because of the hostile attitude of the house committe on judiciary.

Congresswoman Joins Debate.

Accompanying the passage of the suffrage committee rule was much oratory in which suffragists were both commended and condemned. Representative Jeannette Rankin made her first appearance in active debate in the house in a speech favoring the adoption of the rule. She contended that the women of many states could never be enfranchised except through federal action, and that through justice to these women creation of the committee was necessary.

Representative Webb of North Carolina, chairman of the judiciary committee which has had the suffrage resolution pigeonholed for months, said his committee had not acted on the resolution for the reason that the committee was opposed to suffrage; that the committee felt the house was opposed to it, and that the president was against suffrage except by states.

Nine Middle West Votes Oppose.

Of the 108 votes against the suffrage resolution, the great majority was cast by Democrats.

Only a few members from the middle west voted against the resolution. They were Representatives Moores and Denton of Indiana, Hull and Scott of Iowa, Classon and Voigt of Wisconsin, Nichols and Scott of Michigan, and Volstead of Minnesota.

Begin Illinois Campaign.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 24.—Suffrage leaders in Illinois took their first step toward lining up the state administration behind the campaign for a constitutional convention wherein they see a chance to gain full enfranchisement for women when Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout of Chicago, president of the Illinois Suffrage association, and Mrs. Blanche B. West of Bushnell, a suffrage worker, called on Gov. Lowden today to enlist him in the cause.

Such a convention for revision of the basic law of the state was a plank in the campaign platform of Gov. Lowden, and his influence was behind the resolution putting the question to a popular vote in 1918 passed by the fiftieth general assembly.

The governor was understood to have assured Mrs. Trout and Mrs. West that he would do what he could to get the issue before the voters.

FLAYS SUFFRAGISTS

Root Deplores Activities for Women's Vote When Nation Is Plunged in War.

Utica, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Elihu Root made known his opposition to woman suffrage in emphatic utterances at a massmeeting here tonight. Mr. Root presided, presenting Mrs. James Wadsworth Jr., president of the National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage.

"It is unfortunate," Mr. Root said, "that the subject should be thrust upon us now, at a time when all who care for their country require all their energy and strength and enthusiasm and heart and soul for the service of their country in the peril that confronts it. I think it unfortunate that we should be compelled to turn aside from our efforts toward making our country victorious over that cruel, brutal, and arrogant enemy which does not hesitate to murder women and children, and which seeks to destroy the liberties of the world, in order to have controversy over the question of woman suffrage.

"But the subject is thrust upon us. It cannot be allowed to go by default, and these women who are not seeking a place in politics, who love their homes and have high ideas of womanhood, have buckled on the armor of discussion and are determined that the question shall not go by default.

"I could not come here and introduce them to you if I did not sympathize with them. I am opposed to the granting of suffrage to women. I formed an unfavorable opinion of the project many years ago and time, far from changing my opinion, has but confirmed it. I am opposed to it because I think it would be bad for the government of the country, for the state, and bad for women."

MEATLESS DAYS MUST COME, SAYS HARRY WHEELER

State Food Administrator Urges Wheat, Sugar Saving.

Meatless days must come, in the opinion of Harry A. Wheeler, federal food administrator for Illinois, who returned yesterday from Washington where he had several conferences with Herbert C. Hoover. Wheat and sugar, too, must be conserved with especial care, according to food administration officials, if shortage is to be avoided.

"It is absolutely essential that the public take part in the general program of conserving our food supplies," said Mr. Wheeler.

Grave Lack of Sugar.

"We had the impression a while back that there would be an abundance of sugar. We now find there is a distinct shortage that must be made up. Our allies have reduced their consumption to the smallest point possible and the situation is becoming serious. In England, for instance, where the average amount of sugar consumed per capita used to be larger than in the United States, the allowance is now only one ounce for each individual, a little more than a heaping teaspoonful.

"Little wheat is moving from the customary sources of supply and the difficulties in the way of getting a normal crop abroad are increasing. The European crop is 200,000,000 bushels short of what it should be. Our allies will need more than 300,000,000 bushels in excess of what we can send them.

Demand for Meat.

"Buyers representing our allies had a conference in Washington Friday with the packers. It was found that the demand for meat, especially for hog products, was greater than we can supply. Our stocks are growing less. Meatless days will have to come."

Food saving reforms in restaurants were listed by Mr. Wheeler. The table d'hote dinner is to be abolished and frosting on cake is to be given up. Frying in fats and butter is to be restricted. Breakfast foods made of wheat are to be cut down. Extra charges are to be made for bread and butter. Smaller portions at small prices are to be the rule.

CERTIFICATES

$400,000,000 of Convertible Paper Bearing 4 Per Cent Interest Offered to Public Before Second Liberty Loan.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—The fourth series of short time treasury certificates of indebtedness, issued in anticipation of the second Liberty bond issue, was offered to the public today by the treasury department. The issue, $400,000,000, is larger than any yet offered at the department and bears interest at a higher rate, 4 per cent, as authorized in the war credits law signed today. Previous issues have not borne higher than 3½ per cent interest.

The total of certificates in advance of the second Liberty bond issue now amounts to $1,250,000,000.

Like those of the preceding offering, the new certificates will be convertible into Liberty bonds at par, and will be exempt from all income taxation except the surtax on incomes of more than $5,000.

The treasury department reserves the right to redeem the entire $400,000,000 issue at par and accrued interest upon ten days' notice at any date. The subscription books will remain open from tomorrow until Oct. 2, and the certificates will mature Dec. 15 next.

The offering will be placed through the federal reserve banks, and is open not only to bankers, but to the general public. Certificates will be issued in denominations of $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, and $100,000.

Asks for Day of Prayer for American Soldiers

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—A day of prayer for the American military forces, to be prescribed by presidential proclamation, is proposed in a senate bill favorably reported to the house today by the military committee.

ARGENTINE NAVY BEING MOBILIZED

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 24.—Mobilization of the Argentine navy has been ordered at a rendezvous thirty-seven kilometers from Buenos Aires. There also is unusual military activity in the republic. Although this is ostensibly due to the general strike, a high official said today that the general staff has its eyes open to "other necessities."

The question of a rupture with Germany is still being widely discussed by members of the Argentine congress and the public in general, notwithstanding Germany's recent notes. Many of the deputies say that they no longer have confidence in Berlin because if the government disapproved of Von Luxburg's dispatches it should have taken action against the minister, and not waited until after Secretary Lansing's revelations to express its disapproval.

Anti-Draft Trial Witness Bares Huge Revolt Plot.

Enid, Okla., Sept. 24.—That a general uprising in all states of the union was planned at the same time the anti-draft riots occurred in southern Oklahoma was the burden of the testimony given in the anti-draft hearing in the federal court here today.

Witnesses testified that Rube Munson, state organizer, and Home Spence, state secretary of the Working Class union, which they said was directly affiliated with the farmers' and laborers' protective organization in Texas, had told them the organization was 35,000 strong in Oklahoma and 50,000 strong in Texas.

Two Carloads of Rifles Ready.

Forty-eight organizations, the witnesses testified they were told, were to join, under the head of the I. W. W., in a nationwide revolution, in which was included plans to seize small towns, attack cities, loot banks, burn bridges, and cut telegraph wires. Spence, a witness said, told the members of the union that two carloads of rifles would be ready for their use.

Stores were to be burned, after being looted for provisions, according to the plan said to have been outlined, and railroads were to be seized for mobilizing the rebellious organizations, which, members were told, would greatly outnumber the troops left to protect President Wilson and Gov. Williams of Oklahoma and defend the Mexican border.

Revolt Set for July 27.

The uprising against the government was set for July 27, witnesses declared. The anti-draft rioters in Seminole, Hughes and Pontotoc counties began their raids Aug. 2.

Coincident with the inception of the riots, Spence was arrested at Holdenville and his activities are now being investigated by a federal grand jury at McAlester. The arrest of Spence and nearly 500 of his followers effectually ended the disturbance.

U. S. to Take Drastic Measures.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—[Special.—Drastic measures are to be taken in future by the department of justice to curb the activities of any person or organization the effect of which would be to hinder or hamper the government in the conduct of the war.

William C. Fitts, assistant attorney general, in charge of the government's investigation of the Industrial Workers of the World, announced today at a luncheon of the four minute men at the University club that the time had come to silence opponents of the war.

"Every arm that is not willing to be uplifted in the common defense," Mr. Fitts said, "must not be allowed to be uplifted at all, and any pen capable of writing unpatriotic or disloyal sentiments must be cast into the waste-basket."

FRENCH SMASH GERMAN ATTACKS ON WIDE FRONT

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Violent attacks by the Germans against the new French positions northeast of Verdun yesterday were checked with heavy losses and the Germans gained nothing.

The assaults began with an attack on a front of about a mile and a quarter north of the Bois le Chaume. Only in the center of the assaulting line were the Germans able to reach the French positions, the artillery dispersing them elsewhere. The French fought valiantly and remained masters of the situation after inflicting heavy losses on the Germans.

Simultaneously the German crown prince threw forward two secondary attacking forces, one north of Bezonvaux, south of the Bois le Chaume, and the other southeast of Beaumont. Here the French did not wait for the Germans to reach their trenches, but went out to meet the attackers, who were driven back with losses.

Later in the day the crown prince hurled two new attacks against the Bois le Chaume. Again the French drove the Germans back and captured fifty prisoners.

In Flanders the German fire is reported heavy on both banks of the Scarpe, east of Arras, around Lens, and northeast of Ypres.

RUSSIANS WIN IN NORTH.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 24.—The Russian forces on the Riga front in the region south of the Pskoff high road yesterday took the offensive and after a fierce struggle occupied the German positions in the sector of Silzeme, the Russian war office announced today.

The Germans' losses were heavy, 400 dead being counted on the battlefield. The Russians captured sixty prisoners and ten machine guns.

5,000 NAVY YARD WORKERS STRIKE FOR MORE MONEY

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 24.—Approximately 5,000 men employed at the navy yard here struck today pending an agreement on a new wage scale. Work in many departments of the plant was said to have been virtually suspended.

The situation is being handled by officers at the yard, and Secretary Daniels is confident that an adjustment will be arranged within a day or two whereby the men will return to work.

More Walk Out in Portland.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 24.—Approximately 4,000 workmen in three Portland steel shipyards laid down their tools today and joined the men who walked out of the Portland wooden shipyards recently to enforce their demands for higher wages and the closed shop. Work on government contracts at the steel yards was halted by the strike.

The men walked out today despite the efforts of President Wilson to keep them at work. Portland's shipbuilding industry is practically paralyzed as a result of the strikes.

Rockford Car Service Crippled.

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 24.—About half of the usual number of street cars are in operation today, as a result of yesterday's strike, which completely tied up traffic through the forenoon and again at night. Interurban service is practically on schedule. Although there was car service to many plants this morning, hundreds of factory men refused to ride and walked long distances. There has been no disorder.

SENATE CUTS PIPES OF ORGANS OF SEDITION

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—After brief debate the senate adopted the conference report on the trading with the enemy bill, with only six negative votes, today. The house is expected to accept the report tomorrow and send the measure to the president for his signature.

Discussion centered upon an amendment added by the conferees prohibiting the publication or distribution by any means of matter made nonmailable by the espionage act. The provision is designed to suppress entirely seditious publications barred from the mails, but still circulating by express or otherwise.

Senators Norris and Cummins protested vigorously against the action of the conferees, declaring it would permit the postmaster general to put out of business arbitrarily any newspaper or magazine without giving reasons. Senators King, Ransdell, Fletcher, and Vardaman upheld the provision, insisting that publications violating the espionage act should not be permitted to circulate.

The bill, which passed both houses with little opposition, forbids trading by Americans with enemies or allies of enemies, provides for a custodian of enemy funds, for regulation of foreign insurance companies, for licensing foreign language newspapers, for censorships of all foreign communication, and authorizes the president to embargo imports.

FIVE AMERICANS DROP 176 FOES FROM THE SKIES

PARIS, Sept. 24.—The Lafayette escadrille was again very active on Sept. 21 and 22. Sergt. Robert Rockwell of Cincinnati, Sergt. Henry S. Jones of Herford, Pa.; Sergt. Ray Bridgman of Lake Forest, Ill.; Lieut. Raoul Lufbery of Wallingford, Conn., and Sergt. Edwin C. Parsons of Springfield, Mass., during patrol duty, attacked three Germans and shot them down but were unable to see if they had been destroyed. These men have destroyed 176 machines, shooting 126 down in the German lines.

On Sept. 22 the escadrille was again busy and had many flights. Lieut. William Thaw of Pittsburgh came down with his machine badly damaged but himself unhurt. Rockwell, Jones, Bridgman, and Parsons went up to attack thirteen Huns. After sharp combats in high altitude the enemy machines were driven off. All the Americans returned safely.

OFFICIAL REPORTS ON ALL WAR FRONTS

RUSSO-ROUMANIAN FRONT

RUSSIAN.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 24.—Northern front: In the Riga region south of the Pskoff high road our detachments initiating an attack occupied, after a fierce struggle, the enemy positions in the sector of Silzeme, one mile northeast of Spitalitimerman.

The enemy losses were severe and on the battle field we found more than 400 corpses. We captured sixty prisoners and ten machine guns. The brilliant Gen. Sekolov was wounded in the head by a shrapnel splinter.

Western, southwestern, and Roumanian fronts: There were fusillades and reconnoitering operations.

AVIATION.

On Friday in the region of Kovel our airmen bombarded the enemy rear and stores at Jino, Melnica, and Nugel, dropping about a hundredweight of bombs. Several fires broke out.

West of Husiatyn Lieut. Jachello brought down an enemy machine.

In the region of Kedzi-Vasarhely on Thursday a Roumanian airman engaged an enemy machine and forced it down in the enemy lines. In the region of the lower Danube our hydroplanes successfully dropped eighteen bombs on the enemy lines.

GERMAN.

BERLIN, Sept. 24.—Front of Prince Leopold: Among the booty of fifty-five guns captured in the Jacobstadt bridgehead were a mounted battery and five heavy guns of between 26 and 28 centimeter caliber. The town itself afforded quantities of provisions, including bread and flour, which fell into our hands.

Front of Field Marshal von Mackensen: In the mountains northwest Foshani and on the Sereth there was frequently lively artillery activity and outpost fighting. The railway station at Galitz was bombarded with visible success.

FRENCH FRONT

BRITISH.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—Under cover of the bombardment referred to in today's communique, the enemy attempted two raids early this morning in the neighborhood of Monchy-Le-Preux and another south of the Arras-Douai railway. In all three cases the hostile parties were repulsed by our fire, leaving a number of dead in front of our trenches.

Another enemy party raided our trenches early this morning west of La Bassee. One of our men is missing. The report this morning that some of our men were missing as a result of a hostile raid carried out last night near La Basseeville has since been found to be incorrect, as none of our men was missing.

On the battlefront our patrols have been active today; a number of prisoners were brought in. Our artillery activity continues, but no infantry action occurred.

AVIATION.

On Sunday again there was a slight lull in the aerial operations, though our airplanes and balloons continued to observe for our artillery. Successful bombing raids also were undertaken, in the course of which the airplanes dropped 167 bombs on hostile billets, hutments, and airdromes.

In the air fighting eight enemy machines were brought down and six were brought down out of control. Another machine was brought to earth on Saturday in addition to those already mentioned. Three of our machines are missing.

DAY STATEMENT.

A hostile raiding party last night near La Basseeville was driven off with loss after a short fight. A few of our men are missing.

The enemy's artillery was active early this morning on both banks of the Scarpe, and artillery activity also was shown during the night south of Lens and northeast of Ypres.

ADMIRALTY STATEMENT.

In reference to the German wireless message reporting that an English monitor had bombarded Ostend and that a few shells had struck the cathedral, killing seven and wounding twenty-four Belgians, a careful examination of photographs taken at Ostend after the bombardment show no signs of a hit on the cathedral.

On the other hand, the photographs indicate clearly that one floating dock has sunk and keeled over; that one workshop in the dockyard has been demolished completely, and that seven others were damaged. A portion of one submarine shelter is shown to be missing.

GERMAN.

BERLIN, Sept. 24.—Army group of Crown Prince Rupprecht—In Flanders in the afternoon the artillery battle again increased to great violence on the coast and from Houtholst wood to Westhoek. On the battle front the fighting continued actively in the night and early morning. There have been no fresh British attacks up to the present.

The good effect of our artillery defense has been ascertained from the behavior of batteries which we bombarded and also from the destruction of numerous munitions dumps. Near Lens and St. Quentin, against whose cathedral the French continued their work of destruction by a fresh bombardment, the artillery activity was revived.

Army group of the German crown prince—In several sectors on the Aisne front and in the Champagne the firing was increased frequently to great violence. The enemy suffered losses in reconnoitering engagements.

Before Verdun there was active artillery fighting in the afternoon and night. Lively fighting was in progress this morning on the eastern bank of the Meuse.

AVIATION.

Fourteen enemy airplanes were brought down.

FRENCH.

PARIS, Sept. 24.—On the Aisne front the artillery action was very spirited in the neighborhood of Braye-en-Laonnois, Cerny, and Hurtebise. We repulsed a surprise attack against our small posts north of Braye.

On the right bank of the Meuse, following the bombardment reported in the morning communication, the Germans attacked our trenches north of Bois le Bhaume along a front of about two kilometers. The attack was carried out by four battalions supported by special assaulting troops.

Disorganized by our fire the enemy was unable to reach our lines on the greater part of the front of the attack. In some trench elements in the center where the enemy had succeeded in gaining a foothold violent fighting ensued, which ended to our advantage. Our soldiers, after inflicting heavy losses on the adversary, remained masters of their positions.

At the same time two secondary attacks were delivered, one north of Bezonvaux, the other southeast of Beaumont; these likewise suffered a sanguinary check by reason of the valor of our troops, who, leaving their own trenches, advanced fiercely to meet their assailants.

In the course of the afternoon two new attempts carried out against our trenches in the Bois le Chaume resulted only in augmenting the number of losses suffered by the enemy without gaining for him the slightest advantage. We took about fifty prisoners in the course of this action.

DAY STATEMENT.

Violent artillery actions occurred in the region of Braye-en-Laonnois, the Froidmont farm, and Hurtebise. An enemy surprise attack on the last mentioned point failed.

On the left bank of the Meuse enemy reconnaissances which attempted to reach our lines were dispersed by our fire. On the right bank the artillery actions took on a character of extreme intensity during the night in the neighborhood of the Bois des Fosses and the Bois le Chaume. Everywhere else the night was calm.

AVIATION.

Enemy airplanes last night bombed the region north of Bar le Duc. Several bombs fell on a camp of German prisoners, two of the prisoners being killed and seventeen wounded.

On Sept. 23 our pilots brought down six German airplanes.

ITALIAN FRONT

ITALIAN.

ROME, Sept. 24.—There was artillery activity along the entire front yesterday.

A counter attack by storming parties against the positions recently occupied by us in the Marmolada region cost the enemy considerable losses and some prisoners.

AVIATION.

The railway line in the Bazza valley, east of Tolmino, was the objective of our air forces yesterday. In the morning one of our bombarding parties, well escorted, arrived almost by surprise over the railway station of Grahavo when an intensified railway movement was proceeding and four tons of bombs were dropped there.

At night an airship, by dropping numerous high explosive bombs, greatly damaged an establishment in the neighborhood of Podgelec. At the same time another airship again bombarded numerous enemy troops in the Chiapovano valley.

Two enemy machines, brought down by our airmen, fell in flames.

TURKISH FRONT

RUSSIAN.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 24.—There is nothing to report.

MACEDONIAN FRONT

FRENCH.

PARIS, Sept. 24.—The artillery was quite active on the Vardar front, around Doiran and the Cerna Bend. On Sept. 22 the Bulgarians succeeded in gaining a temporary foothold in a work in the first line east of Lake Presby. They were driven out almost immediately by a Russian counter attack.

GERMAN.

BERLIN, Sept. 24.—The situation is unchanged.

SUPPLEMENTARY

GERMAN.

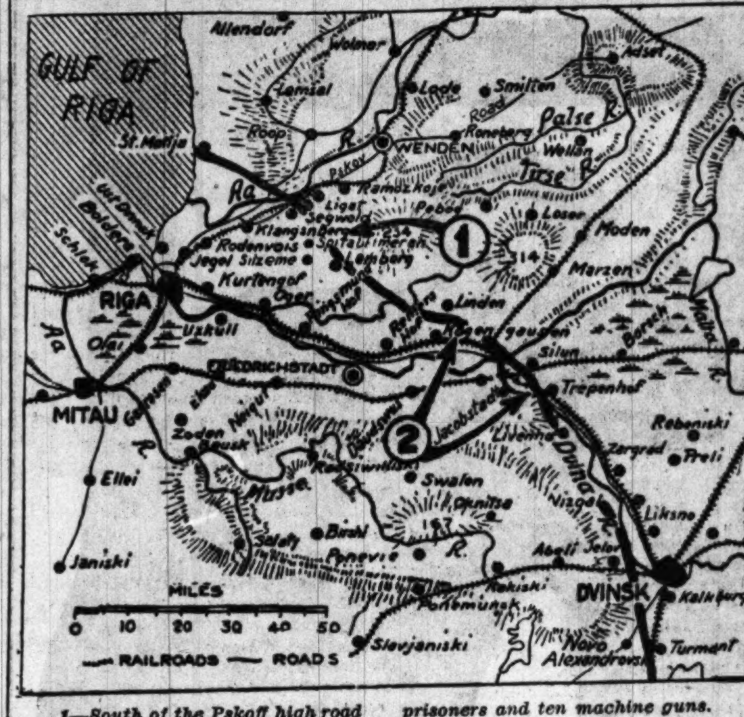
BERLIN, Sept. 24.—There has been lively fighting activity in Flanders and on the eastern bank of the Meuse.

In the east there has been nothing of importance.

Student Officer Freed.

William A. Miller, 24 years old, a student at the reserve officers' training camp, Fort Sheridan, who was arrested Saturday night with Miss Cleo Harper, 630 North Clark street, a nurse, on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated, was discharged yesterday by Judge John A. Mahoney in the Automobile court. Miss Harper, who was held as a witness, also was discharged.

RUSSIANS ADVANCE NEAR RIGA



1—South of the Pskoff high road Russians in Silzeme sector one mile northeast of Spitalitimerau drove back Germans, inflicting heavy losses and capturing sixty prisoners and ten machine guns.

2—Berlin reports that fifty-five guns were captured in recent advance through Jacobstadt.

GERMANS CARRY INGENUITY UP IN AIR WITH THEM

Electrically Heated Oil and Clothes, Oxygen Tanks Now in Use.

one of the planes. The heat from the charged wires keeps the oil in a fluid condition and makes the machine gun available for use at any of the present altitudes.

German airmen have been brought down who were found to be wearing clothing where the same principle has been applied to extend their physical endurance of cold. Their heavy leather flying costume was ridged with asbestos seams, in each of which was buried an electric wire throwing off heat for the warmth of their bodies. Gloves made in the same manner have long been known to the winter motorist. The principal of the electrical pad or bed warmer is the same.

ENEMY USES OXYGEN TANKS.

For some time now German airmen on observation duty, declining fight by taking extremely high altitudes, have carried oxygen tanks in their planes, from which at frequent intervals they must take lung filling sucks to help their involuntary struggles for breath in the rarified atmosphere.

Every day these new tricks and devices of the air are developing, and to an American observer it drives home a serious question. American aviators are learning the flying game in America with the advantage of the knowledge and instruction based on up to the present developments in their hazardous work.

MUST STUDY NEW WRINKLES.

The question is, will flying have progressed to such an extent or to such heights by the time the Americans reach the aerodromes behind the European lines that they will have to start in and take the necessary post-graduate course in the numberless and ever increasing new wrinkles necessitated by the race for height?

To the land loving dreamer this race for altitude opens new vistas for the imagination. With aviators now exploring beyond the earth's aircrust, with the assistance of artificial breathing and heating apparatus like the deep sea divers delving in the dark and airless depths of the ocean, it is not a far leap to picture an hermetically sealed aeroplane as airtight as a submarine, soaring heavenward toward the unknown limits of the beyond.

Why Society Women Wash Their Own Hair

They do, not because it is a fad, but because they wish to obtain the greatest possible hair beauty and be sure they are not using anything harmful. They have found that in washing the hair it is never wise to use a makeshift but is always advisable to use a preparation made for shampooing only. Many of our friends say they get the best results from a simple home-made Canthrox mixture. You can use this at a cost of about three cents a shampoo by getting some Canthrox from your druggist, and dissolving a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes enough shampoo liquid to apply to all the hair instead of just the top of the head, as with most preparations. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear in the rinsing water. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you.—Advertisement.

LAKE SEAMEN VOTE TO STRIKE OCTOBER FIRST

10,000 to Walk Out Unless the Ship Owners Come to Terms.

Unless the Lake Carriers' association agrees to extend the provisions of the Atlantic agreement to cover ore, grain, and coal ships on the great lakes, 10,000 seamen, firemen, watertenders, and cooks will go on strike Oct. 1.

This was determined definitely last night when a referendum vote of two weeks on the proposition by the unions concerned came to a close. Early returns indicated that the decision to strike was practically unanimous and heads of the unions said it was sure to be carried by an overwhelming majority.

The union leaders felt equally sure that the ship owners would refuse to grant the Atlantic agreement demand.

Prepare for Finish Fight.

"Inasmuch as the Lake Carriers' association turned down what amounted to a governmental request that the agreement be extended to the lakes, it is hardly likely they will grant the demand now," said Victor A. Olander, secretary of the lake seamen's union.

"Therefore the seamen, firemen, and other ship workers concerned are preparing to fight it out to the finish. They have a fund of $700,000 behind them to carry on the fight and will enter it with the determination to win. If the Lake Carriers' association is not patriotic enough to accede to a proposition which would mean the training of thousands of men to man Uncle Sam's new merchant fleet, then the seamen will force acceptance of it.

"We are willing to submit all other points in our demands to arbitration, but not the Atlantic agreement question."

Effective from Start.

The strike, it was pointed out by union leaders, will be effective from the start and will tie up practically all the ore, grain, and coal ships on the lakes. It was declared that not enough nonunion seamen to man them can be obtained. Whether the strike will affect the prices of ore, grain, and coal in lake ports is a matter which is causing speculation.

Local officials of the Lake Carriers' association were skeptical concerning the claims put forward as to any effective tie-up, stating that they believed a majority of the ships concerned would be kept in operation.

Passenger ships are not affected by the controversy, it was stated by Mr. Olander.

FORT SHERIDAN LIKELY TO LOSE TRAINING CAMP

The war department has decided to draw 90 per cent of the students for the third camps from the enlisted ranks of the regular army, national army, and national guard. The remaining 10 per cent will be drawn from colleges which have courses of military instruction. An official announcement of the plans will be made in a few days.

Fort Sheridan will lose its officers' training camp if the plans go through in their present shape. Instead of continuing the present officers' camps there will be training courses at the sixteen national army cantonments, the sixteen national guard camps, and the regular army and the concentration camps.

The new plan will give an opportunity to the drafted men to win commissions.

"Deserters" of New Army Go to Camp Grant Today

Sixteen of the thirty men now being held by the department of justice for failure to report to their contingents of the national army at Rockford were yesterday ordered turned over to the military authorities. Word came in a telegram to Maj. Gen. William H. Carter, in command of the central department here. Immediately on the receipt of the order from Washington, Gen. Carter summoned a guard from the Seventh regiment, I. N. G., and the men were sent to the armory. They will be taken today to Rockford, where it will be determined just what punishment, if any, is to be meted out to them.

First Lieuts. Frank W. Mackoy and Charles E. Peters, medical reserve corps, were ordered to the county hospital, Chicago, for a course in military roentgenology.

Walter K. Herbott, Joseph W. Timmons Jr., and Charles A. Wagner of Illinois and George F. Feazell of Iowa were appointed assistant veterinarians in the veterinary corps.

NEW HOME GUARD OF 3,000 READY FOR ANY EVENT

The home guard is ready. Three thousand soldiers, ranging from 18 to 55 years of age, called from offices and factories, are now prepared to protect home interests, taking the place of the national guard, which will soon be "over there" fighting the nation's battle. This was announced at the final session of the military committee yesterday in the State Council of Defense building, 120 West Adams street. Today Lieut. Gov. John G. Oglesby will announce the personnel of the officers.

The new organization, technically known as the reserve militia, originated with the formation of the Illinois volunteer training corps. The reserve militia is distinct from the new Eleventh regiment. The Eleventh may be called for service away from the immediate vicinity, but the militia is only for home emergency.

Gen. Young has been appointed brigadier general by Gov. Lowden. The three regiments which make up the brigade are commanded by Col. Le Roy T. Steward of the First, J. C. Wilson of the Second, and Anson L. Bolte of the Third.

MILITARY ROADS

Resolution Adopted by Chamber of Commerce of the United States, in Convention at Atlantic City, September 21, 1917:

WHEREAS, It is essential that all the transportation facilities of the nation should be brought to the highest state of efficiency in order that foodstuffs may be moved most economcially from the farm to the market, that manufactured products be moved at the lowest cost from the factory to the consumer, and

WHEREAS, The Public Highways offer a good, prompt and economical means to supplement transportation by rail and water, therefore

BE IT RESOLVED, That the prompt improvement of our Public Highways is important and should be forwarded in every proper way.

Realizing the transportation congestion crisis, this was one of the most important resolutions passed by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Motor trucks are ready at hand; the roads of the nation must be immediately developed and improved.

A Federal Highway Board is urgently needed.

This resolution deserves wide publicity—and to help we are publishing it throughout the country in place of our scheduled advertisements.

CIVILIANS TEST CAMP GRANT LIFE TO FIND IT GOOD

Ald. Lipps Sleeps on Hay in Barracks; Four in Party.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Anxious to know how the men from their district fared their first day in the army, four Chicagoans not affected by the draft spent last night in Camp Grant. They also ate supper and breakfast there and tonight returned to Chicago, delighted with their experience.

Ald. W. F. Lipps of the Twenty-sixth ward led the party. With him were Dr. M. R. Walker, chairman of board sixty, and Oliver J. Miksch and E. R. Nelson, who have been aiding the board in its work. They arrived with 113 selected men and accompanied them to their barracks to see how they were quartered and fed. They were led to Company A of the Three Hundred and Thirty-second machine gun battalion, and there were invited to eat evening mess with the officers of the organization.

Slept on Straw.

During the meal the visitors voiced a wish to remain. Immediately the officers told them they could bunk in the barracks with their friends. And that plan was adopted.

"We slept on the regulation iron cots with the bed sacks filled with hay," said Ald. Lipps, "and a man couldn't ask for a better bed. We also saw what the men had to eat and it was fine. Every one of them was pleased with it.

"We found the quarters new, clean, ventilated, and well cared for. The men were given calisthenics this morning and some simple drilling and competition for places as corporals and sergeants was visible from the first minute. All the men are striving to make good."

Second Alcoholic Death.

The second man to die at camp from alcoholic excess was Peter Elbe, 26 years old, 153 West Forty-fourth street. He was a Hungarian and was married. He came to Camp Grant with an increment from a stockyards division, all the members of which showed the effects of overcelebration.

Fire prevention and fire fighting plans announced today with the moving of the fire company into the central station assured everybody in the camp that flames will have a mighty small chance to do any real damage. There now are three full companies equipped with motor apparatus and manned by selected men who were firemen in civil life.

Fire Fighting Equipment.

Lieut. L. F. Pape, Q. M. C., who has had charge of the plans, said:

"Our big water tank holds 350,000 gallons, and we have a reservoir with a capacity of 300,000 gallons. There are 207 fire hydrants in the camp, fed by seven inch mains. Hooking one of our motor pumps to a hydrant, we can send a stream of 140 gallons a minute over a building 100 feet high. On short throws we can deliver 3,000 gallons a minute.

"Our signal apparatus consists of thirty-five alarm boxes. Automatic gongs will show the location of a fire and a big electric siren that is being installed will arouse the entire camp. Each barracks will have a trained fire fighting detail of two squads. Fire inspectors tour the camp twice a day."

100 Business Men Will Serve with U. S. Flyers

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—One hundred or more business men with executive experience will be sent to France to serve with the American aviation corps, caring for and directing movements of supplies, it was learned today. Hundreds of applications for the service have been received by Howard Coffin, chairman of the aircraft production board.

FORWARD! FIRST AND SEVENTH TO GO TO HOUSTON

Four Ambulance Companies Also Called to Texas.

Camp Logan, Houston, Tex., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—It is now practically certain the remaining national guard regiments and ambulance companies in Chicago will leave for Texas within a few days. The Eighth regiment, however, may not be included, for it is rumored the Negro contingent may be sent to Boston, Mass., instead of Houston.

The Chicago regiments probably would have left before this, but they have been hampered by lack of equipment and still lack complete regimental supplies.

Sighs His Relief.

A sigh of relief escaped Maj. Gen. Henry D. Todd Jr., division commander in the absence of Maj. Gen. Bell, when he was notified today the First and Seventh and the four Chicago ambulance companies were soon to start from Illinois for Camp Logan. The first of the troops should start within the next two or three days. This movement will fill the Sixty-sixth brigade of infantry and put it in a position to be reorganized.

In response to an inquiry from the war department Maj. Gen. Todd replied he could take care of all the guard regiments assigned to his division at this time.

The One Hundred and Twenty-second field artillery is to lose Capt. John A. Holabird, who has been appointed brigade adjutant. In all probability he will be made a major in a few weeks.

Battalion Parade.

All the infantry regiments in camp had a battalion parade and review just before retreat tonight. They will have another tomorrow night, and on the following night there will be a regimental parade and review.

The officers of the various units, notably the artillery units, are having a chance to do the work they will eventually direct. In most of the artillery drills with the dummy guns the officers form the gun crews and do all the work enlisted men usually do.

WILL BRING BACK RECORD.

Ambulance Company No. 1 will bring back a complete photographic record of their war work when they come home from the big scrap, for one of their members is Sergt. B. W. Harris. Harris was an expert micrographer before he entered the service. A micrographer is a photographer who is able to take pictures of bacteria and other minute organisms. In addition to this Harris is adept at taking pictures, both moving and stationary, of operations and similar work. Thus the company will bring back a record of all the hospital work they do in the war.

PRIVATE LOSES ENTIRE FAMILY AT THE FRONT

New Yorker Typifies the Spirit of Rainbow Division.

BY RICHARD C. BURRITT.

Camp Mills, N. Y., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—The spirit that typifies the Rainbow division is the spirit of Private Herman Hillig of the "fighting Irish" infantry, the One Hundred and Sixty-fifth of New York. It was discovered today that Hillig's entire family has been wiped out fighting for the kaiser. Two brothers were killed at the Marne and Hillig has just learned that a third brother and his father met their death in battle.

"President Wilson is right. This is a war for democracy. The kaiser is responsible—he and his government. German people like my family are driven to the trenches like cattle. God help me to do my share to wipe out the kaiser and his government," Hillig said today.

Chill Weather Arrives.

Cold fall weather has hit Camp Mills. Soldiers are bundled up in their overcoats. Those accustomed to a warmer climate have had a hard time keeping warm since last night. The Illinois men went on another hike today, this time with their haversacks, and came back at a fast pace with their blood tingling.

Beginning tomorrow, the Indiana and Minnesota artillery men will be pupils under Lieut. Parkinson, formerly associated with Coach Stagg, at morning calisthenics. This new tribute to Reilly's outfit is an order from Gen. Summerall.

Private Publishes a Weekly.

Headquarters company, or a nameless member thereof, is issuing a weekly paper. Private J. R. Shaffner is said to be responsible for the editor in chief-ing. In an issue just off the press the paper carries this part paragraph apropos of the big review:

"For those who don't know what the flags with white stars that grace automobiles our generals use, we make the following explanation: One star means brigadier general; two stars, major general, and three stars a bottle of brandy."

Col. Reilly Soon May Be Brigadier General

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—A report is current that Col. Henry J. Reilly of the First Illinois artillery, now the One and Forty-ninth artillery unit in the Rainbow division, may soon be made a brigadier general and transferred to either the intelligence department or made an instructor of artillery practice. Col. Reilly was formerly a regular army officer.

GERMAN DISARMAMENT.

A peace which requires as its precedent or condition the scrapping of the British navy may be regarded as about as distant as the dismemberment of the British empire. We may assume that when the British are willing to accept the history of their empire as closed they will be willing to surrender control of the sea to agreement, not being compelled to surrender it to force.

When they have done this they will be willing to submit the future of their insular kingdom to the instability of human agreements and to submit their security and sustenance to the good will which a treaty among nations may declare to be the proper control for the future relations of men.

Germany, in the concessions which Germans think should bring peace and would cement the elements of the world in affection, will accept limitation of armaments and the substitution of reason for force. Limitation applies to sea power as well as land power. If Germany reduces her army to constabulary proportions and turns Essen into a sewing machine factory Great Britain must junk the powerful battleships which give her the power to say what shall be carried on the seas, when and where.

Freedom on the seas is a condition which always prevails in peace and never prevails in war. The sea is a public common in time of peace with none but regulations for public safety controlling it. It is a private domain in time of war, controlled by the greatest naval power then existing, controlled so far as the greatest naval power can control it, and that, in the present case of Great Britain, is virtually absolute.

What is called navalism by enemies of Great Britain may be as great a menace, potentially, as what is called militarism by enemies of Germany. American opinion, however, does not regard the British navy as a danger to peaceful conditions and it has come to regard the German army as one. In the United States we have had no fear that Great Britain would use its naval superiority to overturn established conditions. It has been regarded as the guaranty of conditions rather than a threat against them.

Whenever Great Britain is at war its navy will close the seas to such extent as may be necessary for British purposes. This will be the case, regardless of nation or time, whenever war exists and for war purposes freedom of the seas is a meaningless phrase. The first nation which could obtain control would exercise it for its purposes. It is Great Britain's first requirement of security to be that nation.

When Germany proposes limitation of both army and navy forces it suggests, so far as it is affected, merely a return to conditions which prevailed sixty and seventy years ago when small armies were sufficient not only for peace times but for war times in Europe. For Great Britain it suggests the acceptance of conditions which have not prevailed, with British will, at any time in the history of the British empire.

Americans may say that they are not interested in the continuance of the British empire; that as an institution it is no more holy in their opinion than a colonizing German empire would be. But they are interested in attempts to undermine, here in the United States, the position of America's strongest ally.

It might as well be suggested to the United States that a peace treaty should abrogate America's asserted right to guardianship of territories outside its administration; that the Monroe doctrine should be regarded as nonexistent and the privilege of any nation to interfere in the western hemisphere should not be regulated by the United States.

Germany could remain strong without a great army and great armaments in being. They can be called into being. The burden of maintaining them would be escaped. The possibility of getting them would remain. The lack of adequate military forces does not keep people from appeal to force. It did not keep the north and south from settling their issues by war.

Armies can be raised and raised quickly in a country so well organized as Germany. Germany's relative strength would not be impaired by a general agreement to limit military establishments, but the elimination of the British navy would subject the British empire to the control of a world court. It would continue to exist only by the consent of other nations represented in the arbitration scheme of settlement of international disputes.

The German peace as thus far outlined would mean a complete winning of the war for Germany, the destruction of her most hated enemy, relief from the necessity of maintaining great military establishments during the time of recovery from the waste of this war, and a wide open opportunity for a return to the practice of breaking agreements and assaulting neighbors.

Such a peace would make Germany a greater menace than ever before. It is offered as a way to a land of love. The only purpose it could serve in the United States would be to confuse American opinion.

THE NEW GUARD.

Chicago has been given a chance to see the men of the new state guard, the local regiment, the Eleventh, of the force raised to take the place of the national guard which has passed on into federal service. There is reason for commending the legislature for the foresight which made preparation and appropriation for this. The three new regiments have been armed and equipped by an appropriation of $750,000. They are available for guard duty in the state.

The men have had intensive training and have shown themselves eager and efficient. The appearance of the Eleventh regiment in its march through Chicago streets was evidence to disturbers that the state has not been stripped of its available military force by the departure of the old guard.

This was the proper fashion in which to meet the local needs and the men who have joined the new organization, many of them under or over military age, are serving usefully and as best they can serve.

PESTILENCE AS A WEAPON.

The typewritten note discovered with bottles of microbes at Bucharest was in German and read, "Inclosed 4 phials for horses, 4 for cattle. Each phial sufficient for 200 head. To be introduced, if possible, directly into the animals' throats; if not, into their fodder." On examination the bottles were found to contain cultures of anthrax and glanders.

This was diabolical, of course, but we fail to understand the astonishment with which the news has been received. Is it baser essentially to make war on dumb brutes in Roumania than on trees in northern France? And were horses and cattle to have been the main victims? Was the ultimate object to produce an epidemic among human beings?

There is something unutterably repulsive, to be sure, in the spectacle of a nation employing its bacteriologists in efforts to promote pestilence. Chemists and engineers have long been servants of the war office everywhere; we are accustomed to that; but we have entertained a notion that it was the business of physicians to cure, not kill. Yet is this the first time German medical experts have undertaken to slay in cold blood?

To us the amazing thing about the news from Bucharest is not its assumed novelty. It is not its pretense that the affair is more shameful than a hundred others. It is the colossal stupidity of it. As the war goes on and scruples gradually diminish, there is a chance of Germany's being paid back in her own coin. Why not? The allies hesitated to use gas at first. They hesitated to use liquid fire at first.

LABOR AND WAR SUPPLIES.

The ironworkers' strike in San Francisco appears to have been settled, but an agreement was reached only after the president had intervened with an appeal for "the patriotic coöperation of the workmen and their leaders." This strike, it is said, tied up government contracts for shipbuilding amounting to $150,000,000. There are other strikes now in progress at Portland and Seattle which likewise involve government contracts for many millions of dollars.

The emergency growing out of the shortage of ocean tonnage requires no elaboration. The necessity for an uninterrupted shipbuilding program is everywhere conceded. Nevertheless that program is being constantly hindered by labor controversies.

It is apparent that these controversies, not only in the shipbuilding industry but in other industries engaged in the production of war supplies, may easily become so numerous that executive intervention will no longer be able to cope with them. Even on the assumption that the president may be as uniformly successful as in the San Francisco strike, the interruption of production, brief though it may be, cannot be regarded as negligible.

In all these controversies labor is not unlikely to accuse the manufacturers of seeking to use the government contract as a club to coerce submission. In certain instances that may be true. On the other hand, the manufacturers may be right in accusing employés of unpatriotic conduct in going on strike.

But there should be no occasion for recriminations of this kind. A system should be worked out to take care of these controversies before they reach the stage of a lockout or strike. An agitation has been started for compulsory arbitration. We may be sure that agitation will grow in volume unless a general agreement providing for a new system is voluntarily effected.

BOOKS FOR THE TROOPS.

The people of the country are asked to furnish $1,000,000 for the building and equipment of libraries for camps, cantonments, field hospitals, and troop ships. Wherever the American soldier goes he is to find that provision has been made for satisfying and helpful employment of his leisure.

The work of raising this money is undertaken by the library war council, appointed by Secretary Baker. Chicago is asked for $100,000 of the amount. The country has succeeded, by the coöperation of individuals, in many activities directed to obtain comforts for the troops and to meet, as nearly as possible, the needs of normal life where men are living under abnormal conditions.

Volunteer effort is providing tobacco, woolen articles, and various little additions to equipment which mean satisfaction for the men. Libraries are important. Germany, Great Britain, and France have recognized the need and have supplied it. The United States must do so. The organization which will undertake this service has as its general and local officers men of high standing and there is absolute assurance that the money contributed will be used not for the purposes of management and the expenses of the campaign for books but for the purchase of the books and the establishment of the libraries.

Success in this work will mean a great deal to the men. The libraries will be gifts from the American people and will be appreciated. A dollar will provide a book and keep it in circulation.

Editorial of the Day

DO NOT BANK ON A GERMAN REVOLT.

[From the Illinois State Journal.]

Though the press carries much speculation concerning a prospective revolt, which is to bring about the democratization of Germany, there is little real news on which to base any such hope.

That there is under way a political movement favorable to the reform element in the reichstag is true, but it is the same sort of movement which brought Michaelis to the fore. At best it will mean only a few changes in the personnel of the government. It will not insure the creation of a government responsive to or responsible to the people.

If there existed any hope of an early revolution in Germany, it fell along with Riga. So long as Germany's armies are winning victories abroad, it is not to be expected that there will be any widespread dissatisfaction among the people at home. They may be tired of the war, and they may be heartily sick of kings and princes, but they will not repudiate their rulers while the latter are fighting successful battles. Rulers who lead can continue to rule until their leadership brings actual disaster.

No matter how frequently Germany may shift chancellors or other officers, the genuine movement for the democratization of that country will not begin until Germany is decisively defeated in a military way. To bring about a democratic Germany the country must go through the same process as that which Russia is experiencing. New forms of government are erected on the ruins of old governments.

IN considering the dirty work of accredited German agents in the United States, and in recalling the Zabern and like incidents, it should be kept in mind that "we have no quarrel with the German people," a gentle and lovable tribe existing somewhere in central Europe.

WHILE a memorial service was being held for Paul Bentley, wearer of the croix de guerre, Prof. Scott Nearing and his crowd were conducting a public meeting with the object (none the less certain if undesigned) of bringing about the death of other young men in the service of their country. Thus we may see how the world wags.

A FREQUENT question since the war began is, "Why are there so many dam fools in the faculties of American universities?" Chancellor Williams of Wooster turns light on the mystery. Eminent educators who are also dam fools are hypermorons, who are intellectual but not truly intelligent. He says of these queer beings:

"The hypermoron may laugh in imitation of others, but he has no original humor and very little original wit. The cause for this is that original wit and humor require unusual combinations of factors; but the very nature of the hypermoron is that he does not arrange and perceive such combinations. When the hypermoron does cause laughter from some speech or action, usually he resents it. But when a normal man unconsciously does or says something laughable, he himself shares in making sport of himself. Though at times amiable, the hypermoron invariably takes himself so seriously as in a long acquaintance to become tiresome.

SMALL TOWN DEMONS INCARNATE.

[Correspondence from Buckhannon, W. Va.]

In the estimation of your correspondent, one of the lowest and most deprived act that any one can commit is to make a grave yard the rendevous for immortality and vandalism. Such has been done and is still being carried on in the Heavner cemetery in Buckhannon. Graves have been visited and flowers removed, rest seats have been broken and parties have met here to have a "gay time" while every thing is dead to the world. Shame on such actions, for soon, very soon, thou too will be as lowly as those you have desecrated by your evil acts. Then may God have pity on your poor soul. The rest house or pavilion at this cemetery has been used for love feasts and honey-guzzling. One seat has been broken and "warning notices" have been torn from there places, all of which is a very serious offense in the eyes of the law, and as some of these parties are known you may expect the prosecuting attorney to give them some attention at the coming term of Upshur court.

ASSUME that the war will last another three years, and then estimate how much the race will be set back if free speech, so called, is repressed in the United States. Think you that the race would continue to totter along? So do we.

SONG.

The wind is chill upon the wold,
The cricket sings no more,
While blown leaves huddle, dry and old,
About my door.

Alas! for song, for beauty, dead;
Alas! that life is brief—

No last sere leaf.

The cricket chirps until it dies,
The leaves, until they pass,
Are gay; 'tis only man that sighs
"Alas, alas!"

Souls in Dressing Gowns.

(From a review of Chekhov's short stories.)

The worst result of the dressing gown attitude toward life is not its moral stultification, but its infinite ennui. Chekhov shows us how the instinct for comfort, physical and mental, is the root of commonplaceness, the mainspring of the bourgeois. As soon as a man gives way to it he finds the world, outside its immediate relation to himself, uninteresting, and becomes in his turn uninteresting, except to the part of the world which makes its profit out of him. Whether Chekhov did it with premeditation or not, no one has analyzed more acutely than he the psychology of the bore. He is simply a man who has retreated so far within his dressing gown as to see nothing but the lining.

THE SUSPENSE WAS AWFUL.

[From the Unity, Sask., Courier.]

It has been so long since we attempted any editorial writing that we feared to venture last week, but the appreciative remarks of several of our readers lead us to believe that our hand has not yet lost its cunning, or our mind the faculty of reason.

LA FOLLETTE complains that his remarks were misconstrued. The polecat might file a like protest when the odor is complained of. One is as easily misconstrued as the other.

SOME one is curious about a ballad concerning the mill between Heenan and Sayers, in which these lines occur:

"Bash him on the boko, dot him on the snitch!
Such a mighty fighter, there never was sich."

We hope this gem of song may not be lost.

HOW MEASLES SPREADS.

DR. HUBBARD of the New York state department of health tells this story. On April 1 Mrs. R. and her daughter, Dorothy, traveled to a New York city from Dayton, O. While on the train they noticed a child coughing and sneezing. Two weeks after arriving at their destination Dorothy developed a cold and a few days later broke out with measles.

The case was promptly reported and the health officer got a list of all the children with whom Dorothy had been in contact just before she became sick and while the family thought she was suffering from a cold only. There were M. T. and R. P., who had played with Dorothy on the street, F. A., who passed Dorothy on the street one week before she broke out, and F. J. and A. J., who played with Dorothy in the house, besides several children who had had measles.

The health officer quarantined these seven children who had been in contact. The children who had had measles were not quarantined. On April 30 F. J. and A. J. came down with the measles. The health officer was on the job. No other susceptible persons were exposed and the threatened epidemic was brought to an end.

This little city had been free from measles for some time and there was lots of measles material there.

There are several lessons to be learned from this little experience. The first is that children with bad colds should not travel on trains. There is a fair chance that what today appears to be a cold may be a case of measles tomorrow or the next day. Measles, when in the cold stage, is highly contagious. Such contact as takes place on a railroad train is capable of spreading the disease.

The second lesson is that the danger is proportionate to the intimacy of contact as a rule. F. A., who passed Dorothy on the street, escaped. F. J. and A. J., who played with her in the house, got the disease.

The third is that an active health department can stop an epidemic of measles although it starts in a boarding house if the family or the physician will report the disease promptly and everybody will obey orders.

The outlook is that we will have a lot of measles this winter. One or two million young men gathered from all over the country will be living in groups of one thousand or more in barracks and military camps. A fair proportion of them will be men who have never had measles. One estimate is that 17.9 per cent of adults have never had measles. Measles will break out in many of these camps. As the men will be quartered in large rooms, some holding as many as 140, the disease will spread. Visitors will bring measles into the barracks and tents. In turn, visitors will carry the infection into civil life. The winter of 1917-18 is certain to be a bad measles season.

The English health authorities always have been disposed to let measles go uncontrolled. Since the war has been on English papers are constantly saying that the English authorities must change their attitude toward measles.

And now coming back to the third lesson from this New York experience—an active health department can control measles if the cases are reported promptly and quarantine is obeyed.

EAT BEFORE YOU SLEEP.

T. A. D. writes: "I was bothered with insomnia and I tried different ways to overcome it. I tried lying in various positions, but to no avail. One night I arose and ate a slice of home made bread and went back to bed. In a short time I was sound asleep. I have tried this several times and it has never failed me. This may be a simple thing to do, but its results satisfied me."

REPLY.

SWELLING ON EYELID.

Miss H. M. writes: "I am in my forties and lately a little white swelling has come on my eyelids. I have tried to squeeze it out and think I did reduce it a little, but not much, and it is getting larger. What is the cause and how can it be removed permanently, if at all?"

REPLY.

I think you had better let these small harmless growths alone. If you must get rid of them, have them cut out. Do not squeeze them or otherwise irritate them—a good rule to follow with all growths except pimples.

TREATMENT FOR CANCER.

Mrs. J. C. B. writes: "1. Will medicines cure a cancer or is the knife the only remedy? 2. Will infection be liable to people of the household who use the same towel as a person who has a small cancer on the lip?"

REPLY.

1. Medicines will not cure. X-rays, radium, cautery, and plasters cure a certain percentage. Operation is advisable in suitable cases.
2. No.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

[Copyright: 1917: By the Brentwood Co.]

EMPEROR WILLIAM'S savage hatred and contempt for the Roman Catholic church, which cause the expressions of respect and veneration contained in his reply last week to the peace proposals of the pope to appear so hypocritical, are recalled to mind by the very brief announcement in the European papers just to hand of the demise at Frankfort-on-the-Main of his kinswoman, the octogenarian Dowager Landgravine of Hesse, the only member of the reigning house of Prussia who at the time of her death was of the Roman Catholic faith.

The landgravine, who was a niece of old Emperor William, the only daughter of his younger brother, Prince Charles of Prussia, and a sister therefore of the late Field Marshal Prince Frederick Charles of Prussia, to whom Bazaine surrendered Metz in the Franco-German war of 1870, was converted in 1901 to Roman Catholicism by the late Archbishop Ignatius Komp of Friburg-in-Brisgau, at one time rector of the seminary at Fulda, and one of the most celebrated prelates of his day.

When the kaiser received the news of the conversion of the old dandgravine, whom he always addressed as "aunt," he wrote her a letter in which he overwhelmed her with bitter reproaches for abandoning the Lutheran church, denounced the Roman Catholic faith as "idiotic superstition" [alberner Aberglaube] and wound up by saying, "I hate from the very bottom of my heart this religion which thou hast embraced, and which I shall always persecute, and endeavor to suppress."

Not only did this remarkable letter find its way into the German press, where, some fifteen or sixteen years ago, it was the subject of much discussion and of attention both at home and abroad, without ever being repudiated or denied, but shortly before the war the memory of its existence was revived by the publication in the German press of a letter written by Baroness Emilie von Ameluxen, one of the leaders of old Catholic aristocracy of Hesse and of Westphalia and the closest friend and confidante of the landgravine, in which she stated that when William II. received the news of the princess' conversion to Roman Catholicism in 1901, he wrote to her a perfectly "abominable" [haesslicher] letter; the baroness also expatiated on the complete estrangement of the emperor and empress from their aged kinswoman, and the many slights and affronts which she had subsequently to endure at their hands.

For the German empress is even still more prejudiced than her husband against the Roman Catholic church, and has on many occasions gone out of her way to publicly give perfectly gratuitous and unnecessary expressions of her unfriendliness towards this faith, to which no less than a third of her husband's subjects belong.

It is worthy of note that when Archbishop Komp of Friburg died, all his papers were seized within an hour of his demise by the authorities of Friburg on peremptory orders received direct from the kaiser, to whom the documents were dispatched, unread, unexamined and under heavy seal.

The object of this measure was undoubtedly the determination of the emperor to secure possession of all the letters addressed by the landgravine to the prelate, who, following her conversion, remained her spiritual adviser, became the confidant of all her troubles, and with whom she was in constant and most intimate correspondence. It may safely be assumed that the kaiser will have taken similar measures on the demise of the landgravine to seize her correspondence.

The princess was a very wealthy woman and a very clever one, extremely independent, and during the last seventeen years of her life never took any trouble to conceal her pronounced dislike of her cousin the kaiser and her marked disapproval of almost everything that he did or said.

Most of her money will go to her eldest son, the blind landgrave of Hesse, so well known as a composer and pianist in London and Paris, two cities in which he spent ten months of every year until the beginning of the war, and to her daughter, Princess Sibylle of Hesse, who in 1898 contracted with her mother's approval but in defiance of the kaiser's wishes a morganatic marriage with a cavalry captain of the name of Baron Frederick Vincke. It was only some years afterwards that the emperor gave his reluctant sanction as commander-in-chief, without which no marriage of any officer of the German army is valid.

King George is determined to eliminate everything Teuton, or suggestive in the slightest way of Germany, from the reigning house of England. Not content with transforming the name of his dynasty from Guelph-d'Este to Windsor, and causing all the English members of his family to drop their German titles, renouncing for himself that of Duke of Saxony, which he had inherited from his grandfather, the Prince Consort, he has now given orders for the change of the historic motto of the Prince of Wales, from the German "Ich dien" (I serve), to the Welsh "Eich dyn," which means "your man."

It may be recalled that when Edward the black prince found the body of the blind King John of Bohemia on the battlefield of Crecy, he removed from the dead monarch's helmet the three ostrich feathers by which it was adorned, and assumed them as his own crest, along with the king's German motto, "Ich dien." That is what history teaches us, and ever since the princes of Wales have used this crest, and the motto.

Others, however, contend that the motto of the British heir antedates the battle of Crecy by more than half a century, and that for its origin we must go back to the year 1284, when, during a stay of King Edward I at the castle of Carnarvon, his wife, Queen Eleanor of Castile, gave birth to a son.

The recently subdued chieftains of Wales did not relish at all the idea of being ruled in the name of the king, by some English great noble, soldier or statesman. Edward I therefore assembled them all in the great courtyard of the castle, and having inquired of them if they would be satisfied to be governed by a viceroy who was born in Wales, and could not speak a word of English, and having received from them a shout of approval, the king suddenly held up to them with both hands his new born son, with the words "eich dyn"—"your man"—then and there creating him prince of Wales. He was at the time the second son of Edward I, his elder brother's death taking place some time later.

It was only in the reign of Edward III that the dignity of the prince of Wales was revived, in honor of Edward the black prince, and has remained ever since the official title of the eldest son of the sovereign, created anew by patent for each of its holders.

Lieut. Robert Malcolm Perks of the royal British naval reserve, who has just married at Genoa an American girl, Miss Neysa Cheney, daughter of the late Rev. Dr. Cheney of New York, is the only son of Sir Robert Perks, and heir to the latter's baronetcy and immense fortune.

Few Englishmen are more widely known on this side of the Atlantic than Sir Robert, the head of the firm of C. H. Walker & Co., the contracting concern which through its branch at Ottawa has done most of the canal improvement work in Canada.

Why We Are at War

BY CLAUDE A. SWANSON OF VIRGINIA.

(From an address in the United States senate, April 4, 1917.)

THE issue is not peace or war. War has already been wantonly prosecuted against us. The issue is whether we shall accept war or abject and cowardly submission.

Before the recent outrages had we not already submitted to all that could be expected of a brave and self respecting people? Has it not been proved that the military and naval attaches of the German embassy in this country by their many and varied activities sought to use this country as a base for military operations against nations with which we were at peace? The federal authorities have clearly proven that a scheme was financed and directed from this country to incite a rebellion in India against the British government with which we are upon terms of peace and amity.

Have not officers of interned German warships violated their word of honor and escaped? German officials duly accredited to this government have been detected in issuing fraudulent passports to enable spies to enter and operate in countries at peace with us. American passports, fraudulent and counterfeited, have been found on German agents. Persons have been tried and convicted and sentenced for using our territory as a base for providing German warships with coal and other supplies, in violation of the statutes of the United States and of our neutrality.

Our territory has been used by German officials to organize efforts to wreck bridges in Canada. Bombs have been prepared and sought to be placed on allied ships in our harbors. German officials, in violation of our laws, have sought to control employment in munition industries and thus cripple or destroy these.

For several years we have known of German activities in Mexico prejudicial to our interests and seeking to embroil us with that distracted country. The recent publication of the Zimmerman letter proved the efforts being made in Mexico by the German government to incite that nation to war against us.

This letter reached the lowest depth of national turpitude. The German ambassador, while enjoying our hospitality, was told that he should endeavor to combine Mexico and Japan with Germany in warfare against the United States, pledging the German government to despoil us of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, which should be given to Mexico.

We have long suspected a disposition on the part of Germany to disregard the Monroe doctrine and extend to the western hemisphere her territorial aspirations. The Zimmerman letter proves that this suspicion is well founded. It indicates an enmity which if not boldly resented by us portends greater troubles for the future.

Now is the time to teach this mischief-making government that our territorial integrity cannot be made the subject of war bargaining; that though we are a patient and peace-loving people, we will never become graduates of the school of cowardly submission. This infamous letter itself constitutes sufficient cause for war. In the light of these recent transactions, we can understand now the presence of the German fleet at Manila. Its purpose was to seize and hold the fruits of our victory.

These wrongs and outrages are sufficient to call for the resentment of any brave and high-spirited people. But the advocates of peace would endure still greater affronts and surrender still more important rights.

The only wise, manly and honorable course for us is to accept the conditions of warfare precipitated by Germany. We are not waging war against the German people, but against its military and autocratic government, which has inflicted these many injuries upon us and severed the ties of friendship which have for more than a century bound us to the German people.

THE FRIEND OF THE INSURED

STOCK HAS SOME VALUE.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—[To the Friend of the Insured.]—A owns $500 worth of stock in a small life insurance company of this state, whose financial condition in later years has been on a decline, and which is, in his opinion, liable some time to go into bankruptcy. In case the company should fail, would the stockholders in this case have to make up the losses caused the policy-holders, and would you, under the circumstances outlined, recommend that the stock be disposed of at any price? The stock, as far as is known, has no present market value, but a buyer might be found.
A. E. W.

If the stock was issued for cash at par or better, there is no further liability on the stockholders. Nearly any man would get rid of the stock in a company he expected to fail, but A may be mistaken. As long as a company retains its license to write business its stock has some value, as its license depends on its financial condition.

HAS $27,708 SURPLUS.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—[To the Friend of the Insured.]—I have an accident policy with the Clover Leaf Casualty company of Jacksonville, Ill., and have been trying to find out about the company's rating before renewing my policy. Can you give me the information? F. J. K.

The company showed by its last report assets of $172,482, capital of $125,000, and net surplus of $27,708.

EMPLOYES' ACCIDENT INSURANCE.

Paris, Ill., Sept. 11.—[To the Friend of the Insured.]—We have just installed a shear with which to cut up our scrap iron. Before beginning work with it we have attempted to obtain accident insurance for our employés, but have failed. There are other concerns using just such machines that have the insurance we desire. Will you please advise us as to a reliable insurance company that will be certain to give us the insurance we wish?
M. S.

Insurance companies judge each application for workmen's compensation insurance by itself and it is impossible to say that any will certainly be accepted. Try the insurance agents in Paris. Presumably all insurance companies licensed are reliable.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

COAL FOR POOR PEOPLE—AN APPEAL.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—[Editor of the Tribune.]—Now that winter is soon to be at our door our thoughts naturally turn to the poor, the miserable and forgotten, whom, it is said, we have always with us. I write to ask your assistance in once more enlisting the help of the Consumers Coal Co.—God bless them! To how many of the poor, who come under my observation, they have been a constant friend! How many a family they have kept from feeling "the icy teeth that tear!"

A child—a little boy—stood at my desk one bitter cold morning last winter. His lips were quivering with suppressed sobs and his thin fingers picked nervously at his frail jacket. On questioning I found that mother was sick in bed, that father was tramping the street, looking for work, that Anna cried at night because she had no job, that little Marie was just home from the hospital, and that the two little ones were freezing with the cold. Quickly a small sled was borrowed, a free coal certificate, then issued by the Consumers company, filled out, and the boy sent to see what he could do. A half hour later, the child once more stood before me, but this time beaming with joy. He had been given 50 pounds of coal by the Consumers company, [note how promptly the relief came], a fire had been started in the old broken stove, the little ones were warm, the baby's milk had been heated, the baby fed, and the sick mother, relieved and consoled, was asleep. What charity could be more of a solace and a blessing!

Late last winter, the Consumers' company stopped its distribution of free coal certificates. The cold weather was nearly over and no great hardship resulted. But if, in the face of rising prices, the company could be induced to issue the free coal certificates once more, inestimable good would result and hundreds of helpless ones made happy.

Kindly help me to bring this to the attention of the firm that has so long stood like Hope by the side of the poor.

THE PRICE OF WHEAT.

Michigan City, Ind., Sept. 21.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I notice in an editorial that complaint is made that farmers do not sell their wheat readily and the inference is drawn that they are holding for higher than the government price of $2.20 a bushel. In my locality farmers are not paid this price, but they are told that this price of $2.20 is for wheat at seaport and the local elevators are buying at around $2.00 per bu. Is it true that price of $2.20 does not apply to local sales? If so, it may account partly for lack of wheat being offered. Even if it is not true it would also account for the holding, because farmers generally think the price of $2.20 was intended to be paid at place of production in much the same way as coal prices were fixed at the place of production, and therefore think that any price paid by local elevators below $2.20 is so much taken unjustly from them.
W. H. LAYWOOD.

THE NEGLECTED NEGRO.

Quincy, Ill., Sept. 23.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Of all the different nationalities in our big free country the American Negro gets the least help or sympathy from us. The American people pride themselves on being well informed on all subjects that point the way of their country's advancement, yet they are sadly ignorant of the progress being made by men like Dr. Du Bois and others who are working under such overwhelming odds to help and encourage their race.

Why not take a broader view of our colored citizens, if not in a Christian spirit, at least in a patriotic one?

LOYALTY FORCES GIVE B. B. CHANCE TO BE A GOOD BOY

Drop Prosecution in Hope "He Will Be Born Again."

Prosecution of Mayor Thompson by the local loyalty forces because of his protection of the peace council agitators has been temporarily abandoned.

Instead the leaders will lend their moral support to the activities of State's Attorney Hoyne in his search for graft in the city administration.

H. H. Merrick, president of the local branch of the National Security league, made the announcement yesterday.

"We are well satisfied with the effect of the movement against the mayor following his protection of those who would stir up discord and divide our people," he said.

"One thing to be noted is that his newspaper backer, the Republican, has ceased criticising the government's war attitude. It has ceased to attack the president for sending troops to France. It has ceased to discuss the wisdom of the United States in entering the war. In fact, it is tame—very tame—these days.

"May Be Born Again."

"There is a reason.

"Along with this change of attitude of the mayor's newspaper backer it is to be noted that the mayor himself apparently has experienced a change of heart. Slowly the process of regeneration seems to be working along. He has got a long way to go, for, as it was said in Biblical times, he has to be born again.

"But he displays symptoms of improvement. It has been some 1,900 years since the world witnessed miracles. Perhaps another can be performed in making the mayor over so completely that he will think only of the great cause of the American government.

"In the meantime, Citizen Maclay Hoyne seems to be doing fairly well, and we shall watch his work closely.

Still on the Job.

"Prosecution of the mayor for his defiance of Gov. Lowden and rushing to the support of the dissenters and those who would divide us as a people and impair our war strength probably will not be carried further at this time.

"We are still on the job, however, and will not hesitate to do everything in our power, within the law, to protect Chicago against any and all forms of disloyalty.

"There is nothing yellow about the members of the Security league and the loyal people of Chicago. They will act promptly should occasion arise."

Senate Gets War Bill to Exceed $8,000,000,000

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—The urgency deficiency bill, containing appropriations and authorizations for expenditures totaling $7,992,000,000 to pay the cost of carrying on the war, was reported to the senate today.

As the bill stands it contains additional appropriations of $779,613,714, including $800,000 for the Rock Island (Ill.) arsenal, over the amount of the bill as it was passed by the house and increased authorizations amounting to $70,550,000.

With the addition of several small increases when the bill reaches the floor of the senate it is expected that it will contain more than $8,000,000,000 by the time it goes to conference.

U. S. to Take 300,000 Tons of Great Lakes Shipping

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—That it is the intention of the shipping board to withdraw 300,000 tons of shipping from the great lakes and put it into the coastwise trade was revealed today in the report of the merchant marines committee of the house on the Alexander bill permitting foreign ships to engage in coastwise trade.

This tonnage is to be withdrawn between now and the close of lake navigation, the report stated, and will include all the tonnage that can come through the Welland canal which might be serviceable in the coastwise trade.

My, How the Money Rolls In for $100,000 War Library Drive

"The Tribune" will be glad to receive and acknowledge subscriptions sent to this paper for the $100,000 war library fund now being collected by Chicago citizens.

"They are all giving."

Those were the words telephoned throughout the day to F. H. Rawson, chairman of the war library fund committee, which began yesterday its campaign for the $100,000 fund to buy books for the soldiers. No definite figures were turned in, but indications from nearly all the captains were that Chicago is making a good response to the call for book money.

There will be a meeting this afternoon of the team captains in the directors' room of the Union Trust company to check up on the subscriptions of the first two days of the campaign. It is believed that the men will bring in reports that nearly half of the $100,000 has been subscribed.

500 Factories Solicited.

Posters and subscription blanks were sent to 500 factories and an employé has been appointed to handle the subscriptions in each place. Department stores and other commercial houses have designated a person to accept subscriptions both from employés and customers.

A chain campaign among the women was started by Mrs. Walter D. Moody, which is expected to realize many thousands of dollars. Mrs. Moody invited ten women to her home. Each was asked to contribute $1 and to hold a similar party for ten other women, each of whom is to contribute $1 and then invite ten of her friends in.

The loop banks subscribed one-twentieth of the fund sought on the first day of the campaign, when $5,025 was turned over. Subscriptions of $10,000 were announced before the actual campaign opened.

As soon as the money has been subscribed the government will start work on the library buildings. Every camp and cantonment will be provided with a library 40x100 feet.

AUTHOR ADOPTS SMOKE-SON AND SPLITS, 50-50

Ellis Parker Butler Has "Own Tobacco Boy" in France.

Ellis Parker Butler of the Vigilantes, the author of "Pigs Is Pigs," has adopted a "tobacco boy" among the United States soldiers in France as his method of putting the fifty-fifty plan into practice. After telling how cranky he gets when he cannot smoke, and how he wants to help the soldiers, Mr. Butler writes:

"I have tobacco-adopted one of the soldiers. I don't know his name, but he is my tobacco boy, my own personal nicotine soldier—my smoke son. It is like this: I wondered what I ought to do about this 'Our Boys in France tobacco fund.' First I thought I would give up tobacco and send the money to the fund, but I don't want to be murdered by meanness. Then I hit the big idea. Every time I smoke my tobacco boy over there shall smoke. He could not smoke more than I do, or he would have no time to be a soldier.

How Plan Works.

"So this is how I am going to give my tobacco boy his smokes: Every time I buy tobacco I put an equal amount into the Our Boys in France tobacco fund—a dime's worth of tobacco for me, a dime's worth of tobacco for him; a dollar's worth of tobacco for me, a dollar's worth of tobacco for him. And he will have some left over for his bunkies, because I pay 90 cents a pound for smoking tobacco and the fund can buy good tobacco at less than a third of that.

"It is easy. You can do your bit. If you are a smoker adopt a tobacco boy and pay for his smokes. Friend, your old pipe tastes twice as sweet when you know your tobacco boy over yonder is having a smoke on you at the same time."

AID THE FARMER AND THE NATION PROSPERS: PACK

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 24.—When banker and farmer unite against the middleman the country's problem will be near solution, C. L. Pack, president of the National Emergency Food Garden association, told the American Bankers' association in convention today.

"The farmer is the best friend the country has," Pack said. "If he is prosperous you bankers and all the rest of us are prosperous. The thing for you to do is to get together and smash the cornerstone of high prices. Aid the farmer over the rough spots so that he can produce more foodstuffs than ever before."

"Three million emergency gardens by city farmers have produced $350,000,000 worth of food," Pack said. "We must produce food as near the points of greatest consumption as possible, rout the middleman and cold storage men, and thus relieve the railroads."

Farmers Ask for Exemption.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—Spokesmen for the nation's organized farmers asked President Wilson today to order a more liberal application of the army draft law to farm labor in order that agriculture may do its part in the war. They urged that the government not only should exempt men who apply, but should make it its business to keep skilled farmers out of the military service and require them to remain at their posts as producers.

Nine Killed in Hurricane on Island of Jamaica

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Sept. 24.—Nine persons were killed and much property damage was caused at Port Antonio in the hurricane which struck the island of Jamaica yesterday.

PATRIOT FUCHS FORGETS TO FLY FLAG "HE LOVES"

Albert Fuchs, owner of the Chateau apartments, Broadway and Sheridan road, will not talk again for the newspapers. He delegated his son to convey this information to the reporters yesterday. He does not intend to withdraw his offers of rewards for proof of atrocities and frightfulness committed by the Germans, but wants the matter dropped.

"Now, don't you think there's been enough said about this?" questioned the younger Fuchs. "There are really no developments, and my father doesn't want to talk about it further."

Neighbors looked eagerly for the unfurling of Old Glory yesterday over the lily dotted pool in the court of the apartments, but despite Mr. Fuchs' announced purpose of erecting a flag pole, the flag he said he always got down on his knees to, didn't appear. Passers-by surveyed the German coat of arms of black and gold on the fence of the court, but something, evidently, happened to the red, white, and blue. It didn't wave. Maybe it will today.

War Profits Tax Fight Still Delays Revenue Bill

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—Although on the verge of a complete agreement on the war tax bill many times today, the senate and house conferees again failed to get together, and adjourned until tomorrow, with the hope of concluding their long struggle then.

Continued disputes over war excess profits taxation and a few minor matters blocked the agreement expected today by many of the conferees.

It is generally agreed that any agreement on war excess profits will not materially change the senate's proposed gross levy of $1,060,000,000.

Banker's Son Strong for Paris Edition of 'Tribune'

Burdette Eldred, son of B. P. Eldred, president of the Second National bank of Beloit, Wis., is working in France with the American ambulance service. In a recent letter to his father, received a few days ago, young Mr. Eldred mentions in a complimentary way the Paris edition of THE TRIBUNE. He says:

"There is a Paris edition of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE now. It is a miniature edition of four pages and is called the War Edition. It is arranged just like the big 'Trib,' has the same type, etc. It is about the same size as the Beloit College Round Table. Ring Lardner, McCutcheon, and B. L. T. contribute their share to the paper.

"It contains all of the latest war news, and is by far the best foreign edition of any American newspaper."

Boatswain Killed as Mob Makes Mistake at Speech

New York, Sept. 24.—Harry Gunn, a chief boatswain in the navy and known to his officers as one of the most patriotic men in the service, is dead today—the victim of an overpatriotic mob.

Clad in citizen's clothes, Gunn was standing in a crowd in Brooklyn listening to a recruiting speech when a man at his elbow yelled:

"To hell with the army!"

Many thought Gunn had uttered the cry. He was mobbed and fatally beaten. Thirty suspects were detained, but all have been released.

Soldier Killed by Train.

Marinette, Wis., Sept. 24.—William Williston, 23 years old, member of Company I, W. N. G., was fatally injured at Mauston, Wis., Sunday when he was struck by a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul train while crossing the track to take an incoming train. Death resulted a half hour later.

PEACE NOW BY RUSSIA SPELLS HUMILIATION

President of Duma Warns Country It Must Have a Strong Army.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 23.—[Delayed.]—Michael V. Rodzianko, president of the duma, read a statement today to the Moscow Union of Public Workers on the theme "Could Russia Conclude Peace?" In view of reports of peace negotiations, the statement was listened to with great interest.

He sought to prove that any peace which it was possible to conclude at this present juncture must humiliate Russia and he gave convincing facts why this was so. M. Rodzianko referred to the German plan to conclude a peace at Russia's cost and then expressed confidence that the entente allies would reject it. He warned Russia, however, that she must create a strong power, otherwise the nation would inevitably suffer when peace was negotiated.

LVOFF CAUSED REVOLT.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—An official explanation of the Korniloff revolt issued here today by the Russian embassy tends to confirm accounts published in Petrograd, laying blame for the trouble upon Valdimir Lvoff, the duma member who informed Premier Kerensky that Korniloff demanded that he be made dictator.

Adopted Korniloff Measures.

A statement issued by the embassy says:

"The plans advocated by Gen. Korniloff were under consideration and most of them had been adopted by the provisional government on the morning of Sept. 8, and three remaining measures were adopted, but had not been put into operation. The measures were these: The enforcement of the death penalty in the rear of the army, the widening of the territory to be considered as the theater of war, so as to enforce military law, and the enforcement of martial law in Petrograd.

"On the morning of Sept. 8 it was decided by the provisional government to adopt these measures, but that evening Vladimir Lvoff came from Gen. Korniloff with a flat demand that dictatorship be vested in him.

Name New Army Chiefs.

"After the quelling of the revolt the government faced a very difficult situation caused by the fact that the troops had a lack of confidence in their commanders and viewed many of them with suspicion. This led to many changes in command and demanded a thorough reorganization of the army.

"The practice of the soldiers' committees in judging on their own account the connection of their commanders with the Korniloff revolution had to be stopped by the government, as the government prefers to determine the culpability of the officers for itself. The present situation seems to allow the government to enforce regulations made before the Korniloff revolt. Changes are being made in administrative and army positions which will be of greatest benefit."

ARMY TRAINING CLASSES OPENED IN NIGHT SCHOOLS

Courses in Telegraphy and Signal Work Started.

The public night schools which opened last evening will furnish technical instruction in various lines desired by men who expect to be called to serve in the national army within the next few months.

Classes in telegraphy and signal corps work will be started this week, following registration last night. They will be open only to those likely to be called soon. Teachers and equipment will be provided immediately.

Other classes in automobile work, machine gun mechanics, and the simpler forms of engineering will be started as soon as there is a demand for them.

Classes for Stammerers.

One of the new features of the evening schools are classes for stammerers, which were established at the Wendell Phillips High and the Marquette school. Classes in lip reading were established in six schools.

Thirty-three schools were opened, four less than last year. Several neighborhoods have been "worked out," according to W. M. Roberts, superintendent of evening schools, because of the cessation of immigration.

Twenty thousand one hundred and thirty-two students enrolled in the schools. The Tully school failed to make a report of the number enrolled to Mr. Roberts, who estimated its enrollment at 400, making the total 20,532.

Classes were opened in these schools: North side, Jahn, Jenner, Waller, Senn, Lane; northwest side, Burr, Goethe, Mitchell, Stowe, Washington, Wells, Tulley, Schurz; west side, Goodrich, Cooper, Walsh, Marquette, Burns, Hammond, Lawson, Medill, Austin, Crane, Harrison; south side, Jones, Armour, Seward, Phillips, Englewood, Sullivan, Tilden, Bowen, and Fenger.

Good-By, Bean Bag.

A ban has been placed on the bean bag in the kindergartens until after a heavy frost in order to take every precaution against the spread of infantile paralysis.

"The danger point seems to be in the kindergartens," the notice reads, "and until the disease subsides, eliminate all activities in which children are required to sit on the floor or use articles such as bean bags which come in contact with the floor. Every effort should be made to see that the pupils' hands are kept clean and kept away from their mouths and noses."

Raymond Robins Tells of World's Faith in Russia

PETROGRAD, Sept. 24.—Raymond Robins of Chicago, head of the permanent Red Cross commission in Petrograd, and Catherine Breshkovskaya, known as the "grandmother of the revolution," spoke from the same platform this afternoon at the Tenisheff auditorium, both assuring their audience that Americans, Englishmen, and Russians had mutual faith in the ultimate outcome of Russian democracy. Mr. Robins drew a parallel between Russia's troubles today and early American history. He said the outbreaks here were nothing new in history, and urged foreign business interests to deal with new Russia on lines of economic freedom.

LA SALLE WATER LINK TO JOLIET PROJECT STARTS

Governor Names Board of Five to Carry Out Plan.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Gov. Lowden today announced the appointment of a board of water resource advisers, under the new state civil code, accompanying the announcement with a statement to the effect that the new board will take up at once the matter of securing a waterway connection between Joliet and the Illinois river at La Salle.

The board, which is accredited under the law to the department of public works, is composed of men who have long been interested in and identified with movements for the construction of an Illinois waterway. It is headed by E. S. Conway of Chicago, president of the W. W. Kimball company, one of the largest shippers in the country. The other members are Joy Morton and John T. Pirie of Chicago, George T. Page of Peoria, and Charles B. Fox of East St. Louis.

No Political Embarrassment.

Politically Messrs. Conway, Pirie, and Fox are Republicans, while Messrs. Morton and Page are Democrats, but the governor has announced that the selections were made without regard to the political effect of the appointments, and it is understood the board's work is to be performed without political embarrassment.

They are to undertake it solely as a business proposition, without regard to any considerations other than those of securing a serviceable waterway.

Mr. Conway was named because he has given much time to the waterway subject and has available a great amount of information which will be of the utmost value to the state. For the same reason, and the further fact that he has demonstrated the practicability of inland waterway transportation by operating boats on the old Illinois and Michigan canal, and the Morton salt fleets on the Hennepin canal, Mr. Morton was selected.

All Interested in Waterways.

John T. Pirie, as head of one of the greatest wholesale and retail merchandising firms of Chicago, is deeply interested in the matter of connecting the waters of the south and west with the great lakes, and so is C. B. Fox of East St. Louis, who is general manager of the Aluminum Ore company of Chicago, one of the largest waterway shippers on the Mississippi. Mr. Page is a Peoria attorney, who has been a leader in that city's efforts to improve waterway transportation through the Illinois valley.

SUNDAY JOUSTS THE DEVIL & CO. HERE IN MARCH

Churches and Drys to Join Huge Battle by Thousands.

Hitting the sawdust trail will begin in Chicago on March 10 next.

On that day Billy Sunday will open the long deferred revival by which he promises to knock Old Nick clear out of the ring and help in the final fatal kicks to slowly but stubbornly dying J. Barleycorn.

The formal announcement was made yesterday by the Rev. James E. Walker at a conference of 500 ministers representing the Chicago Church federation.

The Rev. Mr. Walker is the evangelist's advance agent.

The final decision to bring Sunday back to the city of his baseball triumphs to pitch a few fast ones to the De'il puts the wet and dry fight back on the local map.

It is planned to have the Sunday revival hitting the high spots by the time the spring election rolls around, provided the necessary signatures can be secured to the petition putting the liquor issue up to the voters.

The Sunday Volunteers.

The Rev. Mr. Walker said they would require 3,000 men and women to do the work daily in the block system, 5,000 men and women as leaders for the neighborhood prayer meetings, 1,000 men as personal workers, 5,000 men ushers, 5,000 men doorkeepers, 2,000 women for the business women's invitation committee, and 500 men secretaries to tabulate the names of those who "hit the trail."

This is only the starter, he said. They will require, when the spirit gets to work good, 50,000 men for neighborhood Bible classes, and at least fifty physicians to man the tabernacle hospital.

Biggest Plan Ever Tried.

It is the most elaborate plan ever attempted in Chicago in the way of organizing the entire city by blocks and neighborhoods for the great church fight against the "personal liberty" forces.

An immense amount of preliminary work will be undertaken by way of preparing Chicago for the coming of the evangelist. All the churches affiliated with the federation are to be organized for weeks for the special purpose of being ready to launch the initial meeting.

Free Dental Work for Army Candidates

At the request of United States Surgeon General Gorgas at Washington 100 Chicago dentists will work from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m. tomorrow, Thursday, and Friday, putting in order the teeth of Chicago men who have been selected to go into the new national army.

This is in accordance with a movement now started all over the United States by the National Dentists' association.

The work here will be done free of charge at the Northwestern Dental school at 31 West Lake street.

INSURANCE FOR FIGHTERS GAINS IN NEW MEASURE

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—A new insurance section for the administration soldiers' and sailors' civil rights bill, drafted to provide a government guarantee for one year against lapse or forfeiture of insurance policies, was agreed on today at a conference of war department officials and insurance company representatives.

It was submitted to the house and senate judiciary subcommittees, which tomorrow will resume consideration of the bill. Insurance men have protested that the section as originally drawn, requiring that the companies themselves keep policies in force, impaired contracts and was unconstitutional.

Under the new plan which, like the old one, would affect insurance contracts not exceeding a face value of $5,000, the government would deposit bonds as security for defaulted premiums, holding as its own security a first lien on the value of the policy.

The war risk insurance board would be charged with administering the section.

IN light truck and delivery car service, punctures and blowouts mean lost time, lost money and a "fractured disposition." Schedules are delayed, drivers encouraged to "loaf on the job."

The light truck or delivery car running on tires filled with ESSENKAY — instead of air and inner tubes — DEFIES the nail-spattered, glass-sprinkled alley or tram yard. It laughs at the cobblestones, ruts, rocks and scattered things that always seem to look for a tire to penetrate.

ESSENKAY Tire Filler is solid. It is elastic and resilient—as comfortable to ride on as AIR. ESSENKAY Tire Filler contains no atom of rubber. It never deteriorates, hardens or in any way alters consistency, weight or resiliency under the effects of heat, cold, water, sand, mud, pressure, friction, atmospheric or climatic conditions.

By keeping the casing properly "inflated" until worn out, ESSENKAY doubles tire mileage. The same filling may be used indefinitely, being transferred repeatedly to new casings.

No inner tube — NO AIR — and no tire troubles.

Modern methods, progress, efficiency in transport have led prominent business concerns throughout the United States and many foreign lands to adopt ESSENKAY Tire Filler, exclusively, for delivery car and converted truck service.

SOCIALIST FEAR UNITES PARTIES ON JUDGE SLATE

G. O. P. and Democrats Meet in County Conventions Monday.

The activity of the Socialists in connection with the November judicial election has come to the notice of the political managers of the two big parties and is having a stirring effect upon them. Fourteen Cook county judges are to be chosen.

In one of the intensely pro-German saloons a bet was made Saturday night that at least three of the Socialist nominees will be elected. The practical politicians, Republicans and Democrats, profess the belief that the Socialist management expects to attract to the ticket a considerable part of the so-called "German" vote in Chicago—likewise the pacifist and pseudo-pacifist vote.

The immediate effect of the situation may be to strengthen the determination of the two organizations to go through with the "fifty-fifty" ticket, renominating the old judges, five of each party, and dividing the nominations for the two new Superior court places and the two Circuit court vacancies between the two parties.

Conferences Held.

Conferences were held yesterday. There now seems to be no doubt the big party county committees, sitting as county conventions next Monday, will ratify the understanding that will be established finally before Saturday night.

The Republican convention will sit at the Hotel La Salle at 10 o'clock Monday morning and the Democrats will convene at the Hotel Sherman at the same hour.

It was reported that the membership of the Socialist party that pays regular cash dues had jumped from 5,000 to more than 23,000 in Chicago within six months. Added to this was the fact that the Socialists are holding precinct meetings all over the city. Their ticket is headed by Seymour Stedman, who was the chairman of the West Side Auditorium pacifist convention that adjourned before the arrival of the troops which Gov. Lowden sent to Chicago to prevent it.

Party Circle Influence.

The Socialists will be voting by marking a cross in the party circle that heads their ticket. Complication is added by the difficulty in getting Republicans to vote for Democrats and Democrats to vote for Republicans.

The city hall faction of the Republicans stands pat for the nomination of Anton Zeman. The Brundage and Dever leaders admit the reasonableness of putting a city hall man on the ticket if there is to be a real harmony, but they oppose Zeman. The Progressive element insists on being recognised by the nomination of Harold L. Ickes, who now seems to have the edge over Zeman and is likely to be nominated unless the city hall offers some other candidate.

Democratic troubles center around an agreement already made that Chilton Wilson of the Sixth ward shall have one of the Circuit court vacancies. First Assistant State's Attorney Frank Johnston Jr. is an active candidate and would be slated without a tremor if Wilson would retire. There remains a strong possibility that Mr. Johnston will be nominated in the place of Superior Court Judge Clarence N. Goodwin, who seems to have been deserted by his original backers in the Dunne-O'Connell camp.

The nomination of Oscar Hebel by the Republicans and of Jacob H. Hopkins by the Democrats for the two new Superior court judgeships is conceded by all hands.

HIST!!

Here's Dark, Deep Mystery Brought to Our Attention by Our Ever Vigilant Constabulary and Their Fantastic Explanation.

Hanna Hertl

MYSTERY MARK ON BABY'S ARM MAY BE WARNING

'Double X,' Scrawled by Kidnapers, Puzzles Police.

With a "double X" scrawled in large letters on her arm, her clothing completely changed, and with her hair clipped close, 3 year old Anna Hertl, daughter of Michael Hertl, South Halsted street saloonkeeper, was returned last night after being mysteriously missing since Saturday morning.

The police suspect a new band of criminals, who use the mark as a warning, may be operating on the west side. The father of the child, however, declares Anna was kidnaped by two of a trio of men who held up his saloon a week ago last night. He believes the motive was revenge. One of the holdup men was captured and Hertl identified him.

Completely Bewildered.

The little girl was completely bewildered when a friend of the father found her at Halsted street and West Nineteenth place, within a block from her home, at 2001 South Halsted street.

The return of the child to her parents, curiously, followed closely a spiritual appeal. Mr. and Mrs. Hertl, after searching tirelessly all day for the child, went to the church at Nineteenth place and Halsted street. They knelt for a while in prayer, and then returned home. Shortly afterward a friend left the church. He stumbled over something in the doorway.

"I want my mamma—I want my mamma," came the cry of a child. Bending over, the man saw it was Hertl's little daughter.

Clothing All Changed.

When the child was returned home it was discovered that she wore brown stockings instead of the black ones in which she disappeared and black shoes instead of her own white topped ones. Her underwear was altogether different from that she had worn and, brushing up her sleeve, the mother discovered the scrawled sign on her arm.

Edwin S. Prouty Will Head West Park Police

Edwin S. Prouty, until four days ago a sergeant of police, now possesses the rank of captain and the command of the west park police. Capt. Prouty headed the civil service list for promotion to the post, made vacant on May 21 by the death of Capt. Patrick Wall, and the west park board at its last meeting announced his appointment.

MRS. LA PEARL AND GARRISON LAY DOWN ARMS

Mrs. Nellie La Pearl, sometime queen of the bareback riders, who for nearly twelve hours held at bay Sergt. Michael Grady and varying numbers of policemen at her flat at 210 East Forty-sixth street, capitulated yesterday at 10 a. m.

Mrs. La Pearl was held in the Fiftieth street station on charges of violating the Kate Adams law. Her companions, "Mary Doe," said to be Mrs. E. B. Carrier of Minneapolis, living apart from her husband and using a stage name of Van Essa Carthington, and June Moore, a singer, were booked on a charge of being members of a disorderly house.

The surrender came after Sergt. Grady appeared with warrants against Mrs. La Pearl and her companions. Earlier in the siege a well dressed, middle aged man emerged from the flat and was arrested. He was booked as Otto Grundy of 1620 North Halsted street, a broker.

Sergt. Grady, having demanded entrance when he declared he saw men entering the flat from constantly arriving automobiles, kept up his siege all night. Mrs. La Pearl brandished a revolver and promised to shoot the first policeman who attempted to enter without a warrant.

HUSBAND WON'T TELL JUDGE NAME OF "OTHER LADY"

John Neidl of 4201 West Twenty-fourth place stood before Judge Stelk with the accusing glare of his wife upon him.

"I couldn't tell you the name of this—now—other lady," said Neidl, "because I wouldn't break my word to a lady."

"O, he shouldn't worry about me," said Mrs. Neidl. "And, besides, he's got others, too, I guess."

"That's right," broke in Joseph Gerhardt, a bailiff. "I saw him in a street car this morning holding hands with a jane."

"O, I just picked her up," said Neidl. "But the one Mrs. Neidl ketched me with in the park—now—I couldn't tell."

"Take a week in jail and see how you feel about it," said the judge.

BURNHAM'S GAY SUNDAY BRINGS A "MORNING AFTER"

Mayor Patten and Others Called to Explain to State's Attorney.

Because Burnham, ribald city of the southern rim, kicked the lid sky high Sunday, "Johnny" Patten, boy mayor, and his city fathers have been asked to come into the city tomorrow and explain themselves to the state's attorney's office. But Burnham wasn't alone.

Otto's place, out at the end of Washington boulevard and a hundred feet or so beyond the Oak Park line, came out in all its pristine glory and scuttles of suds came 'cross the bar as in the days of yore.

13 Weeks of Drought.

It is just thirteen weeks since Cook county first went dry on Sunday. It has been anticipated that lid tipping would be attempted openly about now to see if the saloons could get by with it. For the last two weeks, according to officials of the West Surburban Law and Order league, there has been quiet cheating.

Back doors have opened and shut on Sabbath days after mysterious rappings.

Charles Center Case Jr., in charge of the work for Mr. Hoyne, said last night that he personally visited Niles, Niles Center, Morton Grove, Tessville, and some other places and found everything quiet and orderly. Sheriff Traeger admitted yesterday that for the one Sunday he had "laid off" his crew of investigators, thinking that perhaps the lid might remain tight without watchers.

Sheriff Disappointed.

He was disappointed, he said, that the saloonkeepers took advantage of his confidence in them. Mr. Case said he sent no one down to Burnham because he had Mayor Johnny Patten's word for it that all would be dry. It is about this promise that Mr. Case is to ask Mr. Patten tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Case said yesterday that his office has evidence in hand, of violations past and present, to do a heap of business on.

"The law is going to be observed," said Mr. Case.

WHEATON BOARD TO INVESTIGATE THAT 'INITIATION'

Miss Hazel Reber, teacher, and Wallace Grange, pupil, who were the central figures in the "initiation" at the East Side school in Wheaton last Friday, were both absent from school yesterday. Miss Reber is under temporary suspension and the boy's parents kept him at home pending developments.

Miss Josephine Clifford, principal, took Miss Reber's place in the eighth grade room. Preparations are being made for a public hearing before the school board, which meets in regular session Friday night.

Miss Reber still clings to her theory that the "initiation" was not a serious matter.

"It was after we took him down and he got saucy to me that I whipped him with the straps and made the marks on his body," she said. "While the boys were whipping him he laughed."

The 12 year old boy was asked if he cried.

"Of course I did," he said.

'PREVENTION DAY' ON ANNIVERSARY OF CHICAGO FIRE

Although Mrs. O'Leary's cow never did have the guilt for the Great Chicago Fire fixed firmly upon her shoulders, that catastrophe, in all probability, was caused by someone's criminal negligence, according to Chief McDonald of the Chicago fire department, who spoke at the Woman's City club yesterday in the lunch room of Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co.

"Oct. 9," announced the chief, "has been set aside as 'national fire prevention day' in Chicago, in remembrance of the Chicago Fire. There will be a large meeting in Orchestra hall and an exhibition on the lake front, where we will try to show what the city can do to prevent criminal negligence."

Walter H. Bennett, formerly state fire marshal, urged that a national fire prevention board be added to the department of the interior, and that school children be instructed in fire prevention.

Seventy-five per cent of fire loss is preventable and due to carelessness, he said.

BISHOP CONFERS ON METHODIST PULPIT CHANGES

Consider Former Plan of Three Chicago Districts.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Bishop Thomas Nicholson and the five district superintendents of the Rock river conference of the Methodist Episcopal church met yesterday at the Union League club to prepare ministerial changes for the conference session which begins in Belvidere, Ill., next Tuesday.

Three important changes will be the appointment of two new district superintendents and the retirement of Dr. Timothy P. Frost from the pastorate of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Evanston after fourteen years of service.

Farewell Sermon.

Dr. Frost will preach his farewell sermon next Sunday. On the evening following, at a farewell reception, he will be given a purse of several thousand dollars.

A redistribution of the conference is being considered by which Chicago will return to the former plan of three districts.

Bishop Nicholson said the names of twenty-four ministers had been presented to him from which to select two district superintendents.

Among the Candidates.

Among those most frequently mentioned as likely to be named for the district superintendency of the two new districts are the Rev. T. K. Gale, Wilmette; the Rev. E. B. Crawford, Garfield Boulevard church; the Rev. J. S. Ladd Thomas, Austin; the Rev. H. V. Holt, Wheaton; the Rev. G. K. Flack, Woolley Memorial; the Rev. A. F. Clark, La Grange; the Rev. C. K. Carpenter, First church, Oak Park; the Rev. B. B. Evans, Morgan Park, and the Rev. H. E. Rompel, Belvidere.

Assignments to the army work of the Rev. Jesse S. Dancey, First church, Englewood; the Rev. Horace G. Smith, North Shore church, and the Rev. W. M. Briggs, Norwood Park, will leave vacancies which must be filled.

STAGG'S HOPES TRY THEIR LUCK IN SCRIMMAGE

When Enough Show Up for Team They Play Freshies.

BY MAROON.

Coach Stagg threw all precaution to the winds and sent his scanty little Maroon squad into an honest to goodness scrimmage with the freshman, and when Pat Page is playing with the yearlings a real battle is always staged. Not a regular was bumped in the first driving practice, and now there will be stiff workouts unless the hospital corps threatens to reduce the squad to less than a quorum.

The varsity lineup was about what it will be all season unless Coach Stagg tears his team all to pieces. Doping out a prospective team this fall is pretty much of a cinch for the camp followers on the south side. For only three or four positions is there more than one man with any experience. But Stagg is a great upsetter of dope, and he insists that any of the few regulars who think they have a lien on their positions are going to be fooled by the green understudies.

Brawn on Forward Wall.

Reber, representing 246 pounds of University High football knowledge, was stationed at center, with Gorgas and Bondzinski, veteran linemen of last year, flanking him in the guard positions. Both guards make the beam quiver at the 200 pound mark. At right tackle was Red Jackson, filling his brother's vacancy, with 293 pounds of Evanston brawn. Louie Kahn, who took his preparatory degree in gridiron tactics at Wendell Phillips, was at the other tackle. Carl Brelos, the only senior on the team, played one end, while MacDonald, Bradley, and Hinkle took turns at the other wing extremity.

Charlie Higgins, the giant guard, tore through the freshman wall from the full back position, flanked by Elton and Rouse, sophomores. Gale Blocki played quarter back and fooled everybody who did not know that he has worn moleskins for just five days.

New Trio Joins Freshmen.

Three new freshmen helped the yearling team try to stop Stagg's new eleven. Gordon, a 230 pound guard from Hinsdale; Dolk, an end who blew in from Cheyenne, Wyo.; and Serk, former Wendell Phillips quarter back, joined Page's green jerseyed scrubs. Practice was secret until the scrimmage.

WHITE SOX VS. GIANTS

BY I. E. SANBORN.

WHETHER or not Charley Herzog is able to play in the world's series the White Sox will have a decided advantage over the Giants at second base unless Edward Collins should be incapacitated before the battle is over.

Herzog, at his best, is a great infielder and has proved himself to be a valuable man in the supreme conflicts of previous years. But at his topmost notch Herzog never equalled Collins as a second baseman. He has had no such amount of experience at that position as the former member of the $100,000 Mack infield has acquired during his diamond career.

There is little doubt Herzog will return to the Giants and be reinstated in time for the big doings and the rest undoubtedly will help him recover much of the strength lost by playing while injured. But it will be impossible for the Giant infielder to regain the keen edge he would have had if he had been able to continue in the game right up to the series as Collins has.

Consequently there is no use comparing the Herzog that was with the Collins that was. They must be sized up as they are and the White Sox guardian of the middle sack today has all the advantage in every way.

Collins has been playing a wonderful game the last six weeks of the championship race. It has attracted attention everywhere. And when a man with his record of past performances excites wonder over some of his plays it means more than if a mediocre player outdoes himself.

Eddie has not equaled some of his previous seasons in batting, but has been hitting the ball consistently in the home stretch, just as he did last year. He is far ahead of Herzog on this year's average with the stick and can be counted on to outbat his Giant rival in the series.

Herzog injured his back in a peculiar way in midseason. Trying to kick a banana peel out of the way at a railroad station, he missed it and fell on his back. From the injury then received he has not recovered entirely and it is doubtful if he can be himself in the coming series. On that account his batting average has shrunk close to the .225 mark, while Collins has batted in the .280 class and has been doing better than that the last half of the season.

Both are right handed throwers. Herzog bats right handed and Collins left handed. That gives the White Sox an advantage in beating out infield hits. Collins also has it on Herzog in speed, although that does not make the Giant a slow runner.

In fielding both are brilliant performers and consistent. Collins can go a bit farther than Herzog in either direction on account of his slight advantage in speed, which probably is increased by the injury suffered by the Giant star. Both are brainy players, quick thinkers, and resourceful both in the defense and in the attack.

Because of his longer experience at second base Collins will have a slight advantage over his rival there, because no possible play can arise that Collins has not confronted before. He has played that position practically all his life, although his first major league experience was at shortstop for a few games with the Athletics while he was in Columbia university.

Eddie Collins

Herzog has played much of the time on the other side of the diamond, making his reputation as a world's series performer at third base.

The Giant is credited with greater aggressiveness than Collins. He will block off an opponent and scrap verbally more than the White Sox player, but Collins accomplishes results equally well without attempting to injure an antagonist or taking chances of putting himself out of commission, and when it comes to nerve in a pinch, at bat or in the field, where keen vision, skill, and a quick decision count, Collins takes water from no one.

PURPLE HOPE UP AS TIP IS GIVEN ON BRIGHTMIRE

Pilot Will Be in Shape to Battle Against Maroons on Oct. 27.

BY EVAN STONE.

Northwestern football rooters, who already are looking ahead to the Maroon game, and counting the chances of again humbling Coach Stagg's hopes, put no muffler on their delight yesterday when Quarter Back Brightmire's friends passed the tip that the pilot is expected to be right on the job when the Purple defends its Evanston goal posts against the Maroons Oct. 27.

Brightmire sustained an injury to his right ankle in tackling practice early last week, and it was later announced he had broken a small bone in the instep.

Brightmire Ready in Month.

The foot is mending so well that it will be strong enough for Brightmire's twisting runs in another month, and the contest against the old Chicago rivals is the one game the pilot picks above all others in which to take his turn to boost the Purple's chances.

The university year formally opens today and with the influx of students for registration, Coach Murphy is looking for expanded ranks of gridiron candidates tomorrow. The vanguard of the school newcomers showed up yesterday, and netted four more hopes for the football squad. The new men are Ives and Whitman, from the dental school, and Murphy and Jordan. The latter have had some experience in line positions.

Freshmen in Action Today.

The freshmen candidates will get their first workout today, and the varsity aspirants and coaches will be glad to see them, for it means scrimmages shortly, and a chance to get a line on what the new men can do in action.

HARVARD CALLS FOOTBALL MEN

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 24.—A call to candidates for football, baseball, and track teams and the crew was sent out tonight by the Harvard university athletic authorities.

Hugh Duffy will coach the baseball team, "Pooch" Donovan the track team, and Bill Haines the crew. Percy Haughton, football coach of former years, will give his spare time and will assist a regular coach, if one is selected.

It was said tonight that prospects were bright for securing an "informal" football team and schedule.

SLIGHT DELAY!

Charley Matthews, Civil War Veteran, Receives Railroad Fare After 53 Years.

CHARLEY MATTHEWS, veteran billiard marker, who officiated in many of the biggest matches in the palmy days of Schaefer, Slosson, Ives, and others, celebrated his seventy-sixth birthday yesterday, being guest of honor at a dinner given by W. P. Mussey at the Chicago Athletic association.

Recounting some of his experiences, the veteran told of recently receiving a check from Uncle Sam which was due him fifty-three years ago. Enlisting at the age of 19, he was wounded at the battle of Mission Ridge in 1863. He was taken to Madison, Ind., and after recovery received his discharge at Cincinnati in 1864. He received $75 bounty and a year's salary at the munificent rate of $8 a month.

Charley was entitled to transportation from Cincinnati to Chicago, which amounted to $15, but thought he would be giving Uncle Sam a square deal if he retained part of his uniform as a souvenir and went without his carfare. This he did.

Matthews is now a resident of the old soldiers' home at Milwaukee and recently while playing billiards was surprised to have Assistant Treasurer Burch hand him a check for $12.45. It was the $15 for transportation less the price of his uniform. "Unfortunately," Charley explained, "the government does not pay interest."

Matthews was presented with a walking cane, the gift of several local cueists.

At Football Camps

AT WISCONSIN.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Coach Richards issued an urgent call for more men today, and unless the call is answered, scrimmage will have to be postponed. There were not enough men in suits to make two full teams, making it impossible to advance in the training. Students are still hopeful, however, that the beginning of the semester on Thursday will bring more candidates.

"Our prospects in football have never been poorer," Coach Richards stated tonight. "We are to meet some of the strongest teams in the west, and Wisconsin will do well to win a part of her games."

AT IOWA.

Iowa City, Ia., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Iowa's football season will open Oct. 6, when Cornell college of Mount Vernon, Ia., meets the Hawkeyes, but Coach Jones is still in doubt as to his lineup. He is working two and even three elevens every day and, with scrimmaging in force, may develop a fair aggregation by next week. His tentative lineups show the need of stronger forward walls and several heavier men, but they are fast. His tentative first team now includes seven veterans or near veterans—Capt. Davis, half back; Jenkins, quarter; Hunzelman, tackle; Kelley, guard; Hamilton, full back; Nugent, half back, and Reed, end. Bender is the other end and O'Donnell and McNichols the other guard and tackle, respectively. Lawrence Block, a promising sophomore from Davenport, is showing up well at center.

AT ILLINOIS.

Urbana, Ill., Sept. 24.—A full squad greeted Zuppke tonight and practice was fast and furious. Sales showed up for the first time. The main problem for the wizard to solve is a place kicker. There have been many tryouts for the place, but either Larimer, Pritchard, or Nicol will be chosen. Kline and McGigor are showing up best in punting.

AT NOTRE DAME.

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Coach Harper received another shock today when he learned that George Gipp, 1918 Notre Dame freshman, who held the western record for drop kick, had joined the army. Three additions to the squad, however, cheered him up. These were big Frank Rydezewski, Tom Spalding, and Vincent Walsh. The varsity had a long drill in the forward pass. Thirty-three freshmen were out under Frank Andrews practicing signals.

AT PURDUE.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Twenty-two football men reported to Coach O'Donnell at Purdue today, the largest squad since practice started. The afternoon was spent in signal drill and tackling the dummy. Prof. Oliver F. Cutts is assisting with the instruction of the forwards. Coach O'Donnell plans to start scrimmaging Friday or Saturday. Olmstead played center in the signal drill today, this being his first day at work. Huffine was out at fullback and Hume played quarterback. Spencer and Mize were not in uniform, both being hard at work trying to remove conditions.

AT MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 24.—University of Minnesota football prospects brightened today when Conrad Eklund, last year's regular, and Alfred Schroeder, a promising freshman last season, reported to Coach H. L. Williams at Northrop field and were given their first workouts. Enough men to make up nearly two teams were out and Dr. Williams put them through kicking and passing drills.

YALE MUST DRILL 11 NEW MEN IF IT PLAYS GAMES

College Opens Thursday, with No Players Back, but Hopes for Sport.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Prof. Robert N. Corwin, chairman of the Yale athletic council, has pledged himself to give Yale undergraduates this fall all the athletics compatible with the university policy of striving with every atom of energy to assist the government to bring the war to a successful close.

As Prof. Corwin, himself an old Yale athlete and football captain, is heartily in favor of developing sport for the undergraduates, an announcement that Yale will have some football this fall is expected before the fall term opens Sept. 27.

Every 1916 Player Enlisted.

Although Yale football squads have annually returned for preliminary practice before this date for more than twenty-five seasons, neither players, coaches nor officials are here yet. Every one of the players of last year's eleven as well as of all the other Yale athletic teams now are enrolled in military service.

There are no Yale players to return to college this fall, and whatever athletics are arranged will be of teams which contain no veterans. All the varsity athletic schedules have been cancelled.

Arranging Freshman Card.

A schedule for the freshman football eleven is being arranged. Whether there will be a regular Yale eleven to play a series of rather impromptu games this fall or whether there will be simply a few class or university department teams is uncertain. Members of the faculty feel that it will be impossible to put out a formal eleven which will play university rivals.

Two regular Connecticut regiments are now encamped on the Yale athletic plant, at the Bowl and at Yale field. Most of the Yale athletic fields will be devoted to military work, this fall.

Outlook for "Grid" Team O.K. at Evanston Township

Football prospects at Evanston Township High school are favorable despite the fact seven of last year's championship squad graduated last June, leaving Coach Don T. Riddell to build up a new aggregation to play in the Suburban league.

The old men around whom the new team has been built are Capt. McDonald at quarter back, Phillips at half, Turner at tackle, and Penfield at guard. Schedule:

Oct. 6—Proviso at Evanston.
Oct. 13—Bloom at Bloom.
Oct. 20—Deerfield at Highland Park.
Oct. 27—Thornton at Evanston.
Nov. 3—University High at Evanston.
Nov. 10—Oak Park at Oak Park.
Nov. 17—New Trier at New Trier.

Many Contest for Berths on Morgan Park Eleven

With six of last season's players back for the 1917 football team at Morgan Park, and six of the lightweight regulars of a year ago heavy enough for play with the majors, the battle for berths of the cadets' first eleven assures a highly successful gridiron campaign. Wirick of the 1916 regulars has been chosen captain, and Ruediger manager. The new students of good football caliber, also out for places, are helping Coach H. Schulte of Iowa university's 1910 varsity team weld a powerful eleven. The regulars holding over from 1916 are:

Wiring, Curtis, George, Hansen, Jones, and Nichols. The most promising new men are Gates of Sioux City, Moore of Rensselaer, Ind., and Truitt of St. Louis.

Exhaust Echoes

By SHEPPARD BUTLER.

WHAT effect, if any, yesterday's sharp reduction in steel prices will have on the cost of automobiles becomes an interesting subject of conjecture for helpless motorists who have watched the price of their favorite makes mount steadily skyward. Hardly a manufacturer is left who has not, within recent months, added from $50 to $300 to the price of his various models. And of course the increasing cost of raw materials is offered as the underlying reason.

Now pig iron, which soared from $32 to $59 a gross ton between January and August of this year, drops suddenly back to $33. Other items of cost much emphasized by the car builders are reduced in similar proportions. The natural question is, does the purchasing motorist get the benefit?

It seems he doesn't, for the present, at least. Among Chicago automobile dealers the consensus of opinion is that no change—except, perhaps, further increases—may be expected, in any case, before next summer, and more probably before the end of the war, whenever that may be.

"Automobile manufacturers have to buy their materials anywhere from eight months to two years ahead," said Henry Paulman, who sells Pierce-Arrows. "It will take any of the factories at least eight months to use up what they have contracted for now, and during that time, of course, they'll have to pay the high prices written in the contracts.

"By next June or July the price of some cars ought to come down, provided this new scale of prices remains substantially in effect, but we can't be sure even of that. There's to be a revision in January, and nobody knows what will happen then."

G. W. Stratton of the Harry Newman-Stratton company had even less encouragement to offer.

"The real trouble," he said, "has been not so much the price as the shortage of materials. The steel's going mostly to the government, and the expense to the motor car builder has been chiefly that caused by the difficulty of getting what little is available. Lowering the quoted prices of iron and steel won't necessarily affect the supply, and I don't see how any automobile can possibly be sold for less before the end of the war."

SMITH REPEATER IN TOURNEY OF PRESS GOLFERS

BY JOE DAVIS.

Fred Smith of THE TRIBUNE, who won the August tournament of the Chicago Press club at Hinsdale, proved a repeater in the monthly tournament held yesterday over the fine course of the Ravisloe Country club. Sleuths from the police departments of the various papers have been detailed on the case.

Smith presides over a "boil it down" section of his paper and cannot shake his business habits even when playing golf. Realizing he had been too liberal in the first edition he blue pencilled the second freely and came home with a 73, eight strokes ahead of O. Lundberg, 81.

Lundberg and Perley Boone, the champion, tied for low gross and will play off. Scores:

Kenneth Edwards Takes Midlothian Club Title

Kenneth P. Edwards won the championship of the Midlothian Country club, defeating Dr. Paul M. Hunter, 7 and 6, in the thirty-six hole final. In the morning Edwards had 78 and Hunter 81, both putting poorly. After lunch-eon Edwards played brilliantly, getting 71, which equaled the record round of Jesse Guilford when he met Edwards in the western amateur championship this year. Hunter also improved, getting a 76.

Brotherlin Heads Ames Nine.

Ames, Ia., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Last year's veterans of the Ames baseball team met and elected R. H. Brotherlin to lead them next spring. He is one of the most consistent ball tossers that has ever represented Ames. He has had two years of varsity experience holding down second, and June he finishes his collegiate baseball career.

GREAT LAKES ELEVEN ASKS "BIG 10" GAMES

If the Big Ten conference harkens to the plea of Lieut. Angell, head coach of the Great Lakes Naval Training station football team, the jackies may be seen in games this season with the middle western colleges. The request for ten mid-week grid tilts is now in the hands of the conference officials, who are expected to act immediately.

The rules of the Big Ten do not provide for competition with independent organizations, but with the bluejackets' football schedule barren of contests, with the exception of the opening game of the year against Marquette of Milwaukee, it is expected that the rules will be waived.

Lack of good linemen may hinder Coach Angell in his attempt to whip a powerful eleven into shape. His backfield material is all that could be asked, but the first line of defense is shaky. The backfield men are Smith, Raymond, and Hildner, Michigan; Kitty Gordon, Chicago; Weinberg, Western Reserve, and Proctor, Nebraska. Pottinger seems slated for the center post.

Proviso Eleven Wants Game.

Proviso township heavyweights want a football game at Maywood on Saturday, and Coach O. V. Boone requests any high school that lacks a good practice game to address him at the Proviso school, Maywood, Ill. Boone's team launched its season by a 51 to 0 victory over Riverside last week.

TribuneDecisions

At New York—Patsy Cline beat Willie Jackson [10].

At Oklahoma City—Benny McNelli beat Nate Jackson [10].

HERMAN TO BOX, THEN FOR WAR

New Orleans, La., Sept. 24.—The federal district appeal board today granted Pete Herman, world's bantamweight pugilist champion, until Nov. 15 to report for duty with the national army. Herman told the board he wanted to accept one or more offers of $6,000 for title bouts so as to adequately provide for his aged parents.

Herman late today signed articles for a twenty round bout here Nov. 12 with Frankie Burns of Jersey City. Herman will receive $6,000 win, lose, or draw.

Hurt in Ames Class Scrap.

Patsy Cline Is Winner Over Willie Jackson

New York, Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Patsy Cline whipped Willie Jackson by putting up the best fight of his whole career. Cline was by far the cleverest and his great spurt from the seventh to the tenth round had Willie weak and wild. Cline was supreme when it came to slugging with this youngster whose fame hinges on his ability to slug.

CORNELL'S SQUAD SMALL AND GREEN

Ithaca, N. Y., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Twenty-nine men donned football togs at Cornell's first practice, the smallest squad in the history of the game here in the last decade. Most of them have little experience. Coach Sharpe said that seldom had such an opportunity been offered for new men to get into football. A. H. Hoffman, halfback of last year's squad, was the only letter man to report. He is under the draft age.

Six men from last year's eleven, who in the normal course of events would have been available, are in army or navy service. Six members of last year's freshman team—Pendleton, Trowbridge, Colvin, Von Hayggendorff, Carey, and Reuther—were among the players who reported today.

Thirteen Football Vets Return at St. Ignatius

Thirteen veterans of last year's St. Ignatius academy eleven, including the complete back field, and a list of seventeen new men out for the team, have wreathed with smiles the faces of the rooters at the west side school. St. Ignatius is still without a coach, but the aspirants have been going through the paces under Capt. Erickson and a cluster of old timers. The men are looking forward to the test of strength against their annual rivals, Lake Forest, Loyola, St. Viators and Marquette.

The eleven should average 150 pounds or a little more, and with the unity from the complete veteran back field has the best prospects in years.

This trip is showing motorists everywhere the wear and tear that Hyatt Roller Bearings can actually stand.

The original bearings are located at points of greatest strain. Eight years old, but having delivered thirty years of normal service, they are still on the job, still giving perfect Hyatt Service—quiet, self lubricating, self cleaning, requiring no adjustment from the driver.

The bearings in your Hyatt-equipped car are identical in quality with these. You can measure the satisfaction you may expect from your Hyatts by their demonstrated record.

261,800 miles, the world's record for mileage—long drives over the roughest of country roads—winter drives through hub-deep snow, the abuse of livery and haulage service.

SOX LOSE, BUT GAIN BY ACID TEST AT BAT

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Those new Champion White Sox lost another "exhibition" game, but got some swell practice for the big show with the New York Giants, which is not far distant. It was a workout for Rowland's men, designed to aid them in trying to hit the curves of Ferdie Schupp, Slim Sallee, and Rube Benton, because Boston sent big Babe Ruth to the slab with orders to give 'em all he had. Ruth did that and Boston won, 3 to 0. Just the same the Sox were thankful, for after the experience of looking at those southpaw curves, the ones of Schupp, Sallee, and Benton ought to be easy now.

Besides that batting practice the game afforded a tryout for two Sox southpaws, Reb Russell and Claude Williams. Although beaten, they looked in shape to share in the battles with McGraw's men. Russell went four innings and held the Red Sox to three hits, but they scored two runs because all three hits were utilized. Two were doubles, one by Lewis and one by Gainer, both murderous hitters against left handed pitching. Russell seemed to have his speed and his curve and showed no indications of a sore arm.

One Run Off Williams.

Four hits were made off Williams in the four innings he hurled and one run came over, because the heavy right handed swingers, Gainer, Lewis, and Walker, bunched two blows with a sacrifice.

With the exception of Ray Schalk, all Sox regulars were in the game, McMullin sticking to the third base job, with Weaver on short and Risberg on the bench as utility man. Byrd Lynn did the backstopping and probably will do a lot of it in the remaining games just to get him tuned up to high speed in case something should happen to Schalk.

Ruth Out to Help Sox.

It would be splendid for the Sox if they could hit against Ruth about every other day from now until the world's series begins. The big Boston hurler was in his best stride and, being a loyal American leaguer, he gave all he had, not so much to win the game as to give the Sox batting practice.

Ruth had most of the Chicagoans badly puzzled, but Shano Collins found him easy. Shano busted two doubles and one single in five times up, all of them regular drives. In the ninth, however, Shano came up with the bases loaded and two out and his best was a nice bounder to Cooney.

Bad Base Running Again.

The Sox got nine blows off Ruth and threatened to score several times, but some bad base running spoiled two openings and failure to follow up attacks spoiled the others. Once J. Collins was nailed at home when he tried to come in from third on a bounder to Scott. The latter shot perfectly and got his man. Once Felsch was caught on the base line and once McMullin was caught asleep off second by Ruth. Another time J. Collins was doubled off second base after Lewis had come in on the run and captured a low liner from Jackson's bat.

It looks, judging from today's game, that a few lessons on base running before the big series wouldn't do the Sox any harm.

Duffy's Single Goes as Double.

Boston scored the first run because Duffy Lewis hit a ball where he isn't supposed to hit 'em. Two were out when Gainer walked and Lewis followed with a fly to right rather close to the foul line. The Sox outfield was set for him to hit to left and the fly went for a double, sending Gainer home. In the third, with one out, Cooney singled to center and Gainer doubled to the terrace in left, Cooney stopping at third. Lewis lifted a rather short fly to J. Collins and Cooney scored, because Shano pegged wide of the plate.

Gainer's single, Lewis' sacrifice, and Walker's single got the other in the sixth. Walker's single was over second and Felsch had a play at the plate, but failed to come up clean with the ball.

Notes

Boston, Mass., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Tomorrow the Sox will practice in Washington against Griffith's men.

It was cloudy and cold today, but there were 2,254 fans who paid for a last peek at the new champions.

With Walter Johnson and Harry Harper on the Washington hurling staff the Sox should get some more good batting practice.

The squad departed for the capital early this evening. Jackson remaining here to rest two days and appear with the All-Stars in a benefit game Thursday.

The case against Weaver and McMullin was called this morning. Both athletes appeared in court and the judge then dismissed the case and talked baseball to them until time for the next case.

Because of repair work being done at the Boston hotel, which housed the Sox, there was no heat on and the players either sat around in overcoats or sweaters, or stayed in bed to keep warm. All the other hotels were filled.

BASEBALL SUNDAY

AFTER wrangling until a late hour the Sweitzer cup Tearney trophy committee, at the meeting of the Amateur Baseball Managers' league, decided on the pairing of the four remaining teams for Sunday. The Ciceros lost the toss with the Ideals and will travel to the latter's grounds at Kedzie and Elston avenues. The Romeos will go to Forty-eighth and Armitage to battle with the Aristos.

The Aristos, although defeated last week by the Mutuals, protested that the Mutuals used an ineligible player. The committee gave a verdict in favor of the Aristos, dropping the Mutuals. Free lance games:

Umpires and managers at Cicero [10 a. m.]; Alvernos and Preston Grays at Forty-fourth and Grand avenues; La Porte at Michigan City; Dodger Trainings and Mutuals at Cicero; Roberts & Oakes and Swift & Co. at Hamilton park; Aristos and Alvernos at Forty-eighth and Armitage avenues [Saturday].

Tip to Sox Regulars: Take Checks Out to Park

Box holders during the regular season at Comiskey park who have not already mailed their applications for the world's series are requested to take their certified checks and self-addressed envelopes to the park offices and thus avoid the delay necessary for the mails to reach the park.

Mail orders are piling up so rapidly there is a chance the regular patrons might be overlooked should their applications become shuffled with the regular mail.

The management desires to give its old patrons preference in disposing of the boxes they are accustomed to hold throughout the season.

Tennis Election Oct. 10.

The Chicago Tennis association will hold its annual banquet and election Oct. 10. The year's honors will be distributed, the team trophy going to the Chicago Tennis club for the summer league season and victors in other competitions in the outdoor season getting their prizes at the same time.

Cub Kids Rally in Eighth to Defeat Brooklyn, 4 to 2

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Despairing of getting out of the rut with his old machine, Manager Mitchell shook up the Cubs yesterday by injecting a flock of youngsters into the lineup and the kids staged an eighth inning rally, which licked Brooklyn, 4 to 2, in the opening game of the series.

Jim Vaughn looked like a patriarch in front of an infield made up of Leslie on first, Kilduff at second, Pechous at short, and Deal on third, with Merkle cavorting in left field. Barber in center and Flack the only man holding down a berth in which he was familiar to the fans.

For three innings Vaughn pitched as if he felt like a great-grandfather to his backers, but they gave him fast and flashy support, consequently Hippo tightened up and emerged with colors flying.

Soft Until the Eighth.

The renovated Cubs were soft in the hands of Sherrod Smith until the eighth inning. Then, with the score 2 to 0 against them, they slammed the pill all over the lot until they had pulled the game out of hock. They did it after two were out, at that.

One was gone when Elliott singled to center. Zeider took Vaughn's stick and poked a one baser to left. Dilhoefer was put on to run for Elliott. Flack singled to center, scoring Pickles and putting Zeider on second. Kilduff forced Flack at second and Barber came up in the pinch. The Oriole recruit had struck out twice, trying to solve Smith's southpaw stuff. This time he soaked a clean single to left, driving in Zeider and knotting the score. Deal followed with a wallop over Hickman's head for three bases, giving Kilduff and Barber a ride home. Charley tried to stretch it into a home run, but was called out at the plate in an awfully close finish.

Hendrix Goes to Hill.

Hendrix went to the hill in the ninth and blanked the Robins with the aid of a swift double play started by Pechous.

Previous to that rally the Cubs made only four scattered hits off Smith and got only one man as far as third base. He perished at the plate trying to count on a bounder to Smith.

The Robins scored their runs early. Olson's double and Myers' single were good for the first tally. Cutshaw's triple and O'Rourke's fly to Merkle scored the second and last for the visitors.

Notes

Brooklyn again today and tomorrow.

The defeat put the Robins dangerously near a drop into seventh place behind Boston.

Catcher O'Farrell reported to Manager Mitchell yesterday and may be tried out before the Brooklyn series is over.

The game was played in an hour and twenty-one minutes. Next to the result that was the best part of the exhibition.

Vaughn passed two Robins before anybody was out in the sixth inning, then struck out O'Rourke. Kruger followed with a smash to Kilduff which ended in a double killing.

Myers, who filled in for Daubert on first, made a circus play on Leslie's bounder in the seventh. He knocked the hit down, then crawled after the ball on all fours and managed to recover it in time to throw to second and force out Merkle, who was on first when the ball was hit.

NEW WISCONSIN LAWS.

THE principal changes in Wisconsin game laws of interest to hunters is the raise in price [perhaps "on account of the war"] of nonresident hunting licenses. The old price of $10 for small game has been changed to $25; for all game, to $50. The buck law has been repealed, the statute reading simply "deer"—no sex specified.

The fish laws contain a number of important changes. The open season for bass in Big Green lake is from July 1 to March 1; in all other waters from June 15 to March 1. The old law opened the season May 29. The open season on pike, pickerel and mackerel is from May 29 to March 1. The minimum legal size of muskies has been reduced from 5 pounds to twenty-four inches. A few years ago it was eight pounds. The limit per day on muskelunge is now two; on bass, ten; on pike, ten.

Nonresidents must have a license with coupons attached. There are three coupons, each good for one shipment of fish. It is unlawful to ship out fish without one of these coupons attached to the package. When the three coupons are used that ends your shipping for the season. There is a penalty for buying another license in order to get more coupons.

Twenty pounds of fish or two fish of any weight may be shipped every seven days, or a nonresident may carry with him thirty-five trout. Fish must not be carried in suit cases, bags or trunks, but in packages plainly labeled as to contents, destination and owner.

TWO TITLE SERIES BY AMATEUR TEAMS DUE TO PROTESTS

Cleveland, O., Sept. 24.—There will be two distinct title series for the national sand lot baseball championships. This was decided today by the executive board of the National Baseball federation, which met to thrash out the tangle due to the numerous protests that have involved several city champion teams of the country.

One series of title games will include those city champion teams which have not been protested. This will be known as the National Baseball Federation championship series. To this series teams of Detroit, Cincinnati, Toledo, and Akron will be eligible.

The other series will be for those city champions whose players include men disqualified by protest. This series will include Cleveland, Chicago, Canton, O., and New Kensington, Pa.

Following the separate series the federation champions will play the independent champions in a free for all title series.

Teams of War Cripples Play Soccer at Winnipeg

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Hobbling about on artificial limbs, walking canes, and crutches, the famous "dot and carry one" football team of the Tuxedo convalescent hospital, consisting of returned war heroes who have lost a limb, Saturday defeated an all-star "milk diet" team, consisting of convalescent soldiers, in a hotly contested game at the hospital grounds. The score was 5 to 3.

SALLEE MAKES IT M'GRAW'S FLAG; BEATS CARDS, 2-1

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 24.—New York clinched the National league pennant by winning today's game from St. Louis, 2 to 1. New York can now lose all its remaining games and still win the flag. Doak held the new champions to four hits, but these came when hits were needed, and Doak lost. Sallee allowed more hits, but was steady except in one round.

New York scored in the first when Kauff walked and Zim's double scored him. In the sixth Robertson and Kauff singled, Zimmerman sacrificed, and Fletcher walked, filling the bases. Wilhoit batted for James Smith and forced Robertson at the plate, but Holke singled and Kauff scored.

The locals bunched three singles off Sallee in the seventh, which with an infield out gave their lone run. Score:

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK

BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Many and varied and interesting are the imitations of fur where fur is not used. One of these is an imitation leopard skin. A striking cape—striking without hitting one in the eye!—was seen recently worn over a simple and rather severe black princess dress. It buttoned straight up the front, the cape cascading away toward the back at the hem. The buttons were covered with the same imitation fur and were large and round. Needless to say the cape was sleeveless. The smart looking girl who wore this model topped it with a black high crowned sailor of plush.

Richard Himself Again.

NOT many people can boast of a stranger coincidence in their lives than I. I was born in a small Wisconsin town and my mother's dearest friend was a woman who lived next door and had a little boy 2½ years older than I. Until I was 4 years old Bobby and I were inseparable. Mother afterwards told me that she and Bobby's mother often remarked about our attachment for each other and laughingly remarked that we would "make a match" when we grew up. But not long before my fifth birthday Bobby's father died and his mother took him to live with his grandparents in Montana. For several years our families corresponded, but finally we moved to another town and we never heard from Bobby or his mother again.

The summer that I was 22 I received an invitation to visit a friend living in southern Michigan. One evening during my visit I met at a dance a young man who attracted me more than any other I had ever met. I guess the admiration must have been mutual, for he showed a great deal of attention to me during the rest of my visit and asked permission to write when I left.

We had corresponded about four months when Richard wrote that he was going out west to visit some relatives and wanted to stop off to see me on his way out. Of course I wrote that I would be delighted to see him and in a few days he appeared. I met him at the station and took him out to my home. As I introduced him to my mother, she looked at him sharply and said: "You look enough like Hattie L to be her son." "My mother's name was Hattie L.," Richard responded in astonishment.

It was true. Richard was the little boy I had played with as a child. After removing to Montana he had been called by his middle name to avoid confusion with a young cousin also named Bobby, who lived in the same town. When his mother died, he had been adopted by her sister and had taken her name. I have also taken the same name now, and fulfilled my mother's prophecy. E. B. M.

Securing a Husband.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a widow and have been advised by some of my friends to marry again. As I don't know any one about my age, would you advise me to advertise for a husband or get a matrimonial paper, or apply to a matrimonial agency? M. M."

O, dear, no, don't do that. Husbands are not so scarce yet in this country that a woman anxious to marry cannot acquire one without applying to a matrimonial bureau or an advertising paper. I don't believe in these advertised forms of husband getting. There is something radically wrong with a man who can't get a wife by going and asking her himself, without having to resort to an agency.

"The Whip" Is a Cracking Good Picture

"THE WHIP."
Produced by William A. Brady.
Directed by Maurice Tourneur.
Presented at the Colonial.
The Cast:

Diana Beverly.....Alma Hanlon
Hubert Brancaster .....Irving Cummings
Mrs. D'Aguila .....June Elvidge
Baron Sarforis .....Paul McAllister
Bo Kelly .....Alfred Hemming
Judge Beverly .....Warren Cook

By Mae Tinée.

"THE WHIP" is a cracking good picture. (How's that?) The big Drury Lane melodrama that raised the hair of blasé theatergoers some years back, returns in different form to do just that same little thing to picture audiences. Condensed though of necessity it is, there are thrills a-plenty, and the audience, of which I was one, leaned forward most of the time and breathed hard.

To make the picture what it is Mr. Brady has, to be slangy, gone some! Having employed one of the most capable of directors, it is evident that with simple, childlike trust he put his faith in the man of his choice and told him to go ahead, sparing no expense. The result is what may be expected when brains and money work together.

"The Whip," you remember, is a race horse, the flighty and bad tempered member of the equine family in the Beverly stables. Though a marvel of horseflesh, he is regarded, therefore, as hopeless for race winning. A sudden change in disposition, however, turns the attention of the owner to him, and it is decided to enter the horse in the Saratoga handicap, keeping secret the fact of the change.

In the Beverly household are a wily villain and villainess in league with a crooked bookmaker. Through the villain's betrayal of the sister of the chief jockey, stable secrets leak out. The bookmaker, seeing he stands to lose large sums of money, plots with the villain and villainess to prevent the horse reaching the race tracks.

Of course, as in all properly regulated melodramas, perfidy falls and virtue wins out. But the way this happens in "The Whip" furnishes so many real, honest to goodness thrills, that you mustn't miss seeing the process.

Alma Hanlon, blonde and wholesome, is a pleasing heroine as the horsey, out of doors girl. Irving Cummings doesn't appeal to me especially, but at that his work is pretty good. Paul McAlister, June Elvidge, and Alfred Hemming are artists. And I did like the jockey—wonder what his name is?

Even if you don't care for melodrama, you'll enjoy the horses and dogs, the really good riding, the beautiful scenery, all of which combine to make "The Whip" crack.

COMMENT

Tonight at the College theater the Bluejackets' Minstrel club will give a performance of twenty acts. Between times will be shown a three reel movie showing the activities of the boys at the Great Lakes station. Picked men from Sousa's band will furnish the music. The proceeds will go for necessaries for the bluejackets.

Rex Weber, director for the Titan Pictures corporation, which is producing a series of comedies for the American Military Relief association, was badly hurt recently in an automobile accident. Mr. Weber was making some interior scenes at the Selig studio and called a taxi to take him to the Rothacker studio. The car was traveling at high speed over the Lincoln avenue car tracks when suddenly the driver turned and the car skidded to the curbing, throwing Mr. Weber out.

David Wark Griffith will be in town Wednesday at the Blackstone.

ASK ME! ASK ME?

PIANIST: The way I understand it is this—you may play "The Star-Spangled Banner," but you must not play it in medley, and once you start it you must play it through from beginning to end. This gives the people a chance to stand and sit again comfortably without making themselves ridiculous by flopping up only to flop right down again when the one playing bursts into "Somewhere on Broadway, He Lost His Little Wild Flower." Y'wekkum.

MR. R.: No, I wouldn't do it for the love of Mike, but I'd do it to accommodate you.

Your Hair Should Always Softly Frame Your Face

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

ANXIOUS READER: YOU DID not tell me anything about your hair or the shape of your face, so that I am at a loss to know just how you can dress your hair most becomingly. Your hair should always softly frame your face. Simplicity in hair dressing is to be commended for two things; first, it is almost universally becoming, and best of all, it is youthful. Your hair must be well cared for to begin with. Shampoo it once a week to insure the fluffiness that you wish. A five minute scalp massage and a thorough brushing before retiring will keep your hair healthy as well as well groomed. For a stamped, addressed envelope I shall mail you the directions for scalp massage.

Elsie had been told by her mother that a dog wags his tail to show that he is pleased, while cats switch theirs when they are angry. A few days later Elsie discovered her favorite pussy purring contentedly in front of the open fire while her tail swayed luxuriously back and forth over the rug behind her. The little girl, her eyes wide with wonder, ran to her mother. "Oh, mamma," she cried, "I don't see how Lady Toluff can be so glad at one end and mad at the other all at the same time!" C. B. H.

Billy had heard his mother speak to his father in a commanding way. One day Billy went upstairs and let the water run into the bathtub until it overflowed. His father came upstairs to see what was the matter. He was just about to scold Billy, when Billy said: "John, this is no time to talk; for heaven's sake get the mop." G. K.

Richard was playing with a toy machine. His mother heard an unusual commotion and hurried to the room. On entering she found poor Pete, his doll, with a broken head. In reply to her questions as to what had happened to Pete, Richard only shook his head and mumbled each time, "Richie, ruff-neck." C. V. H.

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

All recipes have been scientifically tested by Miss Eddington with current market materials and are indorsed by her.

A man learns technical terms and their meaning, if he had to, in connection with his automobile, his cigars, his trade. The technical food terms are just a little more important than any of these, to put it as mildly as possible. A highly popular investment just now is that of a stock of these terms.

THE office of information of the United States department of agriculture has just sent out preprints of what its meat specialists say about two sorts of meat waste. One of these is a serious waste in "hanging tenderloin" or "a piece of lean, fibrous meat weighing from one to one and one-half pounds and useful for stews, hamburger, or sausage."

The directions are given presumably for the butcher, but unless the consumer knows of these pieces which are so often wasted he will not call for them, any more than he will call for lamb's pluck, which is the subject of the other bit of information. I have heard of a section where lamb's pluck is sold, but have never found one, yet one of the nicest hash-like dishes an aunt of mine used to make was lamb's pluck, boiled, chopped as fine as possible, warmed up in butter and a bit of pepper.

In reference to selling lambs on a "pluckout" basis, it is said that where lambs are sold with the pluck, or heart, liver, lungs, and windpipe left in the carcass the retailer pays an enormous price for the pluck, which weighs from two to four pounds and costs perhaps 75 cents, though it often spoils and is a total loss to him. Of course, we pay the retailer.

I have an idea that our retailers do not have to buy the pluck, but perhaps some of them do. Certainly if they do, and hide the fact from us, they should be censured and perhaps we ought to do our part by asking frequently for it.

The final statement in the article on the "hanging tender" is: "Kidney fat should be removed at the slaughtering establishment after the carcasses are cool, in order that the full value of the edible fat may be obtained." The "hanging tender" should also be removed thus promptly so as to be available for people who purchase the cheaper grades.

If I had nothing else to do I would like to go from butcher shop to butcher shop and ask for this, and see or hear what I should hear. I am sure I would learn a good deal, but perhaps I would have to buy too many "hanging tender," and then again perhaps not.

Article 201.

PREPARING THE MANURE FOR THE MUSHROOM BED.

Whether for commercial or home growing, the cultural methods are essentially alike. It is merely a question of proportions and equipment.

The first step is to determine the exact location and extent of the proposed mushroom bed. It may occupy merely a section of the basement floor, in a dark corner, or it may be built in tiers of two or more, like the beds of a steamer cabin. Whatever the location, it must be such that an even temperature may be maintained between 53 and 60 degrees Fahrenheit, preferably 55 to 58, with provision for ventilation through a window or other means.

Sufficient fresh horse manure should be procured to make a bed eight to ten inches deep, when firmed down, as large as desired. It should contain a moderate proportion of straw used for stable bedding. Wood shavings and sawdust should be avoided.

This manure is placed in outdoor piles, about three feet high, well packed with the manure fork and sheltered from rain. It should be moist, but not soggy. If necessary, lukewarm water may be applied with a sprinkling can.

A pointed dairy thermometer, which admits of being stuck into the manure piles, will be useful in taking temperature readings during the period of fermentation. Within a few days the piles will register 120 to 140 degrees Fahrenheit. They are then forked over to mix the outer manure with the inner. At intervals of three to five days the turning and mixing of each pile is repeated, sprinkling with more water if necessary to maintain the same degree of moisture throughout. Always pack well after turning.

In eighteen to twenty days fermentation will begin to subside as shown by the thermometer, and the temperature to drop. The manure will then be ready for the preparation of the beds.

"One Whole Wheat Meal a Day"—that's the slogan for those who want to conserve food and also conserve strength and health. But be sure it is the whole wheat prepared in a digestible form. Shredded Wheat Biscuit is 100 per cent. whole wheat—nothing wasted, nothing thrown away. Fifteen years ago Shredded Wheat was eaten only as a breakfast cereal; now it is eaten for any meal as a substitute for meat, eggs, or potatoes. Two or three biscuits with milk or cream and some fresh fruits make a nourishing, satisfying meal at a cost of a few pennies. Made in Niagara Falls, N.Y.

SPECIAL

OLEOMARGARINE

Moxley's Margarine and Color Capsule

In churning Moxley's, pasteurized milk and cream and other choice materials are used, insuring a rich, cream white Margarine—one test of quality.

With the exception of a few months each year fine creamery butter is a rich cream white like Moxley's Margarine, so color is added in churning. All dealers selling Moxley's furnish free the very same pure color as used in creamery. You can color Moxley's for use on your own family table—and save ten cents on each pound.

How to Use the Color Capsule

Remove the Margarine from carton, placing it in a bowl or dish, and flatten out. Now take the capsule of pure vegetable butter color, puncture with a needle or pin, and drop color evenly on the Margarine.

With a large spoon or paddle work the color through the Margarine, turning in the edges and repeating just as you would to work in more salt. Continue doing this until the color is evenly distributed and the Margarine is a golden yellow.

Then pack the Margarine in a crock or dish and set in a cool place. When hardened it is ready to serve.

Have You Been 'On the Naval Station?' It's a Duck of a Trip

BY CINDERELLA.

THEY think you're a frightful silly up at Great Lakes if you say you were "at the station," or went "to the naval station," or were "visiting the Great Lakes station." You have to say "on the station" and then you're right as rain.

Same thing's true of Fort Sheridan. You're on the post and not "at" it.

It's one of the world's finest frolics to go on "the station" these days of a Wednesday afternoon for the drill and sham battle. Eighteen thousand jack tars and their officers are there, many of them in the maneuvers. And Capt. Moffett, admiral of the fleet, and his staff are present for the review.

Thousands upon thousands of visitors are also there, and the afternoon's as jolly as a country fair, although I believe the government gobbles up our new jackies now at the rate of five hundred a fortnight. But you never miss them. Off they go, these fine, jolly, red cheeked chaps, and on comes a new squad of patriots several thousand strong. In the language on the station, newcomers are all "patriots."

"Send me a dozen patriots to shovel coal!" shouts the bosun's mate.

Another duck of an idea they have at Great Lakes is that each camp's a battleship, and the regiments at Farragut, Camps Dewey, Decatur, and Paul Jones are all ashore, once they are out of camp. The administration building's the flagship and when Capt. Moffet leaves the building in his motor with his aids, Lieuts. Charles Dewey and Kenneth Goodman, he gives the order "pull away," because they're supposed to be leaving the flagship in the captain's gig.

Camp Paul Jones is a regular town with sixty-eight streets. If you chance to be on the station with some very topping person he motors you round Paul Jones, and you smell the lovely things cooking in the galleys and see everything. Paul Jones is right on the lake, and when it was so blitheringly cold a few days ago they found a "patriot" sleeping with his socks and trousers folded on top of his single blanket, presumably to keep him warm.

Course, when one comes to think of it, Great Lakes station's one of the wonders of the world. Here in a few weeks the freshest land lubbers come out looking like the saltiest sea dogs. They march magnificently, salute with style, and man the guns in the sham battle as if they'd never done anything else. An Annapolis man at Great Lakes, even if he's a tender ensign of last spring's growth, is an object of veneration. He's indeed a sailor of the salt seas, and a superior officer's a god, whom the crowds turn and devour with their eyes.

Several of our married belles are living in Lake Forest this winter to be near their husbands who've signed up for sea duty.

Mrs. Charles Dewey has a Georgian house on the Green Bay road very near the station.

Mrs. Kenneth Goodman keeps open the house of her parents, a charming white colonial one on Sheridan road.

Mrs. Addison Stillwell has Mrs. R. R. McCormick's farm until her husband shall be on sea service, and Mrs. Teddy Bermingham, the bride, once Catherine Carpenter, is at present at Onwentsia with her husband waiting for orders.

Mrs. Harold Edward Potter

Mrs. Harold Edward Potter was married on Saturday. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. B. Harris of 5315 Dorchester avenue.

Chicago Society Soon to Welcome McAdoo Beauty

A MEMBER of the McAdoo family will soon be welcomed in Chicago society. Miss Mary Faith McAdoo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Ross McAdoo of New York and niece of William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, was married yesterday to Lawrence Otis Wilson, son of Walter H. Wilson of 2619 Prairie avenue. The ceremony was performed at noon in the Episcopal church at Litchfield, Conn., where the parents of the bride have a country home. Mrs. Wilson is noted for her beauty.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Neilsen, the latter formerly Mrs. Edward Morris, are in New York on their honeymoon and expect to return to the city before long.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Chatfield-Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Aldis of Lake Forest were hosts last evening at the Aldis playhouse when Gopal Mukerji, a Brahmin priest, spoke on "The India of Tagore and Kipling."

Mrs. Potter Palmer is expected to return to the city at the end of the week.

The Young Women's club of St. James' church will have an informal dancing party tomorrow evening in the parish house auditorium from 8 until 11:30 o'clock.

A charity card party will be given by the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Anne's hospital tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Garfield park refectory.

The last dinner dance of the summer season at Exmoor Country club will take place on Saturday evening.

Mrs. George Joseph Jaeger of 470 Deming place has recently returned from the east after leaving her son, George, at Phillips Exeter academy in New Hampshire.

WEDDINGS

The marriage of Miss Hazel H. S. Felman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice A. Felman of Joliet, to Dr. Jacob Richter Buchbinder of this city will take place on Thursday evening at 6:30 in the Congress hotel.

The marriage is announced of Miss Anna Frances Gaherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Gaherty, to Charles G. Rose, son of Mrs. Charles G. Rose of 666 Sheridan road.

Mrs. Anna Kirschstein of 3136 Lyndale street announces the marriage of her daughter, Alfrieda Charlotte, to Norman I. Schaaf of Minneapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Carson of 923 Argyle street announce the marriage of their daughter, Natalia, to Capt. Jesse Ward Nelson.

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lincoln Lindsey of Evanston of the marriage of their daughter, Ruth Lillian, to Arthur Van Vlissingen Jr., which took place on Saturday.

ENGAGEMENTS

R. E. Williams of Norwood Park announces the engagement of his daughter, Celia Josephine Campbell, to William Arthur Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Jackson of Norwood Park.

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Levy of Oklahoma City, Okla., of the engagement of their daughter, Bertha Lillian, to Milton S. Hirsch of 5101 Drexel boulevard.

CLUB NOTES

Suffragists of both camps were as busy as bees yesterday. In the committee rooms of the Columbus Memorial building a small group representing the Woman's party, to which belong the celebrated "Kaiser Wilson" pickets, met to discuss a series of suffrage meetings they are planning for early October. A wire was sent to the members of the judiciary committee urging that a woman's suffrage committee be formed. A cheer was sent to the women in Occoquan prison. Congratulations were sent to the Canadian women on their winning of national suffrage and asking them to urge their government in the name of liberty to take a similar step immediately.

At the headquarters of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association, which has come on record as being opposed to the use of picketing, more than 100 members of the Emergency league met to compare notes regarding the financial drive for the new constitution. Mrs. Wm. A. Walton of Woodlawn brought in the largest individual sum, $205. Pledges amounting to $1,616.50 were received from other members.

Massachusetts colony, Illinois Colony Dames, will hold its regular monthly meeting this afternoon at the Hotel La Salle.

Mrs. William Duff Haynie, chairman of the war relief committee of the Chicago chapter, D. A. R., announces that the workroom, 921 Fine Arts building, will be open Mondays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays, and urges all members to come and assist.

Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, has been made a member of the ... war council.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

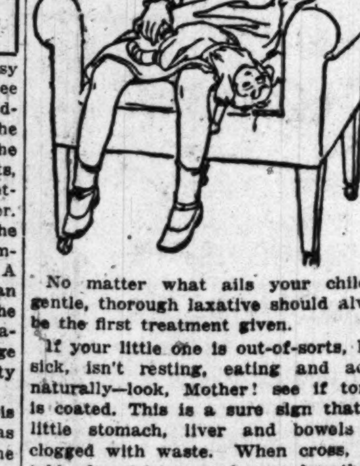
Give "California Syrup of Figs" if cross, bilious or feverish.



No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that the little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs;" then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Advertisement.

THEATERS

AMONG the items of news dispensed this morning by the managers is the employment of Conway Tearle by Miss Ethel Barrymore to play Armand to her Camille. He was with her in "Mid-Channel" as the tame robin of that romance. Also, it is made known Miss Florence Nash will be starred by W. A. Brady in Fanny Hurst's "The Land of the Free," hopefully described as "a Jewish Peg o' My Heart." Furthermore, Glenn Hall, a tenor of Chicago residence and kinship is to go into "Kitty Darlin'," the operatic version of "Sweet Kitty Bellairs," with Miss Alice Nielsen.

At the Majestic:

"A Drawing from Life"—First class vaudeville satire wherein Arthur Sullivan acts a selfish idler as well as Miss Mercedes Clarke does his oppressed wife, which is very well.

Medlin, Watts and Townes—A fat man and two coxcombs in flippant song and banter. "While you're fighting away in France, you're wife is pressing the boarder's pants," they sing with no considerable delicacy. After which one of them sips the rouge from another's lips. Popular, though nauseous. As an addition to their concert this madrigal of Beaumont and Fletcher (not on the Orpheum time) is suggested:

> Three merry boys, and three merry boys,
> And three merry boys are we,
> As ever did sing in a hempen string,
> Under the gallow-tree.

Lina Abarbanell—A primly piquant vocalist in a repertoire of clean songs, assisted by Milton Schwarzwald, composer of "Flora Bella." A polite and melodious interlude. Miss Abarbanell may be identified further as the wife of Edward Goldbeck, one of the most popular of THE TRIBUNE's ex-contributors.

Nate Leipsig—Blandly performing miracles with cards, in the cunning manipulation of which he has few peers.

"The Four Husbands"—Said to be a musical comedy.

The Misses Kouns—Gifted Topekans, who, with modest assurance, arouse interest in a recital of pretty and familiar music. They are less casual than they used to be, both in dress and manner, and are the hit of the bill.

A. G. WHEELER, BUILDER, DEAD

Albert Gallatin Wheeler, engineer and builder, died yesterday at his residence at 5240 Sheridan road. He was 63 years old. Mr. Wheeler had been active in various enterprises until within a short time of his fatal illness.

It was Mr. Wheeler's activity that brought about the construction of the Illinois tunnel through which freight is distributed in Chicago. The company was formed and lacked cash. Mr. Wheeler went to New York and obtained the aid of E. H. Harriman and the construction work was pushed through.

Mr. Wheeler is survived by his widow and a son, Albert Gallatin Wheeler Jr., a New York broker, and a daughter, Mrs. E. W. Gearhart. The funeral will be tomorrow at 11 o'clock in Graceland chapel.

WOMEN IN WARTIME

WE may not be canning quite so madly as we did a few weeks ago, but we are not to be allowed to forget the conservation campaign of the government as expounded by Mr. Hoover's representatives and the members of the Woman's committee, C. N. D. At the Palace theater Thursday from 12 to 1 Mrs. Irving Stern of the Woman's committee will preside at a conservation mass meeting to which all Chicago is invited. The Grant Park Naval band will play, and there will be patriotic singing. Dr. Howard Agnew Johnson, official representative of Herbert C. Hoover, will be the principal speaker.

Since the troops have been called to Rockford the demands upon the Home Service department of the Red Cross have been increased three fold, according to Marquis Eaton. Mrs. Katherine Briggs, for many years associated in the work of the United Charities, has been placed in charge of this branch of the Red Cross work, the aim of which is to give emergency financial aid at once to families of men called to the colors.

The settlements, through the Home Charities department of the Woman's committee, C. N. D., are calling for helpers. Gads Hill center needs sewing, cooking and music teachers, library assistants, kindergarten assistants and an enthusiastic woman to take charge and institute "pep" into a club for women which has just been organized. Hull house is in need of teachers of English and dancing and leaders for literary and social clubs. Maxwell street settlement wants club leaders, and needs men workers especially, for most of its men assistants have gone in the army.

A number of women interested in the Second Illinois Field artillery, commanded by Col. Milton J. Foreman, are about to organize for the purpose of supplying the wool for knitting of sweaters, scarfs and mittens for the men by the women of the regiment. Among the women who are interested are: Mrs. William Holabird, Mrs. Marshall Field III, Miss Agnes Foreman, Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank, Mrs. Allan Ripley, Miss Estelle Foreman, Mrs. John A. Holabird, Mrs. Harry D. Orr, Miss Marie Piamondon, Mrs. William S. Monroe, Mrs. Leonard A. Busby, and Mrs. Harvey Austrian.

GLOVES—in the Opening Week assortments are directly responsive to the many demands made by the varied new fashions of fall and winter.
First Floor, North.

First Floor, North.

Guided by the proven judgment of those in this organization, skilled in matters concerning dress, fashions and fabrics typifying the certain way of the mode for the fall and winter of the year are gathered in a complete presentation for the

Autumn Opening of 1917

From sources which at once dispose of any question concerning their success, new modes in millinery, suits, coats, frocks, gowns, blouses, furs and the many delightful dress accessories, as well as fabrics in great variety, offer an impressive review of the fashions chosen by this store to meet the approval of an exacting clientele.

No better occasion than this could be suggested for our patrons to make their selections for fall and winter.

Millinery—
Masters the Artistry of Line

A revival of the picturesque is heralded by this new type of hat for ceremonious wear. Another revival—the poke bonnet—comes to accompany the "bustle" frock.
Fifth Floor South

The hat is once again the climax of the costume. And this Opening Week presents a collection of masterpieces in millinery—delightful proof of this turn of fashion, decreeing hats for all occasions even unto the formal.

A harmony of line attained only by that perfection of workmanship akin to art distinguishes this millinery.

Brocades, velvets and "satin monsieur" are the mediums of expression for this line. New treatments of ostrich are noted. And into it all enters that individualism, long a supreme achievement of millinery presented here.

Blouses—
Certain Means to Gain Smartness

A distinct triumph is scored by these blouses in their highly original treatment of collars, neckline and cuffs—points of supreme importance in blouses for this fall and winter season.
Fourth Floor North

Through the province of these blouse assortments one can impart a distinction to the wardrobe this season wholly delightful. Truly decorative touches are added by new designs of beading and embroidery, exquisitely worked out.

Georgette crepe and laces in combinations and Georgette crepe alone form the substance in suit blouses—to match or contrast in colorings.

An engaging simplicity of line is the characteristic of dress mode in blouses—as well as the quality distinguishing the less elaborate blouses for more general wear. $8.75 to $57.50, the price range.

Silks—
From the Looms of Many Lands

An assortment of all silk pebble back crepe charmeuse in dark colors, in black and white, and silk-and-wool satin charmeuse in street shades, both 40 inches wide. $4 yard.
Second Floor North

No new mode in silks, whether expressed in the exacting shade of a favored color or elaborately in some striking design, is unnoted in these assortments.

With discriminating intelligence these silks have not alone been chosen to express the new fashions but those fashion phases most certain to meet with approval among our patrons.

Women's Suits—
Present Convincing Proof of Distinction

This display is prepared with a thorough anticipation of the many occasions at which the suit mode is correct. In consequence every separate occasion is met with the proper mode.
Fourth Floor North

Designed, collected, approved by good taste. So one might sum up the suit mode in assembly here for Opening Week. There is that elegance gained only by a high degree of tailoring—a distinguishing trait throughout.

New weaves take service with mode to produce these suits. Evora, rayonner, Siberian cloth, oriana, coute de soie, and duvet de laine are first favored.

Satin suits, luxurious with furs form an intensely interesting group. Then one has the gratification of choosing from the best of the new in tailored type suits. $25 to $225, as the style determines.

Women's Evening Gowns—
Befit the Character of the Occasion

Fourth Floor North

All the brilliancy of a new social season is glimpsed in these displays. Opera gowns, theatre frocks, dinner gowns are here in assortments that attest real genius in selection. Each individual gown is supremely for its own occasion.

Black with brilliants, white with gold, wonderful color shadings, pass in review. Some frocks come under the Spanish influence and bear toreador sashes. $50 to $275.

Not for evening—but so distinctive they must be noted are the new tailored broadcloth frocks in two colors such as navy blue with army blue, and tan, tabac and mahogany. Priced at $75 to $110.

Wool Fabrics—
That Form Fashion's Foundation

Interestingly featured are the Twivale velours of beautiful quality, especially suitable for street coats—54-inch width—in brown, taupe, plum, green, navy blue, black—$4 yard.
Second Floor North

Falling gracefully into the ways of the fashions are cashmere serges, wool-and-silk voiles, Bolivia cloths, velours, serge foule, tricotines, Scotch homespuns and beautiful coatings from abroad which find no counterpart in their luxurious fitness for street and motor coats.

Furs—
All the Successes of the Season

Capes, scarfs, stoles, jacquettes, all phases of fur fashion, are in this Opening Week Display. Muffs for the fur-trimmed apparel are given widest representation.
Fourth Floor North

The unusual and original are expressed to a degree hitherto unnoted in fur fashions. Significantly prominent is the mode variety which provides furs different for different occasions and as differently designed for the varied types of women and young women.

Hudson seal (dyed muskrat) coats often with other fur in combination—$185 to $600. Moleskin coats of exquisite peltries are $485 to $615.

Women's Coats—
Of Rich Fabrics Enriched by Furs

Scarf collars of fur or velvet, shawl collars, and high collars admit of the most interesting variety in the coat mode. Full justice is done these distinguishing details.
Fourth Floor North

In the character of the cut and the cloth the coat mode of "1917" in presentation here establishes a new standard for distinctiveness. Originalities appear in the handling of the new fur-edged panel lines, in the interpretation of the belted modes.

Misses' Party Frocks—
Simple in Line, Radiant in Color

Such rarely beautiful color combinations as pale green and mauve, blue and violet add their loveliness to these party frocks for youth. The newer rose shades, too, are exquisite.
Fourth Floor South

Frocks of silks in subtle shadings, of filmy crepe chiffons exquisitely tinted—with every attribute a young girl's evening frock should have—grace and youth and all-pervading charm, and alight with crystal beads, sparkling sequins, metal laces, $50 to $165.

Daring in effect yet almost classic in line is a frock of white satin braided in gold with an inset panel from neck to hem of geranium pink velvet.

Dinner gowns and luncheon frocks are featured. The open sleeve grows more insistent as a fashion detail. Georgette crepe banded in fur or satin forms this phase of mode. $37.50 to $125.

Misses' Suits—
Weave Youth into the Mode

A blending of both the Russian and Turkish inspiration—with perfect balance—may be noted in one suit, pictured herewith. It is significant of the distinction to be had here.
Fourth Floor South

Here is a transformation of the materials most fashion-favored into suits whose characteristic is youth. But it is a youth translated into as many different terms as there are types of young womanhood.

Fur-trimmed suits with a touch of the formal in fashion are of velvets, of duvet de laine and rayonner cloth. Others are in the tailored trend. $30 to $235.

Indeed, these assortments may be looked upon as a source from which every occasion may be satisfied. Even the novelty of the new "bustle" suit has representation in these widely inclusive displays.

Infants' Wear—
Current Modes in Miniature

Baby millinery deserves a word of its own, as it is shown in most inviting form—from wee white bonnets to creations of "plumed" velvets. $1.50 to $13.50.
Third Floor North

Behold a real treasury of baby things. Here conveniently assembled together is everything new for baby "no years old to little folk of six"—tipped with that touch of daintiness that never fails to strike a deep responsive chord in mother's heart.

It's a step to the counters piled high with the warmest of sweater coats. Another step to frocks of flower-like charm—yet so serviceable and sensible.

In coats—never was more variety. Velvets royally rich with furs. Sturdy cloth coats, broadcloth coats, exquisite silk coats in light colors. Priced variously from $7.95 to $57.50.

Footwear—
For Every Phase of Fashion

The soft-toned grays, fawns, tans and browns set the color standard in footwear. The lasts are long, slender, shapely—the uppers finely fashioned and in the correct height.
Third Floor South

Assortments are these that have carried fashion into the domain of the boot-maker—and emerged with varied modes nicely discriminated to meet every occasion of fashion. Opening Week here presents to our patrons footwear designed differently for every costume.

Here are specialized styles for street, for afternoon, for shopping, for the autumn sports wear, for evening.

Evening slippers in brocades and silver are $7.50 to $10. Dress boots in grays, fawns, tans and browns, and many styles with contrasting tops, $14.50 to $18.50. Tan calf boots for walking and tailored wear, $8 to $12.50.

Mme. Irene Corsets—
First Requisites of a New Season

Brassieres are the logical accompaniments of the topless models. A completely new collection is presented from the bandeau at $1 to hand-made affairs of laces and silk at $15.
Third Floor North

Word that brings authoritative confirmation of the lines that are to mold the silhouette "1917"—is that brought by this showing of the new Mme. Irene corsets. No radical innovations are dictated—but the low-top is much favored.

Fine fabrics and finish play a prominent part in these corsets. Their appeal is to the fastidious women who demand daintiness in detail.

Every figure type is provided for individually. Assortments are as widely inclusive in price range as in style variety. One chooses Mme. Irene corsets in coutil at $5, to those of exquisite brocades, $27.50.

Misses' Coats—
Dictate Their Own Fashion Terms

An inkling of the uncommon modes here may be gathered from this coat of duvet de laine—whose fur collar is both shawl and scarf in design. Tassels tell the way of the line.
Fourth Floor South

They abide by the general fashion declaration of no annexation in length or renunciation of richness. Then they proceed to make their own rules as to the way of imparting that subtle quality of difference so sought by youth.

Soft, velvety weaves in dark rich colorings compose the street coat mode. Furs, the youth-giving sort, are added in collars, cuffs, bandings. $30 to $150.

For evening wear—cape coats of velvets or gorgeously embroidered satins, place all their appeal in their grace of drapery. Informal afternoon coats present new ideas in panel lines. $40 to $235.

STATE INSISTS MEANS BE HELD WITHOUT BAIL

HOYNE 'PLANTED' PAPERS WITH HIM, WILLIAMS HINTS

Prosecutor and Pastor Heap Epithet on Epithet.

State's Attorney Hoyne and the Rev. Elmer L. Williams yesterday resumed their exchange of verbal shots started Sunday evening when the minister assailed the county prosecutor from his pulpit in the Grace M. E. church.

Mr. Hoyne gave out an extended supplementary statement and announced that he had finished "advertising" Mr. Williams. The clergyman answered this and later handed out a further 2,500 word broadside of charges and queries. In this attack Mr. Williams declared the avalanche of charges and the rebuke of ministers of the federated churches had "silenced Hoyne's batteries."

The prosecutor declared the statements of Mr. Williams were handled by Mr. William's "pals" and directors general of publicity, Patrick H. O'Donnell and Attorney Charles E. Erbstein."

Pastor Praises O'Donnell.

Mr. Williams in his final statement replied:

"I consider it an honor to be associated with Patrick H. O'Donnell, who had the courage and intelligence to break down the gigantic conspiracy of perjury, to prevent the waste of the people's money in supporting stall fed perjurers in first class hotels, and to rid Chicago of such criminals as the million dollar burglar trust members by sending them back to Joliet where they belong. The citizens of Chicago, the members of the bar, and the taxpayers owe Mr. O'Donnell a vote of thanks."

Concerning his associations with Frank Campbell, detective, called a lawbreaker by Mr. Hoyne, the minister said he employed him as he would any detective. He asks the state's attorney why he does not prosecute Campbell if the detective is a gambler.

He offers a copy of an affidavit made by Campbell which is a denial of Mr. Hoyne's statement that he (Hoyne) refused to meet Mr. Williams during the last campaign except in the prosecutor's office.

"I am now persuaded," the statement continues, "that George Cohen, the morals investigator, who brought a package of papers to me to keep for him, was sent to me by Mr. Hoyne. I never undid the package and do not now know the substance of the reports contained in it. If it is a criminal offense to have such reports, then let Hoyne raid the 'morgues' of the newspapers of Chicago and get confidential informaiton on his own office, for it would make interesting reading."

Hoyne's Statement.

Mr. Hoyne's statement follows in part: "Williams' correspondence shows he has joined with a gang of criminals, most of whom are now in the penitentiary, where I put them—with 'Pin Brigade' Patrick O'Donnell, counsel for crooks; with Francis A. Beckor, city hall gang leader, referred to by Williams as 'my dear Brother Becker'; with George Cohen, Becker's follower, who Becker and Williams put on the city pay roll; with Frank A. Campbell of the Central Detective agency, who under the guise of working for anti-saloon leagues and anti-gambling leagues has shaken down or sought to shake down saloonkeepers and gamblers in this state and in Michigan and who has more recently operated crooked poker games in loop hotels.

Charges Aid to Burglar.

"It is a particular source of displeasure to Williams that Kleinman, a burglar, was again sent to the penitentiary last week, despite the framing done by Williams and Pat O'Donnell to try to save him. Among the questions propounded by Williams are some cases dealing with crimes against women and children. These cases have all been mentioned in the newspapers before. Nevertheless, if any reputable man or woman needs further explanation I refer them to Miss Ladra Ebel, who was placed in this office by the Juvenile Protective association to take care of just such kind of cases.

"I defy this yellow, crawling, lying cur to submit his questions to the Chicago Citizens' association or the Chicago Bar association. I will answer in detail any one of those questions which they ask me to answer."

The Becker Case.

Evidence of witness tampering in the new case against Becker is under investigation by the prosecutor's office. One man, Gustave Nagel, owner of a café at State and Oak streets, was brought into the office yesterday and questioned by Mr. Hoyne's assistants.

Mrs. Louis A. Berger, whose husband is alleged to have paid money to Becker to have his (Berger's) saloon license restored, told the state's attorney that Nagel had told her to "lay off the Becker case."

Nagel denied Mrs. Berger's story.

R. N. Cooley of Evanston Seriously Hurt by Auto

R. N. Cooley of 1211 Gran street, Evanston, was seriously injured last night by an automobile driven by Michele Waisdorff of 1610 Edgewater avenue at West Railroad and Lincoln avenues, Evanston. Waisdorff in trying to avoid Mr. Cooley swerved the car sharply and ran into an automobile driven by Mrs. M. G. Truman of 2450 Harrison street, Evanston. Both cars were slightly damaged, but neither Mrs. Truman nor Waisdorff was injured. The police are satisfied that the accident was unavoidable.

"WILD WOMEN"

Osmer L. Waterman Is Accused by Spouse of Having Been Too Friendly with the Above Designated Other Sex. She Wants a Divorce.

OSMER L. WATERMAN, half owner of the firm of Schultz & Waterman, cleaners and dyers, was sued for divorce yesterday by Mrs. Elizabeth Waterman. She accuses him of being too friendly with "wild women."

Other suits filed:

Ray J. Loco accuses Bessie of misconduct and names a Dr. Harry Dunham.

PASTORS INDORSE E. L. WILLIAMS IN ROW WITH HOYNE

Resolutions 'Smooth Over' the Prosecutor's Charges.

Resolutions praising the Rev. Elmer L. Williams for his work to alleviate north side vice conditions and terming his services of "incalculable benefit to the city" were adopted yesterday by the union ministers' meeting held in the First Methodist Episcopal church under the auspices of the Chicago Church federation.

"In the controversy between State's Attorney Hoyne and the Rev. E. L. Williams we have full confidence in Mr. Williams' character and rectitude of purpose. Mr. Hoyne has not charged Mr. Williams with doing anything which it is not necessary to do in order to get at the facts of the real inner situation."

The resolutions were adopted unanimously. They were offered over the signatures of E. J. Davis, R. B. Benjamin, J. M. Kittleman, A. D. Morrison, Phillip Yarrow, and Norman B. Barr.

With regard to the resolutions adopted by the ministers, Mr. Hoyne said:

"The only comment that I would care to make is that E. J. Davis, whose name is signed to the resolution, is another man with a grievance against me. We tried to send him to jail on a charge of contempt of court for tampering with a grand jury.

"Charges have been made in the past to this office connecting Davis with incendiary fires.

"I do not think I am acquainted with the Rev. Mr. Yarrow, whose name also appears, but it is sufficient to say for the statement that I never heard of Williams reforming anything or anybody."

Mr. Davis said he did not care to reply to the innuendo of Mr. Hoyne, except to say that he was in no way responsible for two fires that he suffered a number of years ago and could easily prove his innocence. One fire resulted from a bursting dynamo and the other occurred during a strike.

BELLE GAERTNER, ONCE A DANCER, DENIED ALIMONY

Mrs. Belle Gaertner, known as "Belle Brown" when she danced in cabarets, lost her first clash with her husband, William Gaertner, manufacturer of scientific instruments at 5325 Lake Park avenue, yesterday when Judge Fitch dismissed her petition for $50 a week temporary alimony.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaertner were married on June 4, two months after Mrs. Gaertner had won a divorce decree. In her petition for temporary alimony she said she and Mr. Gaertner went to Crown Point to marry with the intention of not returning to Chicago until the year prescribed by law had elapsed. Mr. Gaertner, however, said he went there to evade the Illinois laws.

C. A. Waldron, attorney for Mrs. Gaertner, was allowed five days to file another petition.

Sanitary District Engineer Hopes to Save City $58,500.

Sanitary district trustees on Thursday will act on a recommendation that the district's rates for municipal electric street lighting be cut 25 per cent.

If the recommendation is acted upon favorably, and the district engineers believe it will be, it will mean a saving of approximately $58,500 a year to Chicago, that amount being 25 per cent of $234,000, which was the city's electric street lighting bill for 1916 for current supplied by the district.

Then, as now, the sanitary district supplied the city with the great bulk of its street lighting. At the present time the Commonwealth-Edison company furnishes current for only 1,300 of the city's street lamps. The neighboring communities of Blue Island, Maywood, Berwyn, Dolton, and Evergreen Park use sanitary district street lighting exclusively, and also will profit if the recommendation is made effective.

May Cut Commercial Rates.

It was also learned that the district engineers have under consideration another recommendation that there shall be a cut in rates to commercial power users below rates charged for the same class of service by the Commonwealth-Edison company.

Present municipal electric street lighting rates of the sanitary district are considerably cheaper than those of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, and the proposed cut would make the difference much greater, it was stated by G. S. Brack, electrical engineer for the district, and the man who is chiefly responsible for the recommendation.

Boost for Public Ownership.

"It has often been argued by public utility corporations that municipal ownership is impractical," he said. "The history of the district and the present rate cutting proposal would seem to be an effective answer to such arguments."

Oak Park, Evanston, Waukegan, and other towns which buy their light from the Public Service company will not be able to get contracts with the sanitary district under the new rate.

"No municipality getting its lighting current from the Public Service company can obtain such service cheaper, and couldn't, even if the sanitary district served free of charge," said Charles A. Monroe, vice president of the company."

ASKS UNCLE TO ACCOUNT FOR $100,000 ESTATE

Charges that her bequeathed estate of $100,000 has "mysteriously disappeared" and that her uncle, William H. Utt, should know just where the money went, were made in a bill for an accounting filed in the Circuit court yesterday by Mrs. Lucille L. McNair Allen of Winnetka.

Mr. Utt was the husband of Mrs. Sarah Utt and is the trustee of her estate. By a prenuptial agreement, the bill asserts, Mr. Utt was to receive a certain portion of the estate in lieu of all other claims.

By the terms of the will Utt, trustee, was to make payments from the income of the estate to Mrs. Allen and when she was 50 years old the entire estate was to be turned over to her. But Mrs. Allen alleges Utt informed his niece that all the money had been lost and diverted. Two hours after the suit was filed Utt was ordered by a deputy not to leave Chicago.

HUNT NEGRO WHO SLEW BUSINESS MAN IN GARAGE

Club Member Failed to Pacify the Black with Apology.

Efforts of the police to capture Arthur Eugenes, a Negro, alleged slayer of Russell Dale, were redoubled yesterday as a result of the testimony submitted at the coroner's inquest.

Police of other cities have been given a description of Eugenes and have been asked to be on the lookout for him.

Mr. Dale, who was a widely known business man and a member of the Chicago Automobile, Flossmoor, Ridge, and the Detroit Athletic clubs, was shot down in the Marmon automobile garage at 2241 Michigan avenue last Friday night. He died on Saturday at Wesley hospital. He lived at 10620 South Seeley avenue, was manager of the Tungsten Valve company, and general sales manager of the Rich Tool company.

According to the story told the coroner by Ollie A. Holman, manager of the Marmon garage, Dale stopped at the garage and asked for a chauffeur to drive him home. He stepped out of the office into the garage and spoke to Eugenes, who was washing a car.

"Say, nigger, do you want to drive me home?" said Dale, whereupon the Negro, with an oath, pulled his gun and shot. The bullet went wide and Lewis Aroe, 1457 Hudson avenue, stepped up to Dale and asked him to go back into the office. After a short talk with Holman and Aroe, Dale went back to where Eugenes stood.

"I meant no insult," explained Dale to the Negro. "I have had a colored boy with me for twenty-five years and I often call him nigger."

The Negro was in sulky humor and without waiting for Dale's explanation shoved his gun against Dale's stomach and fired. This is according to Holman's testimony.

When those who had witnessed the shooting ran to Dale's assistance Eugenes fled. He has not been seen since. He is said to have left the city shortly after the shooting.

The police description gives Eugenes as about 27 years old, with a hair lip and front gold teeth. Private detectives retained by Dale's friends are keeping close watch of the Negro's acquaintances in Chicago. He lived at 30 West Forty-fifth place.

Deputy Coroner Webster adjourned the inquest until Oct. 9 in hopes of obtaining further testimony.

Dale leaves a widow and a stepdaughter. The funeral will be held this afternoon from 10620 South Seeley avenue.

BEG YOUR PARDON!

SUNDAY'S story of the going away of 1,809 soldiers of the new National Army said that the exemption board of District 42 had hoped to have all the good-by festivities over and done with "before the men boarded an elevated train at the Sheridan road station."

The exemption-board's members say that the men did not go to the Grand Central station on the "L," but marched to music by a Hand band to Hull House, where they ate lunch and then to the station, the proceedings on the entire route being festal, emotional and patriotic.

A half page picture in the Rotogravure Section of THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE showed troops with the American colors and was labeled "First Illinois Engineers in London."

The First Illinois Engineers are in Camp Logan, Houston, Tex. The contingent of American engineers in the picture was of Col. Langfitt's regiment, which paraded there in review by King George in mid-August; they are now in France.

Seafaring Man Walks Off Dock Into River

John Flood, an ancient sailorman, being a bit awash, due to a shifting ballast of Barleycorn, veered off the docks at Clark street yesterday and fell into the river. He was fished out by Policeman Conlin and revived and later sent to the bridewell hospital.

STEFFEN MOVES TO CURB POWER OF FUNKHOUSER

Plan for Full Board to Pass on Films Up Today.

An effort will be made at today's meeting of the judiciary committee of the city council to curb the motion picture censorship powers of M. L. C. Funkhouser, second deputy superintendent of police.

Ald. Walter P. Steffen is to ask the committee to recommend for adoption his amendment to the censorship ordinance. The amendment provides that where a picture is rejected the entire censor board shall pass judgment on it.

If the committee passes favorably on the Steffen amendment it will have the effect of practically stripping Maj. Funkhouser of his present powers.

Under present conditions there is no appeal from the major's decisions except to go into the courts.

Maj. Funkhouser, relative to the picture, "The Conqueror," writes to THE TRIBUNE inclosing a copy of a letter sent to the attorneys for the Fox Film corporation.

"The eight reels still retain some objectionable features, and when removed a general permit will be issued for the picture. The objectionable features are:

Judge Robert E. Crowe yesterday characterized as "a shame and an outrage" Maj. Funkhouser's attitude toward the censorship of questionable moving pictures.

The ire of the court was aroused when the case of the Vitagraph company against Chief Schuettler wherein a permit to show "Within the Law" is sought, was being argued before him.

"There are affidavits on file in this case, uncontradicted," said Judge Crowe, "that allege Funkhouser has openly stated he intends to harass every film company that seeks permits for films that are questionable. He intends to do this without regard to the merits of the films and this attitude is an outrage."

A motion to dissolve the temporary injunction granted on Sept. 1 by Judge Samuel Alschuler, enjoining the city from prohibiting the showing of the film "The Spy," will be argued before Federal Judge George A. Carpenter this morning.

POLICE ORDER

Chief Has New Plan to Curb Politics in Department.

No policeman can be transferred and no commanding officer can have one of his men transferred unless each explains the cause for wishing the transfer, Chief Schuettler ruled in a general order issued last night.

The chief, it is said, is thus attempting to rid the police department of "politics."

At the same time he transferred thirty-one patrolmen.

TWO DEATHS AND 8 NEW CASES OF POLIO REPORTED

Eight new cases of infantile paralysis were reported yesterday by Health Commissioner Robertson. He also reported two deaths since Saturday.

"The situation seems a little more favorable," said the commissioner. "The danger is not past, but the cool weather is helping to keep down the spread."

The commissioner directed Charles B. Ball, chief sanitary inspector, to make a thorough cleaning up of the Fifteenth ward, which has more paralysis cases than any other ward in the city. The Seventeenth ward also will come into the cleaning up campaign.

BURNING OF HAT DESTROYS CLEW IN KING TRAGEDY

Sister of Means Set Fire to Widow's Headgear, Says Father.

BULLETIN.

Concord, N. C., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—E. T. Cansler, of counsel for Gaston B. Means, it was reported late tonight, has applied to Judge James E. Webb of the Superior court at Gastonia for a writ of habeas corpus for his client. Should the writ be issued, and Means is held for the grand jury as a result of the hearing here, the hearing on the writ would be transferred to Gastonia, forty-five miles south of Concord.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Concord, N. C., Sept. 24.—With a demand that Gaston B. Means be remanded to jail without bail on a charge of the murder of Mrs. Maude A. King, the state rested its case in the preliminary hearing today. Although the state did not attempt to indicate a motive for murder, these things were forcibly emphasized:

Mrs. King's hat, a desirable bit of circumstantial evidence, has disappeared.

Medical experts, Dr. William H. Burmeister, coroner's physician, of Chicago, and Dr. Otto Schultze, medical assistant to the district attorney of New York, both insisted Mrs. King was murdered.

Mrs. Melvin at Means' Side.

The demand for the immediate imprisonment of Means was made by Attorney General James R. Manning, who occupied a place with the attorneys for the prosecution, led by Hayden Clement, prosecuting attorney of this district.

"I feel," he said, "that the state of North Carolina has made a clear case against Gaston B. Means, and he should be remanded to jail without bail."

This came when the state suddenly rested its case, and the defense, represented by eight lawyers, obtained a continuance until tomorrow morning. Throughout the proceedings Mrs. Mary Melvin, sister of Mrs. King, sat beside Means. They conversed animatedly from time to time, their talk seeming to hinge about items of evidence.

The first move was made by the defense, who took a change of venue from Justice of the Peace A. B. Palmer, who appointed Justice of the Peace C. A. Pitts to conduct the hearing. Justice Pitts' mother and the maternal grandmother of Means are third cousins.

Prosecutor Charges Murder.

The state in presenting its case at no time referred to a motive for murder. Mr. Clement told the court he would prove a murder had been committed, and that it was a physical impossibility for Mrs. King, in the circumstances, to have met her death accidentally. In an effort to prove this assention, Mr. Clement questioned Dr. Burmeister and Dr. Schultze.

Dr. Burmeister produced the bullet and steel jacket of the cartridge he found when he performed the autopsy on the body of Mrs. King in Chicago. He also demonstrated by means of white blotting paper his experiments of the different ranges where powder burns or marks would show on the human body. By this, he declared, it would have been impossible for Mrs. King to have shot herself, as there were no powder burns found when he performed the autopsy.

Testimony Is Applauded.

Dr. Schultze was even more emphatic in his declaration Mrs. King was murdered. He illustrated with a revolver how it would be impossible, in his opinion, clasped in either hand, for the safety clutch of an automatic pistol to be released at the same time the trigger was pulled and for the bullet to enter the brain as found in Mrs. King's wound.

As the two doctors left the stand they were loudly applauded, the court vainly rapping for order.

BINGHAM TELLS STORY.

Capt. Bingham told of the fatal auto ride. Mrs. King, Gaston Means, and Gaston's brother, Afton Means, and himself made up the party, he said. When they arrived at Blackwelder springs, where Mrs. King was killed, he said, the sun was down and the moon was visible. He walked about 140 yards away from the spring, hoping to shoot a young rabbit with his rifle, and then a shot was fired.

He heard Gaston Means calling him and Afton Means to hurry up to the spring. He found Gaston and Afton at Mrs. King's side. Gaston was bathing her head. He said Mrs. King appeared to be dead when he got there.

He said he helped place the body in the car and they brought it to town. At about 11 o'clock that night Bingham said Brandon Means called for him and took him to Gaston Means' home, where it was suggested by one of the brothers that they go back to the spring and get a gun they left there. Bingham said he did not go. Bingham also said Gaston Means asked him not to talk about the affair.

Expert Unable to Fire Pistol.

On cross examination Bingham said he had frequently been on target shooting trips before with Mrs. King and Gaston Means. When he arrived near the spring he heard Gaston say to Afton, "Maude has shot herself accidentally with this little pistol."

Bingham testified that the second shot heard about the time Mrs. King was killed came from his rifle, which he wanted to make certain he had emptied.

Attorney Castler handed him an automatic pistol of the same type with which Mrs. King was killed and asked him to demonstrate its use. His object was to give the court an illustration of the ease with which this weapon can be fired. Bingham, who is regarded here as an expert shot, fumbled with the automatic some minutes without succeeding in firing it at all.

Cross examination elicited the answer that this little automatic was the only pistol Bingham had ever seen Mrs. King fire.

Mrs. King's Hat Burned.

Capt. Bingham, in response to questions by Mr. Clement, told of finding Mrs. King's hat after she had been shot.

"It looked like it was just behind her head a little bit to the right," he said. "It looked as though it might have dropped off her head." It had a brim of about six inches, he said, adding that he placed it in the automobile.

Col. W. G. Means, father of Gaston, informed Mr. Clement before the hearing this morning the defense would be unable to produce Mrs. King's hat as evidence. He said that as the hat was blood soaked, one of his daughters had burned it.

TIME OF SHOT FIXED.

Charles Dry testified he lives within several hundred yards of Blackwelder spring and fixed the time at which the shot that killed Mrs. King was fired at 8:03 o'clock in the evening. Dry said that after he heard the shot he heard a voice calling in low tones, "Afton, you and Capt. Bingham come here quick; you and captain come quick." Then he said he heard several other persons talking together in low tones. He was positive that when this happened "it was dark as it's ever going to get—that the moon was shining, but making mighty little light."

In his testimony he fixed his time for the happenings leading up to the time the shot was fired by his daily farming routine, such as his hauling in a load of corn, feeding "five horses and four hogs," and the like.

The defense attempted to show the shot was fired much before 8 o'clock and that the place where Mrs. King met death was then more or less brilliantly lighted by the moon.

"It was dark as a dungeon in that place [the spring]," was one of Dry's answers.

BURMEISTER ON STAND.

Dr. Burmeister, after describing in medical terms the location of the wound, the course of the bullet through the brain and head, said:

"There were no powder marks about the wound; no evidence of singed hair nor of burns around the wound."

He told of taking measurements of Mrs. King's arms, and this led to this question by the prosecutor:

"State whether it is your opinion, as a medical expert and from the examinations you have made, that Mrs. King could have inflicted the wound which killed her with a pistol held by herself?"

"It is my positive opinion the deceased could not have held the gun which inflicted the wound in her own hand and inflicted it," was the reply.

Insult Quickly Resented.

This question was not answered until after vigorous objections by Means' counsel.

"I suppose you made up your mind Mrs. King could not have killed herself before you ever held the autopsy?" said Mr. Castler.

Dr. Burmeister flushed and looked toward Mr. Clement. The latter did not catch the glance.

"I am sorry that the solicitor did not object to that," Dr. Burmeister began. He got no further, for Mr. Clement rose and protested vigorously against the insult.

STATE SEEKS KING ESTATE.

Disclosure of the value of the estate of Mrs. Maude A. King may follow action taken by the attorney general's office before County Judge Scully yesterday.

Upon the petition of Leroy C. Millner, inheritance tax examiner of the attorney general's office, Luke T. Cunniff, 6533 Greenview avenue, was appointed appraiser of the estate by Judge Scully. The petition referred to Mrs. King as Mrs. Maude A. King Chance, using the surname of Mrs. King's divorced husband, Dr. Perry R. Chance.

FORTUNE TELLER TALKS HERSELF INTO ILL FORTUNE

Fortune tellers can't tell their own futures, for if they could Anna Keslov, one of those large, round, red, green, blue, and bandanaed mystics, wouldn't have picked Edward Palaka, detective sergeant, to try it on yesterday.

Grabbing Mr. Palaka and insisting that if he crossed her hand with silver she would tell him marvelous things about himself, she got herself into trouble. The sergeant produced the half.

"You're going to live long," she said. "You've had trouble, but it's almost over. There's a light haired man an' a dark haired man. Look out for the dark haired man."

"Just as she was telling me not to change my job, that I was doing well where I was, I remarked, 'Sure, I'm a police office, come along,' and she did," said Sergt. Palaka. "Then I had to take her from Cragin station all the way across town in the street car, with all those colored duds on her. Me chaperoning a gypsy—say!"

Mrs. Anna L. Sears Faces a Tax Suit of $226,000

Mrs. Anna L. Sears, whose legal residence is a problem worrying the board of review, may have a suit to collect taxes of $226,000 filed against her if she fails to appear before the board Friday. Her attorney, Charles S. Cutting, was informed of this possibility yesterday by the board and he asserted that he would ask Mrs. Sears to attend the meeting.

"I don't know, though," said Attorney Cutting. "She travels extensively and has interests that may prevent her being here."

There is a suit for taxes now pending in the circuit court against Mrs. Sears, who is the wife of the former head of Sears, Roebuck & Co.

Record Silver Sale.

A telegram received from Toronto states that the Mining Corporation of Canada sold 200,000 ounces of silver at $1.16 7-16 an ounce.

GRAIN FUTURES SHARPLY HIGHER WITH TRADE BIG

Houses with Seaboard Connections Conspicuous Buyers of Corn.

Buying of corn futures was of excellent character yesterday and the market advanced sharply. Final quotations were best of the day and represented gains of 2⅝@2⅞c. Seaboard houses were heavy buyers of corn and there was also much demand from local bulls as well as from shorts. Showers and cooler weather is predicted, but no serious frosts are expected, and conditions over Sunday were highly favorable for hastening the crop to maturity. The fact that the directors of the board will meet today and fix a date for a conference with representatives of other exchanges regarding maximum prices was a factor, and there was also intimation of foreign buying.

Cash corn was 6@10c lower, with local shipping sales 15,000 bu. Receipts were larger at 195 cars and buyers held off. The visible supply decreased 131,000 bu for the week. North America shipped 191,000 bu last week, against 576,000 bu a year ago. Primary markets received 566,000 bu for the day, against 893,000 bu a year ago.

Oats Strong and Higher.

Higher prices also prevailed in the oats pit, the market taking much of its strength from corn, although meeting with strong support at times. Resting spots showed net gains of 1⅝@2c for the day. Buying by Knight-McDougal was a late feature, this house being credited with taking about 1,000,000 bu May oats. Jackson Bros. also took May freely. Ware & Leland and Wagner bought September delivery freely, while Armour bought September and sold December. Latter went to a 2¼c discount under the former. Volume of trade was large, but it was not general in character.

Cash oats were ¾@1½c higher, with local shipping sales 90,000 bu. The seaboard reported 100,000 bu oats taken for export. Sales were made here of 250,000 bu to go to store. Cash houses bought the offerings in the sample market and sold September oats against them. Local receipts were 406 cars. Primary markets received 2,012,000 bu, against 1,948,000 bu a year ago. The visible supply increased 1,813,000 bu.

Sharp Demand for Wheat.

There were 130 cars wheat received here yesterday but the offerings continued to be far below requirements. Receipts at primary markets were 1,364,000 bu against 2,918,000 bu a year ago. There was an increase of 1,096,000 bu for the week in the visible supply. Wheat shipments from North America last week were 3,267,000 bu, against 4,922,000 bu previous week and 6,613,000 bu a year ago. Generally favorable weather conditions for plowing and seeding in the winter wheat belt prevailed and an enlarged acreage is indicated in practically all states.

Products at New Level.

Provisions again soared to new high levels with shorts buying freely. There was considerable selling in way of taking profits, but the offerings were easily absorbed. Higher prices for hogs and the strength in grains was an influence. Receipts of hogs at western markets totaled 53,200 head, against 79,180 a year ago. Exports of lard last week were 582,000 lbs, against 3,899,000 lbs a year ago, while bacon exports were 2,845,000 lbs, against 12,361,000 lbs last year. Liverpool prices were steady for lard and 6d higher for meats. Supplies of all descriptions abroad are light.

Rye Active and Higher.

Rye was steady to 1c higher. Cash No. 2 sold at $1.89@1.90½ and No. 3 $1.89@1.89½. Receipts were 32 cars.

Barley ruled 1c lower. Malting was quoted $1.30@1.41 and sold $1.35@1.41; feed and mixing quotable $1.20@1.36, with sales at $1.31@1.35; screenings were quoted 70c@$1.15 and sold 90c@$1.15. Receipts, 136 cars.

Timothy seed was weak. September closed $8.50 asked; October, $8.40 asked; and March, $8.75 asked. Cash lots were 25c lower and sold at $6.00@7.50. Cloverseed ruled firm, with cash quoted $17.00@22.00 and spot prime $22.65.

Flaxseed closed 2c higher, with cash quoted $3.52 nominal.

AMERICAN GRAIN MARKETS.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 24.—WHEAT—Receipts, 148 cars. CORN—Cash, 1 to 4c lower. SAVINGS MADE BY WAR TIME RAIL SERVICE

Reduction in Passenger Schedules Produces Results.

R. H. Aishton, chairman of the central department committee of the railroads war board, has received reports which show that since the beginning of the war the reduction in passenger train service in the fifteen states in the central department amounts to 9,801,327 train miles per year.

The object in cutting down the passenger service wherever possible was to conserve man power, fuel and locomotives for more important transportation service during the war.

The saving effected thus far by the passenger service reductions in the central department territory amounts per annual to ,1660 men, 989,399 tons of coal, 203,097 barrels of oil and 320 locomotives.

No reduction in passenger train service was made without a careful consideration of the effect on the traveling public. Where an entire train was taken out of service additional coaches were added to other trains. So far it has been found inadvisable to discontinue any of the so-called transcontinental trains west of Chicago.

Germany Hard Hit.

In financial quarters Germany is declared to be meeting serious obstacles in the flotation of the seventh war loan. Advices are that not only are special inducements being offered, but that strong efforts are being made to sell bonds in Switzerland, Denmark and Sweden.

Some of the outside lead interests have shaded their quotations upward and the 7½ cents a pound level has disappeared. The smaller dealers are asking from 7⅝ to 7¾ cents a pound and some of the larger concerns are quoting 8 cents a pound.

Confronted with operating at a loss at present prices for spelter, more zinc plants have closed down and others have inaugurated a policy of drastic curtailment cutting production materially from the figures of last year. Both the Caney and Deering smelters of the American Zinc, Lead and Smelting company have closed. These two smelters have a combined capacity of 38,000 tons of spelter a year. On June 30 there had accumulated 35,000 tons. Producing interests believe that despite the growing curtailment since that time, unsold stocks have been piling up. The domestic demand is declared to have fallen flat while government requirements do not call for today's production.

Money and Exchange.

Money rates in Chicago firm at 5@5¾ per cent on collateral, 5½@5¾ per cent on commercial paper, and 5@6 per cent over the counter. New York exchange, 10@5c discount. Chicago bank clearings, $81,129,796.

CHICAGO STOCK TRANSACTIONS

It is talk in La Salle street that Swift & Co. will shortly order an extra disbursement to shareholders. Considerable uncertainty existed as to the form the dividend would take, but certainty was expressed that something would be done. The stock was well bought and advanced from the opening at 153 to 156⅝. Stewart-Warner was in good tone and advanced to 63 against a close Saturday of 59¼. There was general talk of profits and that earnings for the current year would be around 20 per cent after allowing for excess profits taxes. Sears, Roebuck common was bid up to 159 with a fair volume of trading. Prest-O-Lite and Wilson & Co. were higher, while Union Carbide sold off.

In Foreign Stock Markets.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—Money was in increased supply today. Discounts were quiet. Suspension of the issuance of the five year 5 per cent exchequer bonds led to the belief that a fresh issue of shorter termed bonds redeemable at a premium was contemplated, or that there would be a resumption of the offering of yearling treasury notes. The stock market was quiet with a steady tone. A feature of the trading was a large business in rubbers and specialties. Mining and metal shares were firm. The usual week end investment business was done in gilt edged issues. Argentine rails were weak, being influenced by the strike. American stocks were dull. Bar silver, 55d per ounce. Money, 4 per cent. Discount rates: Short bills, 4¾ per cent; three months' bills, 4 13-16 per cent.

PARIS, Sept. 24.—Trading was quiet on the bourse. Rentes, 61 francs; exchange on London, 27 francs 18 centimes. Five per cent loan, 88 francs 20 centimes.

GOSSIP OF THE PIT

A STATEMENT in one of the local papers regarding maximum corn prices was misconstrued yesterday and caused heavy buying of this grain. The only action the directors of the board of trade will take at their meeting this afternoon in this matter will be to set a date for a conference of interested exchanges. While there has been an impression that maximum prices on corn futures will be removed or modified, there is no certainty of such action, the purpose of the conference being to get a thorough discussion of the matter and do what will be for the best interests of the trade. It has been officially stated on numerous occasions in the past that no action of any sort will be taken previous to the conference.

The character of the buying of corn yesterday had the trade guessing. Houses with seaboard connections were taking corn all through the session, and it was intimated that foreigners were interested. There was also excellent local support and it was said that considerable of the corn was for Patten and Cutten. Purchases by Mincer and Rankin were also believed to be heavy. Claims that recent frosts damaged corn severely in some sections was the basis for some of the buying, although the affected areas were limited. Prospects of wet and cooler weather also encouraged the bulls. No serious frosts are expected, however.

A hog expert who was asked how the country is to overcome the shortage reported by the government of 8.2 per cent in the number of hogs on farms to be fattened, replied: "Easiest thing in the world. Make a 200 lb hog weigh 216 lbs. At present prices it will pay big money to do this."

Cash corn was weak and sales were on a 6@10c lower basis. Offerings were larger and although the industries absorbed liberal amounts they were inclined to name their own price. Local shipping sales were 15,000 bu. Cash oats were ¾@1½c higher. Premiums were about ¼c better, with No. 3 white oats bringing ⅛c over September and standards ⅜@½c over. Big cash interests were again in the makret for oats. Local shipping sales were 90,000 bu, and the seaboard reported 100,000 bu sold for export, also 50,000 bu rye.

Visible supply of wheat this week increased 1,096,000 bu, while corn decreased 131,000 bu; oats increased 1,813,000 bu; rye increased 57,000 bu, and barley increased 91,000 bu. Comparative totals follow:

	This Week.	Last Week.	Last Year.
Wheat ...	6,856,000	5,760,000	56,672,000
Corn	1,805,000	1,936,000	4,483,000
Oats	12,637,000	10,824,000	36,532,000
Rye	1,951,000	1,894,000	1,122,000
Barley ...	5,189,000	5,098,000	2,397,000

Frank L. Carey of the food administration office at Minneapolis said that the movement started last week to expedite wheat shipments from country elevators is not yet well under way and predicted that within a short time there will be adequate shipments to keep the Minneapolis flour mills running up to capacity. The present output is about 70 per cent of their capacity.

World's shipments of wheat last week totaled 5,509,000 bu, a decrease of 1,496,000 bu, and compared with 9,501,000 bu a year ago. Corn shipments were 875,000 bu, decreasing 20,000 bu, and comparing with 3,874,000 bu a year ago. Oats exports were 3,244,000 bu, decreasing 1,077,000 bu and comparing with 3,069,000 bu a year ago.

Receipts inspected yesterday: Wheat, 130 cars; corn, 195 cars; oats, 406 cars; rye, 32 cars; barley, 136 cars. Hogs, estimated for today, 11,000 head.

Deliveries on September contracts yesterday were 110,000 bu oats, 250 brls pork, and 100,000 lbs lard.

WORLD'S WHEAT CROP INCREASES 3.3 PER CENT

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—The world's wheat crop this year for the principal countries which have reported, including the United States, is 1,665,489,000 bushels, an increase of 3.3 per cent over 1916, according to reports from the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome, made public today by the department of agriculture.

Blames Court for Butte & Superior Closing Down

Bruce MacKelvie, president of the Butte and Superior Mining company, speaking of the recent federal court decision in favor of the Minerals Separation company, said: "As a condition of continuing operations, Judge Bourquin requires the company to file a bond of $2,500,000 and to deposit all future earnings in court. Surety companies that have been approached in the matter and made familiar with the nature of the company's assets will not issue a bond, as it is evident that current assets of any mining corporation are largely represented by inventory and metals in process and in transit; so that Judge Bourquin has imposed upon this company the closing down of its mine at a time when the country is at war and requires the maximum production of metal."

COTTON.

NEW YORK, SEPT. 24.—COTTON—The cotton market was extremely nervous and excited today with sensationally violent fluctuations. A break of about 68 to 82 points from the opening prices occurred during the middle of the day. This was followed by an extraordinarily rapid rally of 92 to 114 points, which carried December up to 24.60c, with the general list closing irregular, net 2 points higher to 27 points lower. The market opened irregular at a decline of 4 points to an advance of 9 points. There was a good deal of realizing after the big advance of last week, also some selling for a reaction. A Memphis report, placing the condition of the crop at 59.8 against 67.2 last month, and reports of a tropical disturbance moving northwestward with a low barometer off the Carolina coast, brought in a good deal of buying at the decline. The close showed reactions of about ½c from best under heavy realizing. Exports for the day were 20,256, making 595,004 so far this season. Port receipts, 28,994. U. S. port stocks, 562,830. FINANCIAL NOTES

On account of the shortage of silver currency in the Philippines the Manila National bank, acting under government authority, has contracted with the government printing bureau to print several million peso and smaller notes. The government has ordered the arrest of all persons discounting paper currency and is preparing coast guard vessels to be used as a possible patrol to prevent the exportation of silver pesos and bullion. Small coins are now being sold in the streets at a 10 per cent premium.

The Wire Wheel Corporation of America has made an offer to the preferred stockholders of the Hendee Manufacturing company to exchange one share of the common and one share of the preferred of the Wire Wheel corporation for one share of Hendee stock.

President Shonts in the annual report of the New York Railways company will invite municipal ownership for the company or such a partnership with the city as may be deemed advisable. Mr. Shonts urges a charge of two cents for transfers.

It is expected that the net earnings of the Stewart-Warner Speedometer corporation for the current year, after deducting excess profits, will approximate 20 per cent.

The Coming of Christmas

Retail buying is a good index of general business conditions. The singular prosperity of the great stores of London, and of their bountiful holiday business, has been told; the tale showed an unbroken record of higher profits as the war advanced.

Let us now take a glimpse at Germany, fighting, as it were, with its back to the wall. Ambassador Gerard cites the fact that in May, 1916, Wertheim, head of the great department store in Berlin, told him they were having more business than in peace times.

The force of this statement is realized when it is considered that the German war activities seem to have absorbed practically all the man-power of the nation.

In this country our war measures leave us with a preponderating civilian population. If this were not so we could hardly open our markets to large buyers like our allies, or to the neutral nations within our reach. Just now we are not alone helping to feed and finance several nations, but we are providing with our products new fields in less familiar lands. We could do more exporting if we had the ships; doubtless soon we shall have them. Our problem is likely to be not how we can coax business into our lanes of commerce, but how we can handle it.

It seems evident that Christmas is coming—in the direction of Business—with a beckoning finger.

WALL STREET SATISFIED.

New York, Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Sharp recoveries in the stock market followed the announcement this afternoon of the prices for steel products and raw material fixed by the president. A feeling prevailed that the schedules were equally fair to the producer and the consumer and reflected the desire of the administration to deal equitably with the country's great business interests.

The announcement relieves general industry of all uncertainty as to the future and enables business to plan far ahead. Wall street believes there will be an immediate resumption of trade activity throughout the country. The buying on the stock exchange during the last hour extended to all classes of stocks and was of the most confident sort seen since the early summer.

Brokers who represent the strong interests were conspicuous buyers of the steel issues, and their example imparted confidence to the traders on the market's constructive side.

Steels Lead in Climb.

The sentiment that prevailed during the latter part of the session was a complete reversal of that which appeared at the opening and continued until the steel announcements were made. During the morning the steel stocks were under extreme pressure. Bethlehem Steel was the target for the bears and at one time was driven to 91¼ on heavy offerings. It closed at 95½, a gain of 2¾ points over the final price of Saturday.

United States Steel common, which sold as low as 109⅝ before Wall street received the news of the steel prices, rose to 112½, and closed at 112⅜, a net gain of two points. Lackawanna, Republic Iron and Steel, and other issues of this class made similar gains.

The buying of the copper shares in the last hour was equally confident and reflects the continued satisfaction of the trade with the prices for the metal fixed last week by the president.

Heavy Trading in Liberty Bonds.

The feature of the bond market yesterday was heavy trading in United States Liberty loan 3½ per cent bonds, which rose to 100.02, which equals the record price made last week. Buying came from the big capitalists, who are anxious to avoid the heavy supertax to which the forthcoming bond issue will be subject. It is generally believe that before this buying ceases the bonds will sell at a substantial premium.

MARKET COMMENT

OCTOBER is expected in some quarters in Wall street to be a bull month. Reference is made to features sustaining bullish activity, among them big crops, adjournment of congress, removal of price fixing uncertainties and taxation agitation, promotion of the Liberty loan, and placing of huge orders by the allies for war supplies.

One of the large manufacturers of men's shoes in Brockton, Mass., says of the shoe situation: "Practically the only factories that are extremely busy are those making government shoes. Domestic business is from 35 to 40 per cent smaller than normal. When war was declared by our country all retailers began to curtail buying. We feel, however, that things have now adjusted themselves and that with the volume of money being spent by the country today business will boom and there will be a good demand for shoes from all sections. This was the experience of England."

The copper market is declared to be in considerable suspense because in several essential respects the trade is not fully advised in regard to the price which the government has adopted. Leading producers have not yet received official notification of the agreement. Among present uncertainties are those relating to contracts for future delivery, importation of refined copper and exact application of the price of 23½ cents.

There appears to be a decided difference of opinion in the street as to motor stocks. Some observers hold there is nothing in them for a long time while others note a growing belief that motor liquidation is practically over and considering the basic points of the extensive foreign and business uses to which motor development is being put, the industry is expected to be placed on a solid foundation irrespective of the fluctuating pleasure car department.

Directors of the North Butte Mining company are scheduled to meet today for dividend action, but it is thought in view of strike conditions, a dividend declaration is rather doubtful.

ON THE BROAD STREET CURB

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Trading on the Broad street curb generally was quiet and fluctuations in the majority of issues were without special significance. Wright-Martin sold off slightly. Curtiss sold down from 42 to 40½, followed by a rally to 41. Bethlehem Steel preferred dropped to the new low record of 100⅝, with a rally at midday to 101½.

The independent oil stocks were firm, but without special change in prices.

There was activity in many of the mining stocks.

FIRST MORTGAGE 6% SERIAL GOLD BONDS of the Midland Counties Coal Co.

Chicago, Illinois

These bonds are dated May 15, 1917, and mature in annual series from June 1, 1918, to June 1, 1937. Denominations $500 and $1,000. First Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, Trustee.

This issue is secured by first mortgage on 310,000,000 tons of coal occupying 44,635 acres, mostly in Illinois, together with four operating mines and a fifth now under construction.

Total value of the security is $6,850,000, or nearly three times this bond issue.

A large part of this property, including the five operating mines, is leased to the Peabody Coal Company, which has a capital and surplus of over $4,000,000, and which agrees to pay as part rental an amount equal to the interest and sinking fund payments required by the mortgage securing these bonds.

The revenue derived by the lessee under long term contracts for the sale of approximately 2,000,000 tons of coal each year to the Commonwealth Edison Company and the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway will be sufficient to meet these rental obligations.

The entire capital stock of the Midland Counties Coal Company is owned by the Commonwealth Edison Company, of Chicago.

In amount of security, assured earnings and strength of ownership, these bonds occupy a particularly favorable position. The unsold portion of the issue is offered at par and accrued interest to net 6 per cent.

The New War Tax Will Affect YOU

DIRECTLY or indirectly every individual and corporation in the United States will be affected by the new War Revenue Bill which Congress is about to pass. Through the Income Tax, the Excess Profits Tax, the Stamp Taxes or some of the other provisions of the Law you will be asked to contribute your share toward the large sums necessary for carrying the war to a successful end.

Do you know how and to what extent you will be taxed? The far reaching provisions of this law should be fully understood by all individuals and corporations concerned. The entire War Revenue Bill including the Income Tax will be thoroughly analyzed and explained in our new ninety-six page book which is now in course of preparation and which will be available for free distribution soon after the bill becomes a law.

A copy of this booklet clearly interpreting the law will be supplied when off the press to those interested upon application for booklet C40.

Hog prices at Chicago yesterday started on an advance of 10@20c, selling highest in nearly two weeks and topping at $19.00. The market weakened before the finish and closed with part of the advance lost, but the bulk cleared at $18.10 to $19.00, showing big gains in the last week. Receipts were estimated at 18,000, and fell short of expectations.

Beef cattle trade was dull and weak. Receipts were estimated at 38,000, of which 12,000 were rangers. The total was the largest of any day in about six years. Best beeves were steady to 15c lower, topping at $17.85, while less desirable offerings suffered a loss of 25@40c. Native butcher stock and all range cattle sold 25@50c lower, while calves sold at a 50c decline.

Sheep held without change in price, but lambs were off 25@50c. Trade was dull and receipts of 24,000 head did not find a complete clearance. Range lambs topped at $18.15 and natives at $17.00. Native ewes sold at $11.00 for the best.

Real Estate Transfers

Real estate transfers filed for record yesterday totaled 83, of which 69 were in the city and 14 outside, including 5 under the Torrens system. Transfers were as follows:

Bloom	1	Cicero	4
Lake View	4	Proviso	2
Jefferson	10	Rogers Park	4
North town	1	Norwood Park	1
South town	2	Stickney	1
Hyde Park	8	Lyons	1

Calumet	4	Worth	1
West town	25

A loan involving the erection of a store, office and movie theater building to cost $120,000 on West Madison street, near Western avenue, and the sale of a high grade North State street residence figured in yesterday's real estate market news. The Madison street building will occupy the premises, 2408-18, 125x127 feet, south front, 75 feet west of Western avenue. It will be three stories high, and in addition to the theater, which will have a seating capacity of 1,280, there will be five stores on the ground floor with eight offices on the second floor and offices also on the third floor.

It will be erected by Theodore F. Brett, and in connection with its construction he has secured a bond issue loan of $115,00 eight years, at 6 per cent from Greenebaum Sons Bank and Trust company. The preliminary work of construction has begun. The theater part has been leased to Lubliner & Trinz for ten years from April 1, 1918, at an annual rental of $12,000.

North State Street Deal.

The North State street deal was the sale by Adele H. Whiting to Mrs. Grace Lake, wife of William H. Lake of the premises 1422, between Schiller street and Burton place. The lot is 28x135 feet, east front, and the house is an attractive stone front structure containing twelve rooms and four baths. The consideration is not disclosed, but the property is said to have been held at $30,000. Mrs. E. G. Tracy negotiated the sale and it is announced the Lakes will move into the house within a month.

Adolph Lindstrom has sold to John Stut the twelve apartment building at the northeast corner of Lawndale and Leland avenues, consideration withheld but said to have been about $45,000; also the vacant business property at the southeast corner of Seventy-first street and Paxton avenue, 100x125 feet, for a reported consideration of $25,000 clear. In this connection Mr. Stut conveyed to Mr. Lindstrom the 320 acre farm at Palatine, Ill., at a reported valuation of $60,000, subject to an incumbrance of $24,000. In addition to buildings, the farm is fully stocked. James A. Savage and George W. Walker represented all the parties to the transaction.

Landmark Changes Hands.

The old Forrestville building at the northwest corner of Cottage Grove avenue and Forty-fifth street, a building landmark for that vicinity, has been transferred by Pierre M. Combes to Frank M. McKay, a nominal consideration being given, subject to an incumbrance of $31,500. The lot fronts 97½ feet with a depth of 170 feet, and is improved with a four story building containing five stores on Cottage Grove and two on Forty-fifth street, while the upper floors contain about thirty apartments. A nominal consideration is given, but the property is thought to be valued at about $80,000.

The high grade six apartment building in Ellis avenue, 47 feet north of Forty-eighth street, lot 50x122 feet, east front, has been conveyed by Newton B. Lauren to Jacob Bermson, a nominal consideration being given subject to an incumbrance of $21,500.

Crawford Avenue Transaction.

Record has been made of the transfer by Albert Weisberg to James J. Quinn of the property in Crawford avenue, 48 feet north of Addison street, lot 75x125 feet, west front, with store and flat improvements, and other property, consideration nominal, subject to an incumbrance of $16,700.

Record was made of the transfer by the Hanna Color Manufacturing company to George S. and Lizzie L. Mepham of St. Louis, Mo., of the property at the southeast corner of Hawthorne avenue and Weed street, 155x154 feet, a nominal consideration being given.

Borrows $98,850.

John H. Moon, trustee, has given trust deeds to the Peoples Trust and Savings bank to secure five loans aggregating $98,850, payable on demand with interest at 6 per cent on properties belonging to the Sinclair Refining company in various parts of the city, the largest being for $41,000 on the property at the northeast corner of South Park avenue and Thirty-fifth street.

William S. Herrick is trustee in a loan of $85,000, seven years, at 6 per cent, to James M. Arnold on the Carolyn apartments at the southeast corner of Menard avenue and South boulevard.

An error was made in the statement in THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE that Charles H. Kusel had leased to Henry M. Lubliner and Joseph Trinz the theater part of the building at 1548-56 North Clark street. It should have been Devon avenue. H. L. Gumbiner owns the Clark street property.

Canada Copper.

E. H. S., Ellendale, Minn.—The Canada Copper corporation is issuing $2,500,000 of first mortgage bonds to raise money for building a mill. The bonds are convertible into stock at $3 a share. The company produced 5,196,239 pounds of copper last year, with a little silver and gold. No dividends have been paid and probably none earned. In the present market these bonds would naturally sell below par on their investment merits alone. As the stock is selling close to the conversion price it gives an extra speculative value to the bonds.

Steamotor Truck.

E. F. F.—The Steamotor Truck company has been incorporated in Delaware with an authorized capital of $2,500,000 preferred stock and 75,000 shares of common. It proposes to manufacture trucks which will be driven by the Doble steam motor, recently patented. Great claims are made for this motor, but, of course, stocks based upon it are almost purely speculative until it has proved its earning power. This company has reputable backing.

Brief Answers.

A. C.—The Parker Rustproof company has issued $1,225,200 of common stock and $265,200 preferred. It has plants at Detroit and Cleveland, and it has installed its process on a royalty basis in a number of factories throughout the United States. Its balance sheet of Dec. 31 last shows the common stock nearly all water. No dividends had been reported.

L. W. K.—The New Amsterdam Casualty company has been in business eighteen years, and has $1,000,000 of capital paid in, and on Dec. 31 last had $342,713 surplus. It began paying dividends in 1908. Last year 12 per cent was paid.

F. T. L.—The Missouri Pacific railway was reorganized only a few months ago and has not yet had time to show what it can do. Thus far it has earned the 5 per cent dividend on the new $76,751,635 of preferred stock rather more than twice, but it is unsafe to base conclusions on the earnings of two or three months.

E. G.—The National Carbon company is supposed to have passed under the control of Union Carbide recently. Until a complete official statement is issued the position of its stock cannot be known clearly.

RAILROAD EARNINGS

GROSS earnings of American railroads making weekly reports to Dun's Review continue to compare favorably with this period in all previous years, the total of all roads reporting for the first week in September amounting to $9,630,981, an increase of 11.1 per cent, as compared with the same week of last year.

Almost every road of any importance shows more or less improvement, though the gains continue more pronounced on the leading systems in the south, especially the Chesapeake and Ohio, Southern, and Louisville and Nashville.

The following tables give the gross earnings of all United States railroads reporting for the first week in September and the gain as compared with the earnings of the same railroads for the same week a year ago; also for the roads that reported for the same week in the two preceeding months together with the percentages of gain over last year:
